

Carolina-Fordham Hold State Sports Spotlight

Both Teams Entering Contest Undefeated

"Seven Blocks of Granite" Rated Strongest Line to Appear in Section

Chapel Hill, Oct. 29.—Fordham's celebrated Rams and North Carolina's vastly improved Tar Heels, both undefeated and high in team rankings in their respective sectors of the country, will clash here Saturday afternoon in one of the nation's leading intersectional tests. The game is regarded as the Tar Heels' hardest battle to date.

Fordham is one of four major undefeated teams in the East. The others are Pittsburgh, Yale and Dartmouth. Likewise, North Carolina stands unbeaten alongside Duke, Vanderbilt and Alabama in the Old South.

The list of unbeaten teams over the country has been rapidly diminishing each week. Saturday's game will strike off additional ones. Besides Fordham-Carolina, other unbeaten teams to play against each other are Yale-Dartmouth at New Haven, Holy Cross-Temple at Worcester, Detroit-Villanova at Detroit.

James H. Crowley, All-American halfback and one of Notre Dame's famed 1924 Horsemen, is head coach of the Fordham team. Ever since Crowley went to Fordham in 1933, the Maroon has ranked with the East's elite. Particularly in 1935, 1936 and at the present time, Fordham has rated jointly with Pittsburgh as the classiest teams of the Eastern crop. The Rams and Panthers played to a scoreless tie in 1935 and 1936 and two weeks ago they fought to their third scoreless deadlock.

Two of Coach Crowley's backfield mates at Notre Dame are in the coaching business now. Harry Stuhldreher is at Wisconsin and Elmer Layden at Notre Dame.

Duke and North Carolina have finished one-two in the Southern Conference standings for the past two seasons. The Blue Devils and Tar Heels, V. M. I.'s Cadets and Clemson's Tigers are setting the pace in the Conference again this season.

Saturday's intersectional contest brings together two of the leading teams on the Atlantic Seaboard. Fordham rates decidedly stronger on defense. On offense they seem to stack up pretty well on par with the famed "Seven Blocks of Granite."

The Rams have shown more power on pass offense and defense than the Tar Heels. Fordham has completed 20 of 48 passes for a total gain of 33 yards as compared to the Tar Heels' 17 of 40 for 189 yards. On defense their opponents have been successful in only 14 of 48 aerials for 173 yards, while Tar Heel opposition has made good 31 of 85 passes for 321 yards.

North Carolina will enter the game with a slight edge in their running offense. Statistics based on five games give the Tar Heels 1165 yards via the ground as compared to 964 for the Rams. Fordham, however, has played only four games this season.

Fred Mastrolia and Joe Schwerdt, two members of N. C. State's squad hail from Boston, and Coach Newton may decide to start these boys Saturday when the Pack plays Boston College.

MAKE CHANGE

College Station, Raleigh, Oct. 29.—J. L. Von Glahn, business manager of athletics at State College, has announced that the State-Citadel game November 6 would be played in the afternoon.

The game was originally scheduled for Saturday night, but athletic officials of the two schools feared that a night game in November would be too cold. The starting time has been set for 2:20 and the game—a Southern Conference feature on that day—will be run off in State's beautiful Riddick Stadium. Citadel has never before appeared on State's schedule and the Charleston eleven will come here this fall with one of the best teams in the Conference.

Blue Devils To Meet

Durham, Oct. 29.—Duke's touring Blue Devils take their last trip this week-end for the season when they meet the Washington and Lee Generals in Richmond.

The Blue Devils will go against the General defending the title they have won for the past two years and with a record of not having lost to a conference foe since 1934.

This week's game ends the present series between the Generals and the Blue Devils whose teams meet in all branches of sports. The two teams first met in football in 1927, Washington and Lee winning 12-7. They played a three-game series in 1930-31-32, Duke winning by 14-0, 5-0, and 13-0 respectively. The present series at Richmond was started in 1935, Duke winning that season by 26-0 and last year by 51-0.

Williamston High Battles Beaufort This Afternoon

Green Wave Will Attempt to Keep Home Slate Unblemished

The Green Wave has been hard at work in preparation for today's tilt when Beaufort High comes up from the sea-coast to do battle on the local gridiron. As usual, Williamston will present a patched-up lineup. Joe Hardison, fullback, and Carlyle Hall, guard, will not be available for service in the Beaufort game because of injuries received in the contest with Elizabeth City. Hardison suffered an arm injury while Hall is out with a "charlie horse." Their loss will be felt greatly, for no reports concerning Beaufort's strength have yet reached here. "Tootsie" Roberson, brother of George Roberson of football fame in years past, is expected to step into Hardison's post. Pete Egan, the handy man of the Williamston line, will fill the guard position. At the start of the season Egan was stationed at his regular post at center. When Manning was shifted to the backfield to fill a gap caused by injury, Coach Edwards converted his center to a tackle, and now Egan is proving himself even more valuable by taking over the guard duties.

