Ten Are Fined In Recorder's Court

JAMESVILLE

The senior class of Jamesville high school will sponsor a Hallowe'en-Tacky party on Friday, October 29, at eight o'clock. The party will be held in the building recently vacated by the A.B.C. store.

Everyone is invited to attend. Children up to thirteen years will be admitted at four o'clock, and all others at eight. Several games and contests have been planned, and dancing will be enjoyed during the latter part of the evening.

Those attending are requested to dress in a tacky costume and mask themselves. Help to make this a real party by joining the ghosts and the spirits at the old A.B.C. stand at 8 o'clock, Friday, October 29.

A small admission fee will be charged.

Surry Farmer Order 10,000 Black Locust Seedlings

In Surry County to date, orders for more than 10,000 black locust seedlings have been made by cooperating farmers.

Seventh Grade: Polly Bailey, Durward Johnson, John Mobley, Jr., Fred Power, Leggette Roebuck, Jr., Clayton Wynne, Mattie Ayers, Frances-Rae Crawford, Ethel Mae Gurganus, Majorie Kight, Marie Moore, Addie Lee Taylor, and Lou Allie Taylor.

Extend Filing Time For Sales Receipts

An extension of time has been granted farmers for filing cotton sale receipts to qualify for government price adjustment payments, E. Y. Floyd, of State College, announced this week.

Sale receipts on cotton from the 1937 crop sold on or before October 15 may be filed with the county agent any time up to October 30.

Receipts for cotton sold after October 15 must be filed within 15 days of the date of sale.

This one month extension of time will enable growers who were not able to file their receipts within the time limit previously set to get their receipts on file as one of the qualifications for payment, Floyd pointed out.

The sale receipts must be filed in the order that the sales were made.

The price adjustment payment plan provides for payments on cotton grown in 1937 and sold before July 1, 1938, up to 65 per cent of a grower's 1937 base production, provided that the grower complies with the 1938 agricultural conservation program.

The payment per pound on each bale will be the amount by which the average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton on the ten spot markets falls short of 12 cents a pound on the date the grower sells that bale. The payment, however, cannot exceed three cents a pound.

Disulphid Protects Stored Grain, Peas

Carbon disulphid treatment will protect stored grain and peas from the heavy losses caused every year by insects, according to J. O. Rowell, extension entomologist at State College.

In treating small amounts of seed, he said, a water-tight barrel may be used. Pour the carbon disulphid directly on the seed, then tie two thicknesses of heavy wrapping paper over the top and leave for two days.

Then examine the seed. If any insects are found, repeat the treatment with a stronger dose. The barrels should be kept covered after the treatment or insects will re-infest the grain or peas.

Ordinarily half a cupful of carbon disulphid is about right for a barrel of seed, but for heavy infestations a full cup should be applied.

The temperature should be above 75 degrees Fahrenheit for the best results.

Carbon disulphid will not injure the seed for planting, feed, or food. When ready for use, spread the seed out in the air and the gas will disappear quickly.

If bins can be made fairly air-tight, seed can be treated in storage by using 20 pounds of carbon disulphid for each 1,000 cubic feet of space. Pour on the disulphid and cover the seed with sacks to hold the gas in.

If the bin can be made especially tight, less disulphid will be needed. Carbon tetrachloride is non-inflammable and may be used instead, but twice as much is needed to give good insect control.

Carbon disulphid is highly inflammable—keep lights or fires away, Rowell warned.

OAK CITY

School is back normal after several pupils being absent on account of picking cotton and digging peanuts. More interest is being shown in library work since the library room has been set up.

Principal H. M. Ainsley attended the District Principals' meeting at the University of North Carolina Saturday and was guest of the University Athletic Association at the Carolina-Tulane home-coming game.

The Favorite Players is giving a three act comedy Friday night in school auditorium, proceeds will be used for the library.

