

Schedule Of Union Services Ends Here

Rev. E. F. Moseley, rector of St. Mary's Church, Kinston, preached in the Church of the Advent here last Sunday evening when the schedule of union services was brought to a successful close. The former local minister, returning to his former parish to climax the union religious schedule, was heard by a large congregation.

Taking his subject from the tenth chapter of the Gospel, according to St. Luke, the minister offered much to provoke reverent thought. His brief discourse was based on the story of the Good Samaritan but he stressed the course followed by man in "excusing himself" from moral and spiritual obligations. The young lawyer in the story admitted that the Good Samaritan did right when he rendered aid to the victim of robbers, but he tried to excuse himself of his obligation when he asked the Master, "Who is my neighbor?"

"There are those today who refuse to donate to foreign missions, and excuse themselves by saying that 'charity should begin at home.' Well, charity should begin at home, but those who say that do so to excuse themselves." Mr. Moseley pointed out.

cleaner and healthier town, to aid in the enforcement of city, county and state public health laws, when necessary to protect public health.

The directors of the campaign submit the following suggestions as a means of meeting the above mentioned objectives:

Keep all garbage in a covered fly-tight container; punch holes in the bottom of empty cans so that they will not hold water; this will inhibit the breeding of mosquitoes on your premises; cut down weeds and tall grass around your home; take pride in the beauty of your surroundings by sweeping your sidewalks and removing trash and scattered rubbish regularly around your home; protect the health of your family by practicing all fly and roach control measures in your home; help the fire department by eliminating all fire hazards such as paper, trash, old rags, etc.; do everything possible to stop the breeding of rats around your home. They are dangerous and costly parasites and have started many epidemics and fires; promote all efforts made to improve the cleanliness of your city and the safeguarding of public health.

Business Barometers Continue To Climb

Industrial and business barometers like the temperature, continue to climb, but from now on the increases over 1938 will not look as handsome as they did in the first half. This is because the last six months of 1938 saw a marked improvement in the business picture. Estimates made by the experts for the remainder of 1939, however, still make encouraging reading; consumption of rayon this year will break the 1936 record high; new all-time high for electric power production may be reached this month, although the year's peak point is generally reached in December; building activity should run at least 15 per cent ahead of the last five months of 1938.

Messrs. Hardison, Barnhill Buying Fall Merchandise

Messrs. G. W. Hardison and Garland Barnhill are in New York this week buying fall merchandise for the firms of G. W. Hardison, at Harrison Bros. store, and Barnhill Bros.

The two men stated that they would have complete stocks in every department by the latter part of this week, with particular attention centered on early fall and winter clothing.

A campaign has been started among Polk County farmers, in which they will be asked to plant five pounds of crimson clover on their pastures this fall.

backwards on the roof when Wallace let go the rope.

Suddenly made rich, the boys went swimming and then took in the picture show. Later they decided to re-enter the telegraph office, steal the remainder of the money and take a trip. Their second visit was not fruitful as Wallace was unable to open the safe a second time, but their failure did not cause the boys to abandon the proposed trip.

Dressed in overalls, the boys started moving south. Upon reaching Wilmington, they established residence in one of the best hotels. "We ate hot dogs on the outside, but room rent was so high that our money started giving out after three days in the place," the boys said. Their money running short, the boys renewed their crime activities. "We would go to a home early at night and knock on the door, and if no one answered, we would break in," one of the boys said. If they got a reply, they would ask if Mr. John Smith lived on that street.

The boys are said to have robbed three or four homes there and set one of them on fire apparently by discarding burning matches. Their activities upset the police force of the city, and at one time around thirty little colored boys were being held and questioned in connection with the robberies. A grown man was arrested and questioned in connection with the fire.

During the meantime, the two boys who lived near the Williamston fair grounds, had moved on to one of the beaches near Wilmington and were arrested there.

Edmondson is said to have started to fight the arresting officer but was quickly subdued. They were thrown into the juvenile court, but the cases against them were postponed when it was learned that the boys were wanted in this county, reports stating that the Wilmington police were anxious to get them out of their territory.

Recognizing the seriousness of the charges against the youths, officers are not certain that they will be allowed bond until the courts can hear their cases.

Series Of Accidents Reported In County During the Weekend

was meeting a car, that if there was a light on the horse-drawn vehicle he did not see it. Young Cooke, riding in the back seat, was thrown to the foot, and recovered from the shock only after he was assured that he had not been hurt. Damage to the car will approximate $100. The cart loss was about complete, reports stating that only the axle and a few spokes were found.

Mrs. Pearson and her daughter, of Kinston, were slightly bruised when their car, a new Oldsmobile, turned over near the fair grounds last Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Running into a low place in the highway, the car splattered water all over the windshield and blinded Miss Pearson who was driving the car. The machine swerved off the highway and when the bumper hit a small embankment, the car turned over on its top and continued over again, coming to a stop with all four wheels in the air. Miss Pearson's shoes were torn from her feet and Mrs. Pearson's dress was partly torn from her, but after the fenders were straightened out, the travelers were able to continue home. Damage to the car was estimated at $75.

SEE WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT CHERRY'S REMEDY

I want every pella-gra sufferer to read this. I have been suffering for quite a while with a bad case of pellagra. The doctors told me to go on a diet and they could give me medicine that would help me, but they could not cure me. I was advised by my friends to try Cherry's Remedy. I did so for thirty days. I am proud to tell the world that I am well, feel better than I have for years. I have gained twenty pounds in weight in about thirty days. Words cannot express my feeling toward this medicine.

Respectfully,
Mrs. W. T. BLAND,
Route 3, Williamston, N. C.

Before Cherry's Remedy was recommended to me, I suffered greatly with high blood pressure and rheumatism. I bought a box and started taking it. I found it helped me a lot. Today I feel like a new person.
