the machine, the nations with a spiritual heritage, which they wish to protect, have a problem to solve and a task to perform."

Mr. Dixon's talk was probably the most informative heard by a local audience in many months. His discussion of a subject so vital and real, showed that he had given much time and study to the European war and conditions as they affect this country.

Miss Ida Privette, of Scotland Neck, sang two appropriate numbers and they were thoroughly enjoyed by both clubs. Miss Privette lived here this summer and was employed by the Farmville-Woodward Lumber Company.

Bob Singleton, president and founder of the New England Welding Laboratories, Inc., of Boston, Mass., was a guest of the local club. Mr. Singleton, visiting friends here, has the unusual distinction of being president of the Boston Kiwanis club and the Medford Rotary club. This was made possible as he maintains his residence in Medford and his business in Boston.

Loses Right Finger In - Piece Of Farm Machinery

Eli Marion Taylor, young white farmer, had about one-third of his right index finger mashed off by a chain on a bean harvester while working on his farm near here Wednesday.

Jamesville School Is

Sponsoring Dance Tonight

Sponsored by the Jamesville High School, a dance is being held in the gymnasium there tonight. Hal Thurston and his orchestra will play.

Man Charged With Driving Car While License Revoked

James Lanier Godard, young Jamesville Township white man, was jailed here Tuesday by Patrolman Whit Saunders for allegedly operating a motor vehicle while his license was revoked. He was later released under bond.

The young man's father, according to a report reaching here from Washington County, was arrested there a few days ago with Miss Melinda Linton, also of near Jamesville, for alleged hit-and-run driving. Miss Linton was operating the car, the two of them running from the scene of the accident. Godard, last Tuesday, was fined $50 for alleged drunken driving.

The Rev. J. G. Crocker Returns To Local Church

Recently returned to the local Pentecostal Holiness Church here, Rev. J. G. Crocker, of Pine Level, will begin a new year as pastor of the church next week. Services are held on the first and third Saturday and Sunday of each month at 7:30 in the evening and 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Sunday school convenes at 9:45 o'clock.

Beginning next Monday night, Mrs. Eva Bell Holland Brown, of Nashville, will conduct a series of services in the church. The public is invited to hear her and attend any of all services in the church.

Farm Bureau Gets Membership Report

Meeting in the agricultural building here tonight, the Martin County Farm Bureau will hear a complete report on its membership campaign. According to the last unofficial report more than 300 farmers, business men and others had taken membership in the organization, and it is hoped that the total will exceed 500 members before the campaign is brought to a close.

Recognized as the main agency supporting the passage of the Flannagan Bill, upping tobacco parity prices, the Farm Bureau is now supporting a movement to advance the interest of peanut growers. It is a recognized fact that the stabilization program cannot be continued another season unless production and consumption are brought nearer into line. It was through special efforts of the Farm Bureau that the market was stabilized three years ago and again this season despite one of the largest crops produced in many years.

The organization has materially increased the income for every tobacco and peanut farmer in this county and has greatly increased the business program for business operators and others. In view of the accomplishments of the organization, this county should build up a membership of not less than 1,000 members.

Control Program Is Being Advanced For Peanuts Next Year

complying with their allotments. Unless some such legislation is passed and approved by the farmers, the Department of Agriculture has plainly indicated that its diversion programs, with a fixed price for peanuts, will be discontinued; and the proposed bill carries a provision that in any years in which farmers should vote against marketing quotas that no diversion program or loans could

TRAITOR-PATRIOT

An unusual story of a traitor and a patriot was noted in a Greek newspaper here this week. Klearhos Kouranis, professor in Greece, offered a fairly large sum of money to any one who would find and kill his brother. It was reported that the brother had turned traitor to Greece and was speaking over an Italian radio station in Greece, urging his people to aid the Italians.

"They no listen to him, but it is disheartening to see a man turn against his country," Gus Rigas, local cafe man, said, adding "I hope they kill him dead."

Miss Rosa Allen, of Farmville, is spending several days here with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Baker.

Re-Routing Of Highway 17 And Super Highway Talked

The re-routing of U. S. Highway 17 is again being talked, and there are rumors that the sound bridge road will be re-routed, leaving off Plymouth.

It has also been rumored that a super highway will be built through Williamston, coming from the south and continuing to Windsor, Aulander and Franklin, Va.

Fire Threatens Warren Street Tenant House

Believed to have been started by a spark from a near-by chimney, fire threatened a small dilapidated tenant house belonging to Sid Mobley on West Warren Street early this afternoon. Very little damage was done.

The call was the fourth received by the fire department in three days.
