

Authorities Look For A Busy Day In County on Monday

dispose of these cases and how is to be determined Monday morning. Several of the cases on the docket next Monday involve defendants who have offered the court a big problem from time to time for many months.

Township constables will come in for some attention at the courthouse Monday. All old terms expire, that morning and no new ones can qualify until they have furnished bond in the sum of $500. Charles Moore, of Williamston Township, and Joe Hardison, of Jamesville Township, have been duly nominated and elected to the "powerful" political post, but there is still some doubt if the latter will be able to qualify on account of residence. There is a report that the Jamesville citizenry will offer one of its number for appointment by the board. Harper Peel's term as Hamilton Township constable expires Monday, and it could not be learned if he would seek reappointment at the hands of the board.

Mrs. Fannie Biggs Is Slightly Improved Today

Mrs. Fannie S. Biggs, one of Williamston's oldest and most beloved citizens, has been quite ill at her home here during the past two weeks or more. Her condition was reported slightly improved today. Mrs. Biggs is 89 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Peeler are visiting in Richmond today.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Mercer and children and Miss Mary O'Neal Pope visited in Norfolk yesterday.

Mrs. Elouise Bennett visited in Norfolk yesterday.

Miss Marie Harrison, of Bear Grass; Miss Margaret Cateman, Robert Earl Ange and Dallas Waters, of Plymouth, visited friends in Norfolk Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ayers, of Bear Grass, and Mr. J. H. James, of Robersonville, were business visitors in Rocky Mount Tuesday.

Eagle's Store Has Successful Opening

Eagle's new dime store on the corner of Main and Washington Streets here reported a very successful opening this morning. Manager G. F. Fitzgerald stating that he was well pleased with the early sales.

Almost an hour before the store opened, numbers of people were gathered at the two main entrances, and when the doors were opened at 9:20 shopping got underway on a comparatively big scale. The forty-two clerks and the manager, too, were kept busy waiting on the customers numbering well over 150 at times during the early morning.

Carrying an unusually large stock, the store is one of the finest and largest in this section of the State.

The building was leased less than two months ago, and during the past six weeks an extensive remodeling program was advanced, leaving the store management very little time to make ready for the opening which was just 20 minutes behind the announced schedule. "We are adding to our stock as rapidly as we can, and will display a greatly increased stock between now and Christmas," the management said this morning.

New Auto License Plates Will Go On Sale This Saturday

and would require a new set of dies. Also, officials thought that additional lettering besides the name of the state would cause the colors to blur and thus make the numbers illegible when read from any distance.

Business is on the increase in North Carolina this year if one may judge by the increased sale of licenses. And increased license sales do mean better business. R. R. McLaughlin, head of the motor vehicle bureau, which comes under the Department of Revenue, said that up to October 30, a total of 658,056 licenses had been sold, as compared with 632,011 for the whole of 1939. That means that 25,755 more license plates were sold in ten months than were sold for all of 1939.

Of the 658,056 plates sold up to October 30, the Carolina Motor Club through its branches, sold 515,405. And, according to a statement by Mr. McLaughlin North Carolina distributes its licenses at a lower cost than any other state in the Union.

The Carolina Motor Club has been selling plates for the state since 1924 and during these 16 years the state has never had to hold a single bad check as the Carolina Motor Club is responsible and must make good any bad check which its offices accept. In its 54 branches, the club handles a vast amount of paper work in connection with the sale and proper recording of every auto license sold.

The state bureau, of course, sells license plates in Raleigh, but the Carolina Motor Club sells annually about 80 to 85 per cent of the plates. The little white registration cards are being mailed out from Raleigh to all car owners this month. Those persons who present the white card at the Carolina Motor Club offices, of course, receive instant service. Those who lose their cards, or who fail to get them because of a wrong address, or change in address, are naturally delayed. It pays a car owner to notify the motor vehicle bureau of a change in address so he may get his card without delay.

North Carolina's auto plates are made at the State Penitentiary in Raleigh by convict labor. A number of other states also use this method of making their plates, thus saving money for the taxpayers. Convicts start work in the prison shops early in the summer and finish the job by early fall.

North Carolina issued its first license plate July 1, 1909, when the state saw a chance to make some additional revenue and also keep up with the steadily mounting list of gasoline buggies that rolled around on the notorious roads of that day. From December 1, 1910 to November 30, 1911, a total of 1,686 license plates were sold. These are the first registration figures available. The license plates today have been reduced greatly in cost from those of a few years ago. South Carolina and Georgia, however, have reduced their tags to about half what they cost in this state.

Farm Meetings Are Scheduled In County

A series of farm meetings will be held in the several communities in this county next week in connection with the cotton marketing quota referendum to be held on Saturday of next week. The meetings will discuss the cotton and tobacco allotments and the soil building goal for 1941.

It is certain that the referendum will carry in this county, but there is a possibility that the full strength will not be voted. Farmers, warned that no cotton loans will be advanced and that prices are certain to decrease if the measure fails of passage, are urged to attend the meetings next week and work for a big vote on December 7th.

Meetings are scheduled, as follows:

Monday, December 2: Robersonville High School, 2 p. m.; Bear Grass and Everetts at 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday, December 3: Hassell at 2 p. m.; Oak City and Farm Life at 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday, December 4: Williams Township at 2 p. m.; County agricultural building and Jamesville at 7:30 p. m.

Truck And Auto Crash Near Everetts Tuesday

No one was hurt but a considerable property damage resulted when an old model truck and a '38 Chevrolet sideswiped each other near Everetts late Tuesday afternoon.

Going out of control, the truck driven by Jesse Dixon, colored man of Greenville, turned over. The rear wheels and part of the housing, torn from the truck, crashed through a log fence on the Everett farm. The automobile was driven by William M. Johnson, colored, of Plymouth.

A hearing will be held in the case by Justice J. L. Hassell in Williamston this evening.

The still was of the steam type, and the operator was using a gasoline drum for a kettle.
