RELEASES

Worrying over the difficult assignment, Manager Paul O'Malley had not definitely made up his mind at noon today just what players he would release to bring the local baseball club roster count down to fifteen in accordance with the league by-laws. The curtailed roster must be in the hands of the league foficials by midnight tonight.

The manager is, rumors have it, planning to release Dubisz, catcher, suspend Odinetz, first baseman, and effect a deal for Kowal, left fielder. O'Malley plans to hold to his present pitching staff, depend upon Larry Wade for the relief catching role, and effect no changes in the infield and outfield lineups.
