

Hoey Forces Will Hardly Stop Draft Plan for Roosevelt

Both Factions Claim Victory At Committee Meeting In Raleigh

Governor Hoey, announcing an indirect opposition to a third term for Roosevelt a few days ago when he went on record as favoring Cordell Hull for the high position, will hardly check a movement advanced by leading North Carolina Democrats to draft Roosevelt for a third term, according to information brought back home by Committeeman E. P. Cunningham who attended a meeting of the group with J. E. King, local man, in Raleigh last Saturday.

The North Carolina chief executive was recognized by some to have scored a victory when he yielded a point by approving a pledge to Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy. The party leaders returning here state that it is possible that the supporters of the third-term movement will not only work to pledge the State's 23 electoral votes to Mr. Roosevelt but that they will also work to draft him for service during a third term.

It was reported from reliable sources that Mr. Hoey had failed to organize a strong opposition to the third-term movement, and that he took the next best course and tried to hold his forces by offering a compromise.

It has been said that the Governor almost frantically tried to gain support for a "stop the Roosevelt" drive in the county conventions which will instruct delegates to the state gathering. He has called in powerful political figures from several parts of the state, has "put the heat" on state officials (some elected and some his appointees) but has met nothing but polite refusal. One of his appointees is quoted as saying, "He can't un-appoint me and I'm not going to stick my neck out that way."

Farmers And Business Men Meet Here Wednesday Night

Large numbers of Martin County farmers and business men are slated to meet in the county agricultural building Wednesday night for a general discussion of the farm program. The meeting, headed by Committeeman Flake Shaw, prominent Guilford County farmer, will promote a better understanding of the program and consider plans for its operation for the mutual advancement of both the business man's and farmer's interests.

The semi-monthly farm forum sponsored by the farm bureau will not be held according to schedule on Thursday evening, it was announced.

Critical Turn for England In Scandinavia Reported Today

A critical turn against the Allies in Norway was reported at noon today after the increasing German forces had smashed through the allied lines and joined their units in the central part of the small country. Important railroad centers have been taken over by the Germans, and allied forces were reported to have been cut off from reinforcements. The Germans were also said to have captured large quantities of allied supplies, and claimed decisive victories on all fronts.

The sinking of two or three additional British submarines in the Skagerrak was reported today. There were no counter-claims of victory or any admission of heavy losses by the allied command. Pressed hard for answers to the trend of events in bring the books up to date however, and in some precincts there are names of those who have been dead for nearly a quarter of a century.

The voting strength based on names found in the registration books and the vote cast in the June, 1934, primary are listed below. It is believed that new registration will hardly be complete until about three-fourths of the names on the old books are entered in the new ones. In other words, if the county books carry 5,600 names at the close of the registration period on May 11, the registration can be recognized as fairly complete. The number of names on the old books and the vote cast in June, 1938, follow by precincts:

Precinct	Old Reg.	1938 vote
Jamestown	835	382
Williams	466	173
Griffins	635	370
Bear Grass	773	251
Williamston	2196	887
Cross Roads	436	196
Robersonville	1176	395
Gold Point	285	98
Poplar Point	249	146
Hamilton	391	169
Hassel	190	89
Goose Nest	472	206
Totals	7469	3362

It is seen from these figures that less than half of the voting strength on the books was expressed in the June, 1938, primary. Four years prior to that time, the primary vote was 3,785 or just about half of the total registration.

The older son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rogers, who live on the old Bear Grass highway, swallowed a bob jack yesterday afternoon and is now in a Kinston hospital where he was taken a few hours later.

The boy is only about 2 1/2 years old and reports from the hospital state that an operation will probably be necessary to save the tot's life.

THE RECORD SPEAKS . . .

Martin County motorists continued fairly respectful of human life last week, but the attack against limb and property held a steady pace, the Record adding two more to its accident list and jumping the damage figure by about $150. Strange as it may seem, the number of accidents this year is far greater than the number a year ago, and yet the death column this year is marked by the absence of the grim recordings. During the first four months of 1939, three lives had been lost on the highways and streets of this county. If motorists maintain their record through today, four months will have passed without a single highway or street fatality. Surely, if motorists can travel four months without claiming a life, they can respect human life during the fifth month, the sixth month and on and on.

The following tabulations offer a comparison of the accident trend: first, by corresponding weeks in this year and last and for each year to the present time.

Gangster's Car To Be Exhibited Here

The "Death Car" in which Clyde Barrow, once public enemy No. 1, and his sweetheart, Bonnie Parker, met their death, which ended the ghastly, bloody career of two of the United States' most notorious members of the gangster world, will be on display at the Dixie Motors showroom Wednesday, May 1, from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The bandit car will be brought to Williamston through the courtesy of the National Anti-Crime Association and will be exhibited free to the public.

The "Death Car" is now on a nation wide tour, working in conjunction with the President in a nationwide drive to prevent crime.

With this exhibition, a lecture will be given by C. Wiley Stanley and Everett Fillingham, nationally known lecturers and long connected with the National Anti-Crime Association. A brief talk will be given at the car, explaining what happened at the time the bandits were killed by the officers, detailing something of their careers and answering countless questions that the audience is privileged to ask.
