Eagles Hit Three Pitchers To Win One-sided Contest

Miller Forced Out By Sore Shoulder; Rock's Homer Redeeming Feature

Thursday evening the Martins ab sorbed their second consecutive shellacking at the hands of the Kinston Eagles by a 10-1 margin as three loca lelbowers marched to the hill in a futile attempt to check the Eagles. Ted Miller started and hurled two-hit ball until the fifth when he was relieved by Longest and the latter in due course was relieved by Andy Anderson.

The Eagles seized an insurmountable advantage with a five-run bar-rage based on a triple by Demasi, Overton's single and Bator's double and three free passes in the fatal fifth. Incidentally, a misunderstand-ing arose over a close play at first in this stanza and the game was play-ed under protest. The invaders added to their lead with two runs in the seventh and smashed over three more in the ninth to complete their

the City Softball Circuit hurlers, the loop's star batsmen continued their blasting during the past week to send the averages hurtling even higher. Though Fred Wise lost his rabbit's foot and mutilated his .533 record by going hitless in three at-tempts against the Episcopalians, his leadership was eagerly assumed by clouting Ernest Mears, who hit safely twice for a perfect afternoon in the same game, skyrocketing his fig-ure to a fabulous .545. Hard-hiting Ned Cunningham resumed his steady advance to usurp the second niche, using 19 hits afthe second niche, using 19 hits atter a rather unsteady start to compile a .463 percentage. Next comes C. T. Roberson with a .450 average, while Jack Manning, possessing a .448 figure, is just behind.

Feature 5-3 Victory For Eagles

Good pitching and poor fielding predominated in Kinston's 5-3 victory over the Martins Wednesday evening in the Lenoir capital. Aging Slim Gardner pitched steady nine-hit ball, but was deprived of the victory as Bill Zinser, despite five costly errors, limited the locals to seven scattered base hits and three unearned runs.

three-all deadlock the Eagles blasted over their victory margin in the home-half of the lucky seventh. A walk, an error and Kennedy's long double accounted for the scoring. The Martins came roaring back in the ninth in an effort to win the game. However Zinser whiffed Martin Manager Red Swain, always a deadly hitter, to end the threat. Each pitcher struck out eight
