This Week-end Offers Many Headaches

Don't look now, but he's back — with his "poor prognostications" — hot off the griddle. Our best advice to those who want to pick winners is to take the opposite team, for never before in his history has the sentimental selector been able to pick so many losers. Anyhow, here goes, with an extra word about the situation:

Penn over Army. After being held to a tie last week-end, Penn is going to be hard to get along with. Brown over Harvard. Fairly even. Navy over Columbia. Despite the fact that Columbia looked good last Saturday against Wisconsin. Cornell over Dartmouth. No comment necessary. Princeton over Yale in a toss-up affair.

Temple over Holy Cross. Beware of the Owls' razzle-dazzle. Baylor over Tulsa. Could be mistaken.

Tennessee over Virginia. Vols' have "hard" schedule.

Alabama over Georgia Tech. Tide shows improved organization.

Tulane over Georgia. Sophs unable to hold Wave's power.

Auburn over L. S. U. Plainsmen may be in for let-down.

Duke over Carolina. But anything can turn the tide of this stupendous attraction.

Boston College over Georgetown. Two undefeated teams battle it out. Of equal calibre.

Penn State over N. Y. U. Villanova over Manhattan. Revenge for last week's defeat.

Colgate over Syracuse. Sleeper. Nebraska over Pitt. Panthers will see a good team in action.

Ohio State over Illinois. The Buck-eyes are rolling.

V. M. I. over Maryland. Not much to choose from.

South Carolina over Furman. Too close for comfort.

Wake Forest over Texas Tech. The Southwest will see another "Jarrin' John".

Texas A. and M. over Rice. Very quietly.

S. M. U. over Arkansas. Another spot for a revolt.

Texas over Texas Christian. If we don't get out of the Southwest soon, we'll have to join the marines.

Michigan over Northwestern. Both team were beaten by Minn. on successive week-ends. And by one point, too.

Indiana over Wisconsin. Close, my friends, mighty close.

Minnesota over Purdue. A slight "breather".

Notre Dame over Iowa. Probably the best competition Elmer Layden's team has had so far.

Michigan State over Marquette. On the "re-bounce."

Missouri over Oklahoma. But Christian will have to pitch a good game.

California over Oregon. Yep, it's time.

Stanford over Oregon State. Hard fight, but fairly sure.

U. C. L. A. over Washington State. On a "tip" from Yehudi Jr.

Washington over Southern California. Proceed with caution.

Santa Clara over St. Mary's. Another unsteady prospect.

Well, the "detour" has ended and what a rough road it was!

Propose Month-End Vacation To Boost Incomes Of Nation

A Few Off Days Each Month Would Utilize Much Leisure Time

Charlotte — Month-end vacations by individuals and families at least once each month during the year, as a means of utilizing rapidly increasing extra leisure time under the wage-hour laws, and of spreading the national income, will be brought before the meeting of the American Automobile Association in Washington this week by Coleman W. Roberts, president of the Carolina Motor Club.

A member of the resolutions committee, Mr. Roberts will ask for endorsement of the proposal, which he believes, would stimulate new business and possibly give employment to millions. He will present the proposal before the committee which meets in the national capital prior to the annual AAA gathering, scheduled to be held November 14 and 15.

Head of the Carolina Motor Club, which covers the two Carolinas, since its beginning in 1922, Mr. Roberts has made a survey of increased business as a result of vacation travel promotion in the two states. He has found that week-end vacations of two, three and four days create new business for everyone—manufacturers, farmers, resorts, hotels, merchants, automotive industry, etc.

The Carolina Motor Club, through its many promotional activities, will stress these monthly vacations as a means of promoting health, more efficient work, and as a stimulant to varied types of business.

"In the Carolinas especially," Mr. Roberts said, "we have the ideal location for interesting and profitable short vacation trips. The mountains and the seashore are both readily accessible over fine highways and within a few hours' time. The Smoky Mountains National Park with its natural advantages unmatched elsewhere in eastern America, fine state parks in North and South Carolina and the many convenient resort places in the mountains, sandhills and on the ocean of both states, all provide ideal week-end vacation spots. Trips to any of these places can be made on small budgets for the entire family."

He added that in his opinion frequent month-end vacations were of greatly more value than the customary two-week vacation in the summer, but need not interfere with it.

Vital Statistics For State Are Reviewed

Raleigh—Of the 24,069 persons who died in North Carolina through September, this year, 3,449 were babies under a year old, figures compiled by the State Board of Health's Division of Vital Statistics, of which Dr. R. T. Stimpson is the director, show. During the corresponding period of 1939 there were 3,518 infant deaths, or 69 more than occurred this year. The total number of deaths during the first nine months of last year was 23,951, this number being 118 less than the 1940 toll.

Through September of this year, there were 60,537 births reported by the Division of Vital Statistics, 891 in excess of the 1939 figure for the same period, which was 59,646.

In addition to the babies under a year old who died through September, 1940, there were 1,035 who died from what are termed preventable accidents, this number being 14 fewer than those whose deaths were attributed to the same causes during the corresponding period of last year.

So far this year, according to figures already compiled, seventy North Carolina children have died from the preventable disease of diphtheria, as compared with 74 last year, while the pneumonia toll dropped from 1,730 to 1,628.

Deaths from tetanus (lockjaw) this year have numbered only nine, as compared with 22 for the corresponding period of 1939.

Homicides increased from 263 to 275, while suicides went from 220 to 226 during the periods compared.

Those who take the longer vacations in summer generally wear themselves out or burn themselves up in the sun and return home needing additional rest, at the expense of their employers. Many of these vacation periods actually tear down bodily resistance instead of building it up.

Mr. Roberts has urged for some time a national habit of spending at least one month-end away from home. By that he means all of Friday, Saturday and Sunday if possible. He believes that it would work out to greater benefit for both employee and employer if the office or factory worker puts in full time for three and a half weeks and then takes a long month-end vacation. He is of the opinion that the wage and hour law should be adjusted to permit such a practice in the interest of the health and heightened efficiency of the nation's population.

The Carolina Motor Club president estimated that a month-end vacationer would spend on an average of $5. If a hundred million persons were to spend this sum once a month there would be a total extra business of six billions of dollars for the nation.

In Deacon Front Line

An unusually important cog in Wake Forest's iron man forward wall is Pat Preston. Pat plays a fine tackle on offense, but is even better on defense, gaining favorable comment from all of his opponents. He will be in action tomorrow against Texas Tech down in the Southwest.

Don't Forget . . . your crops will need POTASH in 1941

Preparedness is the keynote in America today. It is not too soon for Southern farmers to be looking ahead to 1941 crop production and income. Checking this year's harvests will disclose where more potash could have been used with profit.

Begin planning now to use enough potash next year, not only to replace the amounts removed from your soil in this year's crops, but to lower your production cost per unit. Rusty cotton, low yields and poor quality of tobacco, corn, vegetable, fruit, and legume crops result if the soil and fertilizer do not supply enough potash. Wherever legumes are grown, more potash is needed to provide for the large amounts removed by these crops or to balance the nitrogen and organic matter supplied when legume crops are turned under.

Your county agent or experiment station will talk over with you what you can expect from your soil if given the right amounts of plant food. Use the high analysis fertilizers recommended. They are cheaper per pound of plant food.

Ask your dealer or manufacturer about fertilizers high in potash. He will tell you that there will be plenty of potash on the market. You will be surprised how little extra it costs to apply enough to prepare you for more income in 1941.
