CORN MEAL RESTORED

It was from the American Indians that the colonial housewife learned to use corn in many ways. The ripened golden grain crushed between the two stones produced a meal from which the appetizing corn bread or "Johnny Cake" could be made. This became and has remained so popular a dish as justly to be called the "American dish," being varied in different localities.

From the primitive hand mortar and pestle grinding for individual family use developed the community mill where the farmers of the neighborhood brought their corn to be ground. The crushing and grinding was done by two grooved stones turned by water power, hence the term "water ground." This was considered by most people as the best kind of cornmeal. With the increased demand and growing population the large centralized milling plants have almost completely eliminated the old type mill.

Here are some good recipes to produce a cornbread light, moist and tender.

Southern Corn Bread

Put into mixing bowl 1 cup meal, pour over it 1 cup boiling water, stirring all the time, let stand in refrigerator until cold before using. Meanwhile measure and sift 1 cup bread flour, 1-4 cup sugar, 3 tsp baking powder and 3-4 tsp salt. Add to cold cornmeal alternately 1-2 cup milk mixed with one beaten egg, and sifted flour mixture. Add 3 tsp melted butter, blend well. Bake in oblong pan that has been greased and slightly floured. Bake about 20 minutes at 425° F. Cut in squares to serve.

Spoon Bread

1 c corn meal 1 tsp salt 2 eggs 2 tsp baking powder 2 c boiling water 1 c milk 2 tbsp butter, melted Mix meal and salt, add boiling water, stirring constantly. Allow to cool. Add milk to beaten eggs, add baking powder. Add this to meal mixture and add melted butter. Put in greased baking dish and bake 1 hour at 425°. Serve with a spoon.

Corn Sticks

1 1-3 c flour 2-3 c cornmeal 4 tsp baking powder 1-2 tsp salt 1 egg 1 1-4 c milk 2 tsp shortening Beat egg, add milk and melted fat. Mix dry ingredients without sifting cornmeal, add liquid and mix well. Put into heated, greased corn-stick pans and bake at 425° for about 30 minutes.

Cornmeal Waffles

1-2 c cornmeal 1 1-2 c boiling water 1 c milk 3-4 c flour 1 tsp salt

THE Results SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES IN THE NORTH CAROLINA BEER INDUSTRY'S "Clean Up or Close Up" CAMPAIGN

Twenty months ago this Committee launched a program to aid state and local authorities weed out those scattered few beer retailers who, by practices unbecoming good citizens, tended to bring reproach on the great majority of law-abiding retailers. "Clean up or close up" was the ultimatum. The results, we feel, speak for themselves.

To date, 142 retail beer licenses have been eliminated because they used their permits to shield illegal activities. Thus are being removed the bad spots that, left alone, would ignore the high standard of conduct demanded by public sentiment and by the legalized beer industry.

As a new year begins, this Committee renews its pledge to carry forward its program of self-regulation for the beer industry in North Carolina. YOU can help by restricting your patronage to orderly, law-abiding outlets.

Editorial Comment from Over The State

Asheville Citizen: "The beer industry in this state as represented by the Brewers and North Carolina Beer Distributors Committee is making a serious and intelligent effort to keep beer sales on a legal basis and to divorce them completely from the illicit handling of hard liquors."

Harnett County News (Lillington): "When an industry sweeps its premises clean and seeks to compel its kin and comrades to do the same thing, it at once commands the respect from all who admire cleanliness."

Durham Sun: "As a result another check will have been applied to bootlegging to the material benefit of the community and the state."

Asheville Times: "The committee representing the brewers and distributors has been in action long enough in the state to prove its sincerity quite evidently it means business."

Popular Government (Chapel Hill): "The beer industry's 'clean up or close up' campaign has received wide praise from officers."

Rocky Mount Telegram: "The committee... has done a great job in seeing that beer is handled by firms which are viewed as respectable in their respective communities."

Whiteville News-Reporter: "That group, headed by Colonel Edgar H. Bain, is responsible for the 'clean up or close up' program for this state, and there is no doubt that they mean just what their slogan implies..."

New Bern Tribune: "The Brewers and North Carolina Beer Distributors Committee has demonstrated quite plainly that its motto 'clean up or close up' was chosen as no idle boast..."

Colds' Coughing Here's Easy Time-Tested Way To Get Relief. Get after those distressing spells of coughing and ease misery of the cold the widely used Vicks' way... Boil some water. Pour it into a bowl. Add a good spoonful of Vicks VapoRub. Then breathe in the steaming medicinal vapors. With every breath you take VapoRub's medication soothes irritation, quiets coughing, helps clear head and breathing passages. FOR ADDED RELIEF... At bedtime rub Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest and back. Its poultice-vapor action works to bring you comfort while you sleep.

DO YOU KNOW HOW MUCH POTASH WENT OFF YOUR FARM IN LAST YEAR'S HARVEST?

EVERYTHING sold off the farm reduces its fertility. Most crops remove as much or more potash than any other plant food and a great many of them remove more potash than nitrogen and phosphoric acid combined. Unless care has been taken to replace this necessary plant food each year, chances are the potash now in your soil together with what you apply in ordinary fertilization is not enough to get you the yields and quality which mean most profit.

Consult your county agent or experiment station about the amounts of potash needed to grow the crops you plan for 1941 and how much your soil will supply. See your fertilizer dealer early. He will tell you that there is plenty of potash on the market and show you how little extra it will cost to apply enough for greater returns on your investment. Make more money in 1941.

Write us for our free illustrated booklet on how much plant food crops use.
