SCOUTS MEET The Everetts Scouts got the Robersonville Scouts to come together and make one troop. The troop number is 72. Some of the Scouts went to Grifton with our scoutmaster, Mr. Patrick.

Last night we had another meeting. The first thing was a game or two. The games were basketball and spud. Then we studied first aid. We received our tenderfoot badges and our neckerchiefs. Mr. Patrick and Mr. Rochester took part in the meeting.

The last meeting was held on Wednesday, October 9, 1939, at the Everetts school building.

CLUB BANQUET

Members of the Woman's club entertained their husbands at a lovely banquet at the club Tuesday evening, with members of the Junior Woman's club serving.

The U-shaped tables were centered with low bowls of yellow chrysanthemums with yellow candles in crystal holders shedding a soft light on the attractive setting. Dainty napkins carried out the Fall motif.

A three-course turkey dinner with hot rolls and coffee was served to sixty members and guests, who enjoyed a varied entertainment program consisting of three songs by Gordon Bennett, accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Manning, Jr., at the piano, a dialogue in Irish dialect by Barbara Margolis and Sylvia Green, the two giving a tap dance later in the program; a humorous reading by Mrs. T. C. Lassiter, of Windsor; an intricate tap number by Misses Ann Gillam and Myrtle Tadlock, of Windsor, accompanied by Mrs. Lassiter and piano selections by Miss Catherine Hardison and Miss Cathryn Mewborn.

Juniors To Present Play

Members of the Junior class of the Williamston High School are busy with rehearsals for their fall play, "Hobgoblin House," which will be presented in the high school auditorium early next month. The play is a three-act mystery involving a cast of twelve and is under the direction of Nancy Glover and J. R. Barrett.

Junior plays have become an annual feature of the school year and this year's production promises to exceed all others in both interest and suspense.
