that a third term for President Roosevelt will threaten the spiritual and religious life of the American people.

There has been no third-term question prior to this year, but already the spiritual and religious life is at a low ebb. No third-term can be held responsible to the power dive the religious life of this country has taken during the past two decades. It is possible that a third term will hold the foundation of this nation and other nations of the world together long enough for the church to awaken from its lethargy and save itself. A government similar to that experienced in this country in the early thirties will afford a foundation for the church. And a return to that type of government will mean the overthrow of religion and the church. It is to be remembered that the church was trampled in Russia when millions were starving and the elite were mocking the Almighty with their empty religion as practiced in the great cathedrals.

If the church of this country wishes to be pushed into the background then let it line up with those politicians who would deny democracy a helping hand and who would kick President Roosevelt out during this, the greatest crucial period in the history of mankind.

The Thing Speaks For Itself

The Detroit Free Press one of the ultra-conservative journals, uncovered another episode in which Republican politicians employed unfair tactics in the furtherance of their candidate. The Latins of old would say under similar circumstances, "Res ipsa loquitur" (the thing speaks for itself).

G. O. P. Learns It Can't Keep Roosevelt Down at the Fair

The State Fair Board of Managers, being Republican almost to a man, was loyal to the Grand Old Party to the end of the fair Sunday night, even though they may not have been entirely ethical in the way they tried to keep the G. O. P. in the ascendancy.

That, at least, was the way it looked to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rauch, of 59 Seward, who paid 95 good New Deal dollars to rent a concession at the fair where they sold Roosevelt and Willkie stickers and buttons and kept a public scoreboard to show how the sales were going.

All was well with their concession until last Wednesday when, for the first time, the number of Roosevelt buttons sold exceeded the number of Willkie buttons. The scoreboard in front of their concession proclaimed that the President was in the lead in the Rauch straw voting.

"Soon after the scoreboard showed Roosevelt ahead," Rauch said Sunday with a note of bitterness "Schrader came over and told us to contrive to make Willkie lead the vote or else take the board down."

"Schrader" is Lester R. Schrader, of Centerville, a member of the board of managers who is in charge of renting concession space.

"He told us to start counting twice as much for a Willkie sale as for a Roosevelt sale," Mrs. Rauch chimed in.

Rauch had been counting five votes for each candidate with every button sale. After Schrader had issued his ultimatum he counted 10 votes for every Willkie sale, Rauch said.

Things went along more smoothly until Sunday night, when, despite the 2-to-1 handicap, Roosevelt again forged into the lead.

"Within 2 minutes," Rauch said, "Schrader was over here, and he took our scoreboard away."

Willkie Trails Again

Rauch borrowed another makeshift scoreboard at about 8:30 p. m. Sunday and chalked up the correct score. It stood: Roosevelt, 5,260; Willkie, 2,940.

"That's the right score, and we are going to keep it right for the rest of the evening—if we can," said Rauch.

Schrader was "out to dinner" when the new scoreboard went up. At a late hour, however, the board was still there.

Government Issues Call For More Skilled Workers

Repeated calls are being issued by the United States Government for skilled workers, a late release from the Civil Service Commission stating that skilled laborers are urgently needed in the various navy yards, depots and other branches of the defense service. The call is principally for machinists, shipwrights, mechanics, electricians, aircraft woodworkers, coppermiths, diesinkers, shipfitters and others. Positions are now waiting and begging for skilled workers in a dozen or more states.

"HE'S RUNNIN', AIN'T HE?"

An old Negro Mammy in the South asked if she thought the President would be re-elected, replied, "He's runnin', ain't he?"

Third Term Is Choice Over Third Rater Always

Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, who once expressed himself against a third term for Presidents, was challenged in the Senate as to his position now. "I am an advocate of the right of public men to change their minds," he replied. "In this particular instance, I have not changed my mind, but I am confronted with such a situation that I must vote for a third term or a third rater, and I prefer to vote for a third term rather than a third rater."

Transylvania County beekeepers report that this year's honey flow has been much better than that of last year, says Edwin L. Shore, assistant farm agent of the State College Extension Service.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IS NOT MODERN

Popular thought notwithstanding, the idea of advancing the clock one hour to provide more daylight, was suggested 100 years ago by America's grand old character—patriot—statesman—inventor—scientist—and publisher, Benjamin Franklin.

ELECTRIC WATER HEATERS DO NOT SLEEP

ON DUTY always, a modern automatic Electric Water Heater never sleeps—never forgets. It always maintains the heated water at an even, safe and economical temperature.

All working parts are enclosed—sealed away from inquisitive fingers. The heavy insulation insures efficient, economical operation. The Electric Water Heater switches the current on, and off, as necessary, maintaining heated water at a constantly even temperature. There is nothing to remember—or forget.

An automatic Electric Water Heater is modern—safe—dependable—clean—economical—and efficient—just like electric light. There is a model and size to suit your needs and purse!
