

Moves Business To Harrison Building

Operating a department store in the building next to the Branch Banking and Trust Company Building for a number of years, Merchant Dred E. Darden is moving his business to larger quarters in the Harrison Brothers and Company building directly across the street. All day yesterday, employees and assistants worked steadily moving the stock to the new location. Mr. Darden explaining that large shipments of additional goods were being uncrated and placed in stock at his new location.

The large store of Harrison Brothers and Company has been made in two, the Darden business occupying one side, and the G. W. Harrison firm occupying the other.

The Darden store has been modernized in its entirety, and new fix-

Charged With An Affray, Defendants Are Fined $5

Charged with an affray down in Jamesville a few nights ago, Jack Neal, Andrew and James Marriner, Jess Adkins and I. T. Moore, all colored, were fined $5 each and taxed with the costs by Justice J. L. Hassell here this morning. A thirty-day jail sentence was suspended upon payment of the costs as to Amos Latham and Susanne Quarles, defendants in the same case.

Tenures have been installed. An unusually large stock of shoes is being placed, and modern racks were arranged for men's, women's and children's wearing apparel.

Just as soon as certain alterations can be effected, the Western Auto Supply firm will occupy the building vacated by Darden's.

Patients Getting Along Well In Local Hospital

The seven patients in the Brown Community hospital here are getting along all right, reports from the recently-opened institution said today.

Little Miss Dorothy Jean Robertson returned to her home in Jamesville yesterday after having her tonsils out the day before.

Mrs. Redden Tyre returned to her home yesterday in Farm Life after a few days' stay in the hospital.

The seven remaining patients are improving rapidly, reports stating that Mr. Knepper Harrison and Mrs. Sidney Beacham, who were injured in an automobile accident at Bear Grass Tuesday evening, are much improved and that they will be able to return to their homes much sooner than was first expected.

Funeral For Jamesville Resident Held Tuesday

Funeral services were held at the late home Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for Mrs. Alice V. Stallings who died near Jamesville last Monday morning at 8 o'clock. The last rites were attended by a large crowd that was anxious to pay a last tribute to the memory of one whose friendship had been enjoyed during a long and useful life.

Pallbearers were Messrs. U. D. Stallings, F. R. Simpson, Jr., B. D. Simpson, of Norfolk; Oscar Simpsin and Abner Simpsin, of Robersonville; F. C. Stallings, Jr., Carlyle Stallings, R. L. Stallings, Jr., and Ray Stallings, of Jamesville. A quartet, composed of Misses Hilda and Ruth Modlin and Messrs. Paul Holliday and Dorsey Evans, of Richmond, accompanied by Mrs. Effie Holliday sang, "The Old Rugged Cross," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

Mrs. Stallings was the daughter of the late David and Susan Armstrong Parker, and was born in this county on December 15, 1862. Interment was in the family plot on the home farm, near Jamesville.

Labor Day Will Not Be Observed Here Monday

Labor Day, a big holiday in the large industrial centers, will be just another day for honest toil in this community. Pete Fowden and his workers are taking a last general holiday in the old postoffice building. The liquor store will dry up the situation for a day, and there'll be no session of the county court. One or two offices, linked in with those in the larger towns, will suspend business for the day. Included in this list are the offices of the Virginia Electric and Power Company. Virtually all other lines of business endeavor, including the tobacco market, banks and stores will be wide open and running in full blast.

Nineteen Cases Called In Recorder's Court Monday

Best was found not guilty. Prayer for judgment was continued until September 11 in the case charging Andrew Andrews with drunken driving. Andrews pleaded guilty.

Charged with violating the liquor laws, H. D. Andrews was sentenced to the roads for seventy-five days. John D. Swinson, charged with non-support, was directed to pay $5 each month for a year to Flossie Lanier Swinson and his child and reappear at the end of twelve months for further judgment. Bond for the faithful performance of his directed duty was required in the sum of $100 by the court.

N. S. Nichols drew a sixty-day sentence on the roads in the case charging him with larceny and receiving.

In the case charging Bill Winbush with an assault on a female, he was adjudged guilty of simple assault and directed to pay costs imposed in the J. P. court and none in the county court.

Charged with assaulting another person with a deadly weapon, Raleigh Jones entered a plea of not guilty. The court differed with his plea after hearing the evidence, but suspended judgment upon payment of the cost of the case as taxed in actions charging simple assault.

The case charging Sellie Smith with violating the liquor law was continued until September 11.

Lucey-Mae Dickens, arrested and tried in the court as an habitual thief several times before, was sentenced to jail on a similar charge last Monday for a term of six months.

Buck Rogers was sentenced to the roads for three months in the case charging him with drunken driving. The case charging William Long with careless and reckless driving was not pressed.

Charged with an assault on a female, Joe Lee Williams entered a plea of guilty, the court suspending judgment upon payment of the case costs and $5 to Dr. E. M. Long for medical services.