Ned Cunningham will break into the line-up again after having been out of action due to a chin injury. Incidentally, Ray Goodman, who occupies the left-end slot, did a nice bit of pass snagging in last week's game. He missed only once out of four times.

Williamston will be out for a win Friday, and also to protect their record for home games. To date, the Wave has not been scored on while playing on their lot. In two appearances they have registered shut-out victories over Windsor and Scotland Neck, 19 to 0 and 7-0, respectively.

Cowpasture Dukes Add Two Victories

The Weavers' Cowpasture Dukes annexed two straight gridiron victories in recent days when the Mercer-Getsinger Carolina Reds went down in defeat by a score of 15 to 12 in each contest.

With the win and loss columns showing a tie at three-all, the Dukes on their home grounds turned back the Reds last Saturday. On the Wier lot, just off Simmons Avenue, the Reds again tasted defeat last Tuesday afternoon.

The line-ups: Dukes: Bennie, Julian and Frankie Weaver, Joe Dixon, Geo. Cunningham, Garland Hardison, S. C. Griffin, the second, Milton Howard and Jesse Ray. The Duke were short of two men, but one or two out of the lineup made little difference. In the lineup for the Reds were, Billie Mercer, Conrad Getsinger, Onley Cowen, Bob Coltrain, Claude Plyler, Bert Parker, J. A. Leggett, Jr., J. B. Taylor, Jr., J. D. Woolard, Jr., Jim Critcher and Richard Margolis.

WOLFPACK WILL BATTLE STRONG BOSTON COLLEGE

Peggy Martin, Katherine Haislip, College Station, Raleigh, Oct. 29.—The State College Wolfpack will hold a practice in Boston this afternoon preparatory to their contest Saturday afternoon with Boston College.

State met Boston last fall in Boston and was defeated, 7-3, and the Beantown club is again favored to score another victory over the Wolfpack.

RAMBLING WITH THE RAMBLER

ALL ROADS LEAD TO CHAPEL HILL!!!

Is everybody set for the big game at Chapel Hill tomorrow afternoon? According to reports, should Carolina skin through the Rams, no sports writer is going to be able to keep them out of the list of the ten leading teams in this nation. Although the Rambler has a hunch that the Tar Heels will take the Rams, he advises everybody to leave their hats at home and bring their "cough syrup" instead.

KEEPING UP THE GOOD WORK—WE HOPE

After batting over 300 last week-end, the Rambler is going to be hard to slow up, even with all the undefeated teams playing among themselves and what not. Although Carolina should win from Fordham and Duke should wallop Washington and Lee, we had to stop backing the Big Five at this point. Duke will have the easiest day of any team in the country against the Generals in Richmond, scoring as many points as Coach Wade deems necessary. State goes to Boston to meet the strong Boston College eleven. The Boston team is rated just a mite too

"SEA-TINY". LIVE MERMAID WITH MARINE EXHIBIT

HIPPODROME WILL BE IN WILLIAMSTON

Of all the countless curiosities that have ever been presented from time to time, there has been absolutely nothing to equal "Sea-Tiny," pictured above, from an anatomical or physical peculiarities standpoint. "Sea-Tiny," said to be nature's strangest living enigma, in that she closely resembled the fabled "mermaids" of the ancient mariners, may well be the answer to that old question, "Do mermaids really exist?" "Sea-Tiny" is one of the featured attractions with the Mammoth Marine Hippodrome that will exhibit in Williamston, one day only, Friday, November 12. The exhibit, on especially constructed railroad car will be placed on a siding near the A. C. L. Railroad Station and will remain in Williamston for one day only. The car will be open to the public from 2 p. m. until 10 p. m.

An opportunity to see one of the greatest educational exhibits of all time will be given the people of this vicinity on Friday, November 12th when the Mammoth Marine Hippodrome arrives in Williamston for a one day engagement. One of the features of the exhibit is a huge Sea Monster weighing 68-tons and is over 55 feet long. In a perfect state of preservation, and just as it appeared when encountered off the coast of San Clemente several months ago. In addition to the sea monster the exhibit will include over 40 other specimens of marine life, such as the Octopus, pilot fish, man eating sharks, sword fish, and a modern type of harpoon gun used in the capture of whales.
