

Rev. Leon Russell Will Close Revival Here This Evening

Wednesday Evening

The early Christians were described as "those who turned the world upside down." Christianity does have a revolutionary character about it. There have been a great many glorious transformations in the life of the world because of the life and teachings of Jesus. His followers have as their master one who left nothing as he found it. He transformed everything He touched.

All of us have witnessed the revolutionary character of Christianity as it has effected communities, institutions, families and individuals. We have seen its power to change self-seeking, sinful human beings into men of character—men of God. Christianity is revolutionary both in its message and in its mission.

But Christianity has another quality. It has a cohesive quality. The Christians are "those who hold the world together." Jesus found a divided world, but his followers soon learned that his spirit and his message were to break down all of the barriers that separated men and hold them together. And, the history of Christianity has been the history of those who have held the world together.

The forces of hatred and greed are dividing men today. Nation is set over against nation. Men are divided, and yet Christians are closer together today than they have ever been. People are beginning to think in terms of a world Christian church. The followers of Jesus are part of a universal fellowship. Across a barricade of war and hatred Christians are reaching out to each other in love and good will. There would be no hope for this world today if it were not for the fact that Christians around the world join hands and hearts in a steadfast faith that the ideals of the Kingdom of God will be triumphant. The religion of Jesus Christ alone is holding this world together.

Thursday Evening

The life and ministry of Jesus must be evaluated in terms of people. He discovered supreme value in human personality and consecrated his life for the sake of human beings.

He lived and died for people, and by his voluntary death upon the cross in behalf of humanity he placed his seal upon the worthfulness of human nature and its unlimited possibilities. He believed that we were worth dying for.

Our life and ministry must be evaluated in terms of people. There are people who look to us, and for their sake we should be consecrated to Christ and His church. The people who look to us are worthy of the best that we can give in Christian living.

Some of them are our spiritual forebearers who have passed the torch to us. Some are our friends and loved ones. Some are those who are weak, despairing, and sinful; but they are all people who are made in the image of God, and they look to us. For their sake our lives should be consecrated to the best we can give in Christian usefulness.

Varied Work Being Done On Number Of Public Projects

North Carolina, our public schools stood at the bottom of the list. WPA is remedying this condition through the matron's service project. Matrons are assigned to schools to keep the rest rooms clean, and to administer first aid and care for sick children.

In Martin County sixteen women are caring for twenty-five rest rooms used by 3,319 children. Probably no project operated by WPA will have such lasting influence on the health and morals of school children.

In the field of community service projects, which include library, adult education, recreation, music and art, all but the last two named are operating in Martin County.

For the past three years the library services extended to the citizens of Martin County have been through the WPA library project. During this time the Williamston high school library has made rapid strides under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Gladys Brewer. This library has added 468 books, has been completely organized and all the records have been brought up to date. The Williamston public library was started under this project and has become a very valuable asset to our community.

It now has 838 borrowers with an average circulation of 1336 books per month. In addition to these two units we are operating the library in the Jamesville high school and the Parmele colored school. The outstanding event of the project has been the demonstration of the county-wide library service through the bookmobile which has operated in our county for the past two months. This service cost Martin County less than $25 per month for the actual operating expense of the truck. The bookmobile, book collection and workers were furnished by WPA. The circulation averaged approximately 200 books per day, with a total circulation of 8,310 books. The people of the county have greatly enjoyed this service and it is hoped that the county will avail itself of this service soon again. Another interesting feature of the past bookmobile demonstration has been the inquiries made by the Negro population concerning library service for the Negro race. What could be more valuable to the citizens of our county than free access to books and reading materials for their education and enjoyment.

The adult education project employs two teachers who are holding classes in literacy, homemaking and citizenship, with approximately 126 students enrolled. This project has unlimited value in preserving our human resources.

The recreation program in Martin County operates in Williamston and Robersonville where 13 maintenance and recreation leaders maintain play areas and recreation centers and club rooms, and conduct and promote recreational activities which reached approximately 4,950 white and 1800 colored participants during the month of March, 1940. Activities included games, sports, crafts, music, drama, clubs and special events. Recreation aims at the intelligent use of leisure time for all age groups. It is not what we do while we work, but what we do when we are not at work that gives tone and culture to our lives.

The professional and service division of WPA through its research and records project catalogues, files, and indexes, records for county and city offices, such as births, deaths, marriages, mortgages, deeds and wills. There is considerable work of this type which could be done in Martin County and Martin County can have as much or as little done as the relief labor situation and the interest of the community will allow.

We invite each and all of you to visit these various projects and decide for yourself what material, social and cultural benefits Martin County has received from them.
