

Will To Rise Again Continues To Live In Hearts of Poles

Exiles Are Planning Rebirth Of Their Nations After Current War

Washington — "Poland will live again!"

Inspired by that stirring phrase from their national anthem, Poles who escaped the German-Russian invasion of their homeland are planning the rebirth of the Polish Republic—after the war—from their exile capital, Angers, France.

That same phrase, says Count Jerzy Potocki, the Polish Ambassador here, is singing in the hearts of 35,000,000 Poles living under their conqueror's rule in their homeland.

The Allies plan to reconstitute Poland as a nation if they win, but have made no announcement as to the geographical boundaries or composition of the country.

The Germans have annexed about one-fourth of Poland to the Reich and indicate that, if they win, the Poland of the future will be a "puppet" state composed roughly of one-fourth of its former area and a population of 12,000,000. Russia has seized slightly more than one-half and is incorporating it into the Soviet Union.

The proposed "puppet state," now called the "General Government" is ruled by Dr. Hans Frank as governor-general.

Establishment of public order in the German-occupied areas provided a bloody chapter in Poland's history. Polish sources claim that 18,000 Poles were executed.

The "Sicherheitspolizei," uniformed police drawn from the Gestapo (German secret police) who were assigned to "mop up" in the wake of the German army, admit executions—without specifying the number—on charges of Polish sniping and the murder of 5,000 German residents of the areas before the German army marched in.

Large scale transport of Poles and Jews from the areas annexed by Germany into the "General Government" area still is in progress.

German reports are that approximately 1,000,000 Poles and 500,000 Jews are to be transported to "their birthplaces" in areas outside the German Reich.

Polish sources contend that more than 4,000,000 are to be deported from their homes and huddled into the "Polish area."

Contrary to usual German practice, the administration of the new area was hurried and not well organized and neutral reports assert there has been considerable friction between the army, police and civil-

Two years later he joined the old Colgate company as a soap salesman.

In 1906, when just 21, Mr. Little was made district sales manager, in Memphis, Tenn., for the Colgate Co. His rapid rise in the business world seemed imminent, but he contracted tuberculosis and was hospitalized in Denver, Colo. There Miss Suzanne Trezevant, of Memphis, his fiancée, joined him. As she nursed him back to health, they were married, and at the end of three years, Mr. Little once again became active in the business world. He was advised to live quietly in an agreeable climate, but has lived a strenuous life, traveling throughout the world and living in every kind of climate.

In 1914, he joined the old Palmolive Company and was made district sales manager on the Pacific Coast, with headquarters in Los Angeles. The Palmolive sales in his territory, extending from the Pacific Coast to the Rockies, soon rose to a new high. In 1919 he was transferred to New York, first as district and later as divisional manager. There he reorganized his company's largest and most important territory. In less than two years the territory's poor sales record was reversed and the largest sales volume the company ever enjoyed was secured.

In 1924, Mr. Little was made assistant general sales manager of the Palmolive Company, and in July, 1926, he became general manager of the Palmolive foreign business. During the next seven years, accompanied by his wife, Mr. Little spent most of his time in foreign lands. He organized foreign subsidiaries, reorganized sales forces, and opened new foreign markets.

In 1933—five years after the organization of the present Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company—Mr. Little was named vice president in charge of the company's sales and advertising. In April, 1938, he was elected president of the company. Since then the business of the company, which traces back to the foundation of Colgate and Company, in 1896, has rapidly improved.

It is one of America's giant industrial firms and Mr. Little, the North Carolina farm boy, has risen to a place of eminence in the American business world because of his achievements. The company has plants scattered across the United States and in many foreign countries and employs thousands upon thousands of workers.
