THIRST QUENCHERS AND THROAT COOLERS

About this time of the year we start thinking about cold drinks, frozen salads and desserts. Here are a few which I am sure you will enjoy the whole summer through.

Tall glasses of cherry cola tinkle refreshingly as this next to no work tray makes its entrance. Here's how to make this summer drink.

Cherry Cola
To 1 bottle chilled cola beverage add 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry sirup. Pour over 3 cherry ice cubes in tall glasses. Stir gently.

Cherry Ice Cubes
Place 1 maraschino cherry in each section of freezing tray of automatic refrigerator. Fill with water. Freeze.

Lime Julep

3 sprigs mint.
Crushed ice.
1 lime, juice.
1-2 t. angostura bitters
Carbonated water.
2-3 T. sugar sirup
Crush mint in tall glass. Fill glass 1-3 full with crushed ice. Strain lime juice; add bitters; pour into glass. Fill with carbonated water. Add sugar sirup to taste; stir gently. Serves one.

Boil equal quantities sugar and water 5 minutes. Store in covered jar in refrigerator. Use to sweeten cold drinks.

Concord Punch

1-4 c powdered sugar
1-4 c water
2 lemons, juice
2 oranges, juice
1-2 c tea infusion
1 c grape juice
1-2 c crushed pineapple
1-2 c ice water
Combine powdered sugar and 1-4 c water. Strain orange and lemon juice; add with tea infusion and grape juice to mixed sugar and water. Stir until sugar dissolves. Add crushed pineapple. Chill 1 hour. Add ice water. Serves 8.

Fruits frozen in their cans make a summer salad platter that couldn't possibly be prettier. And see how simple the whole thing is.

Arctic Circle Salad

Remove labels from cans of sliced pineapple, sliced peaches, apricot halves, fruit cocktail and sour red cherries. Dip cans in cold water; stand upright in freezing compartment of automatic refrigerator. Turn cold control low. Freeze overnight. Open cans at both ends; press out contents; slice (except cherries which should be broken with fork.) Serve on romaine with cream mayonnaise and sections of cream cheese which have been dipped in broken nut