Coach Chandler is getting his team ready for scheduled games of basketball to begin soon. Any nearby school will please get in touch with Mr. Chandler.

The hot lunch is still going good. The school is serving about 60 pupils daily and 25 of this number are free.

The tenth grade is sponsoring a Hallowe'en Carnival in connection with the play Friday night, proceeds going toward the Junior-Senior banquet.

The eleventh grade is beginning to select their class play which is to be given sometime before the Xmas holidays.

The seniors are expecting their class rings at any time.

Second Month Checks Ready For 100 Teachers

One hundred checks are being prepared for distribution among the 100 white school teachers in this county tomorrow when the second month of the term ends. The checks total near $11,000.

Mason-Dixon Line Located By Pilots

Often discussed as an imaginary line, but actually surveyed by two Englishmen, the Mason-Dixon line has been located from the air by pilots flying between Chicago and Washington, D. C.

W. H. Proctor, veteran American Airlines pilot, said recently he first noticed the line about a year ago as he flew near Cumberland, Md. Subsequent investigation disclosed its identity. It appears, Proctor said, as a miniature highway, cutting through the heavily wooded land.

Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, two British surveyors, cut a narrow path through the wooded wilderness between the colonies of Maryland and Pennsylvania in 1767 while surveying the boundaries of the two territories, establishing the line which later acquired fame as the division of the free and slave states in Civil war days.

FARM LIFE

The new officers of the P. T. A. for the 1937-38 term are Mrs. G. C. Griffin, president; Mrs. Eason Lilley, vice president; Mrs. Noah Peel, secretary-treasurer.

The organization held its second meeting of the year, October 15th. There were 72 present and all indications are that the future meetings will be well attended and a good piece of work will be accomplished.

The school sponsored two programs last week. One was a womanless wedding and the other a minstrel. The funds raised will be used to buy library books and athletic equipment. The two programs netted $109.

A first aid room has been furnished for the purpose of taking care of those students who get sick or hurt while at school.

The Honor roll follows:

First Grade: Daisy Griffin and Ervin Franklin Lilley.

Second Grade: Rachel Gurkin and Mary Ala Lilley.

Third Grade: Mary Dean Hardison and Willie Lilley.

Fourth Grade: A. T. Whitley, Margaret Manning, and Mary Louise Gurkin.

Sixth Grade: Hazel Hardison and Josephine Hardison.

Seventh Grade: Della Lee Lilley and Martha Atha Roberson.

Eighth Grade: Lola Smithwick and Vera Pearl Williams.

Ninth Grade: Ida Mae Corey.

Tenth Grade: Evan Griffin, Betty Louise Lilley and Vera Maude Lilley.

Eleventh Grade: Sarah Getsinger and Ruby Griffin.

Professional Beggars Routed By Local Police

The professional beggar, many of them hobbling along on single legs and others with their limbs twisted and bodies bent, were routed this week from Williamston streets by the police.

Finding here a liberal people, the beggars decided to celebrate. Visits were made and made rapidly by the cripples to the liquor store. Squatting most anywhere here and there, the old boys, hardened by the weather, knocks and disappointments in life, would tackle a pint of liquor as a lion tackles a piece of raw meat.

Picked helpless from the streets, three of the beggars were jailed overnight. Mayor J. L. Hassell faced a real problem when they were carried before him for trial. His only weapon was in the form of an order directing the beggars to move out of town and not return. Two went out on buses at once, two or three others turning from the begging of money to begging rides.

Jack Williams, W. L. Manning, Edgar Ayers, L. J. Peel were found not guilty.

John Thomas James, a 23rd defendant in the roundup of alleged liquor law violators by the three private detectives, failed to report for trial, and his arrest was ordered by the court.

In suspending the road sentences, Judge Peel warned the defendants against law violations at any time within the next two years.

Court was adjourned shortly before six o'clock and the defendants rushed to pay their fines and costs to Court Clerk L. B. Wynne.
