Explains How To Keep Flock Laying In Winter Months
Must Have Good Chickens And Take the Proper Care of Them

Porter Bryan, Madison County poultryman, says it's not hard to keep chickens laying regularly through the cold weather months.

It's mainly a matter of getting a flock of good birds and taking proper care of them, he told George Miller, Madison County agent of the State College extension service.

Bryan has a flock of 47 White Leghorn pullets which have been laying an average of three eggs per hen every four days this winter.

During the month of December, the daily flock average was 36 eggs, and one day he got 43 eggs from the 47 hens, he told Miller.

Last winter he remodeled his poultry house according to plans furnished by the extension service. The house provides for adequate ventilation, yet protects the birds from cold and drafts. It is comparatively easy to keep sanitary.

He keeps broken oyster shells before the hens at all times, and on fair days he turns them out to pick up grit and find green feed. Every morning and evening he puts a fresh supply of lukewarm water in the drinking fountains.

In addition to the mash and grain feed, he gives the birds sour milk every day, and keeps the water fountain and feed-hoppers scrupulously clean.

As a check to show him exactly what his birds are doing, and how much he is making off the flock, he keeps a record on all expenditures and cash receipts.

What Bryan has done, any poultryman can do by raising only high quality birds and taking good care of them, Miller stated.

A FEBRUARY SALAD
This fruit salad is very attractive and good. It fits in perfectly with the February party-color scheme.

Blend two packages of cream cheese with 1-2 mild flavored salad dressing. Add 1-4 cup nut meats, 1 cup drained canned red cherries, 1-2 cup chunk pineapple, and 1-2 cup chopped celery. Soften 1 1-2 tablespoons gelatin in 1-4 cup cold water, dissolve over hot water, cool and add to mixture. Fold in 1-cup heavy cream, whipped. Add a dash of salt if desired. Chill in heart or other shaped individual molds. Unmold. Garnish with little lettuce cups of mayonnaise and red cherries.

A delightful accompaniment for the above salad would be a rolled deviled ham sandwich made of whole wheat bread to represent a log. This, of course, is for a Washington's birthday occasion.

Sliced whole wheat bread thin and lay between two damp cloths. Mash ham with enough dressing to spread easily. Spread one slice at a time and roll up tightly. Fasten with toothpick, if necessary. Chill before serving. A small hatchet cut from red, white, or blue cardboard may be inserted in log just before serving.

FOR SALE: STATIONARY GASOLINE engine, pulleys, shafting, drill press, joiner, forge and other machine and blacksmith shop equipment. Will sell either in bulk or by the piece and at a cheap price. Harry Jones, Williamston, N. C. 12-41

"You earn your wages"

THAT handy servant, the telephone, is a go-getter. He chases after groceries, runs to the drugstore, carries messages here, there and everywhere, and only asks a few cents a day as his wages.

It does not matter who you want or why, whether it be day or night, storm or sunshine. Lift the receiver to order a loaf of bread—casually call a friend for a brief chat—or speed a frantic summons to the doctor, it is all in the day's work to the telephone.

If you are trying to get along without a telephone in your home, it will pay you to investigate the small cost, and the different types, of telephone service.

You will then very likely agree with most folks, who believe it costs more to try to do without telephone service than it does to have it.

For information, just ask any of your friends with the telephone company, or call at the telephone Business Office.
