

Arnold Wallace Is Arrested Tuesday By Night Officer

told officers. It is to be admitted that the boy is off to a good start with a criminal history of himself. The first two chapters are crowded with daring robberies, holdups and travels.

The youth, bright and alert, wrote his first record some over a year ago when he, with a young companion, broke into the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company on Main Street here. His tender age—he was under sixteen then—gained for him the sympathy of the court, and he was sent to the Jackson Training School, near Concord, where every chance was offered him. Early last spring he ran away from the institution, and rode freight trains in two states, finally deserting a freight car in Ahsokie where he stole a bicycle and pedaled home. He was caught a few days later and was returned to the school where he was given another chance. A second escape was effected some time after that, and he was again returned. On October 15, he broke out again and joined a carnival. Deserting the show, he made his way back to Williamston and in quick order he wrote into his crime record a series of daring crimes.

Caught in Williamston during the summer of 1939, Wallace attempted to hold the sheriff up at the end of the officer's gun, causing the sheriff to run his car into a field. The officer shakes a little every now and then when the attempted holdup is mentioned.

Funeral Services Held For Infant At Oak City

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning for Barbara Jane Rose, the two-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rose who died at the home of her parents on West Main Street here last Monday afternoon.

Rev. James H. Smith conducted the last rites and interment was in the Oak City Cemetery. Mrs. Rose before her marriage, was Miss Hyman, of Oak City.

Miss Evelyn Burroughs has returned from an extended visit in Washington, New York and other northern points.

Forest Fires Are Checked In County

Forest fires, raging in several sections of the county during the early part of the week, have been checked. While Fire Warden Marvin Leggett and his forces did an able work in preventing the fires from spreading, the elements Tuesday and Wednesday offered a definite check.

Said to have been started by irresponsible children, a woods fire burned over a small acreage on the Dr. J. S. Rhodes farm in sight of the high school last Monday afternoon and night. The owner hired men to bring the fire under control that afternoon, but the woods were either first again by the children late that afternoon or it caught up again from the first fire. The fire warden and his forces were busy fighting a fire in another part of the county and could not be reached. Unable to hire any fighters, the owner went into the woods shortly before midnight Monday and kept the fire from spreading. At that time the fire was burning rapidly and was spreading toward a large wooded area adjoining the owner's barns and the high school properties including the gymnasium, partly construction manual arts building and the baseball fence and stands.

Sweet Home Church Holds Home-coming

Membership and friends of Sweet Home Christian Church in this county will observe home-coming day on Sunday, November 17, the pastor, Rev. Preston Cayton, announced this week. Large crowds are expected for the program which gets underway at 10 o'clock with the convening of the Sunday school. The pastor will preach at 11 and dinner will be served on the grounds. That evening at 6:15, the young people will meet and at 7:30, the pastor will again occupy the pulpit.

"Going Home" will be the morning sermon topic and that evening the minister will preach on the subject, "Pressing Forward."

Mr. Sidney Beacham, of Bear Grass, will be the guest teacher of the young people's Bible Class Sunday morning. Herbert Williams is superintendent of the Sunday school.

The Christian Endeavor society, Miss Marie Harrison, president, will meet at 6:30 that evening.

One-Third Of Forms Sent In So Far Not Correctly Answered

der over the county, following new courses of endeavor. Signing up with a waterway transportation company, one registrant will hardly be able to get and return his questionnaire within two or three weeks.

A new ruling received by the local board this week from draft officials orders a delay in the issuance of questionnaires and in handling classification work. Local draft boards were first directed to send out questionnaires to all registrants and handle classification work in its entirety as soon as possible. The late ruling instructs the draft board to send out questionnaires in an amount which in the opinion of the local draft board members will supply 147 men. If the board thinks it can procure enough men for the first quota from 1,000 questionnaires, no additional questionnaires will be mailed immediately. Classification work will proceed accordingly. Until the board makes a start in its classification work at a meeting next Tuesday night, it will be impossible to determine how many questionnaires it will be necessary to place in the hands of registrants. It has been estimated that hardly more than one out of every six registrants will be eligible for military service. On that basis, the board in this county will be able to select the county quota from those men whose order numbers do not run higher than 882.

Crop Yields Above First Estimates In Eastern Carolina

Soybeans: The production of soybeans for beans is estimated to be 2,254,000 bushels or 12 per cent more than the 1939 crop. The yield per acre is indicated at 13.5 bushels which is 1 bushel higher than last year's harvest. October weather was ideal for harvesting beans, but growers report that yields are less than were earlier expected.

Sweet Potatoes: The sweet potato crop decreased materially during October and total production is now estimated to be 7,008,000 bushels or 19 per cent under the 1939 production. This is the shortest crop since 1929. The yield per acre, estimated at 96 bushels, is the same as the 10-year (1929-38) average but 16 bushels less than last year's yield. A total of 47 cars of sweet potatoes have been moved from North Carolina through November 11.

Dramatic Club Will Present Play Soon

Members of the newly organized dramatic club of the Williamston High School are working daily on their first dramatic production of the year. The student dramatic presentation which is scheduled for early in December is a modern comedy, "The Ready Made Family," by Jay Tobias, who wrote "Hobgoblin House," last year's successful junior class production. A number of capable performers are included in the cast, and prospects for a successful presentation of the play are very good.

The setting for the play is being designed by Billy Mercer and executed by a stage crew headed by Charles Coltrain. A number of new lighting effects will be constructed and installed by the students in time for the play. The make-up and costuming will be in charge of Mary Kate Swain and Leona Davenport.

Proceeds from the play which will be presented under the direction of James R. Barrett, will be used to equip the stage more adequately for future productions.

Peanuts Moving To Market In Volume

Activities on the local peanut market, advanced cautiously during the first few weeks by an uncertain market and interrupted by unfavorable weather during two days of this week, are approaching a peak here today. Peanut movements are being reported on all fronts. Thousands of bags of farmers' stock are moving into the various channels, including those maintained by the government, cleaners and independent buyers.

Government warehouses, operated by two firms, have handled more than 4,000 bags since Wednesday noon despite heavy rains that day and yesterday. The Williamston Peanuts Company is handling approximately 2,000 bags daily, and independent buyers are operating on a larger scale than they were a few days ago.

For the first time since 1934, the local peanut plant started operating a night shift to care for increasing orders. The night schedule will be maintained next week. Plant Manager W. C. Windley said this morning.

Russia Apparently To Join The Axis In New Order Map

an order directing several hundred thousand Frenchmen to leave the Lorraine province and settle in Poland or other territories. One report stated that the refugees would be allowed to take only small amounts of goods and money with them. It is possible that the German order will aid a revolutionary movement that is said to be gradually taking shape in the subdued nation.

Coventry Wrecked
Coventry, a city of nearly 200,000 people and an important airplane manufacturing center, was wrecked in one of the worst air raids of the war last night. In an attack, lasting more than ten hours and during which more than a million pounds of bombs were dropped, the Germans killed and injured more than 1,000 persons. Sweeping over in droves of 500, the Nazi airmen wrecked the town so badly that one could not tell where the streets were once located. Berlin and other German centers were bombed by the British, but the raids did not compare with the one on Coventry which is located about 160 miles inland from London.

In this country attention is being centered on what are believed to be acts of sabotage in vital defense plants. Three explosions were reported earlier in the week, killing several persons and causing damage estimated in the millions of dollars.

The most heroic deed of the war has been credited to Captain E. S. F. Fegen of the Jervis Bay, a merchant ship equipped with small guns. The captain is credited with saving the greater part of a large British convoy in the Atlantic a few days ago when he engaged a German pocket battleship and aided the other ships to escape. His arm almost shot off, the captain went down with his ship.

Much Interest Is Being Shown In Fruit Cake Clinic

The fruit cake clinic, conducted by the Virginia Electric and Power Company under the direction of Miss Mary Brown Allgood, has created much interest among the housewives of Williamston.

"Any lady who does not have an electric range can get a cake baked absolutely free of all costs," Miss Allgood stated. The cake, of course, must be mixed at home.

This offer will not be good but for a few days longer, and those wishing to get cakes baked should contact Miss Allgood at once. Telephone 142, Williamston, for reservations.

V. E. P. Enlarges Local Sub-station

Experiencing an increasing demand for current, the Virginia Electric and Power Company last Sunday doubled the size of its sub-station here, Manager R. H. Goodman stating that in addition to doubling the capacity of the station the company had installed the most modern equipment available. The Virginia Electric and Power Company has enjoyed an expanding business here and throughout the district during recent years.

Other improvements to its local properties are now being planned. Additional equipment is to be added to the sub-station, and the company is purchasing a site for a pole yard and storage just across the railroad from its sub-station.
