

Controlling Peanut Leafspot By Use Of Sulphur Dust

Demonstrations conducted by farmers cooperating with the Extension Service last year showed that the first application of 16 pounds of sulphur dust per acre to control peanut leafspot should be made between July 1 and 10. Subsequent applications were made at two-weeks intervals, with the second application being 20 pounds per acre, the third 25 pounds, and the fourth 30 pounds. Results secured showed an average net profit, above the cost of the materials, of $8.77 per acre in higher yields of nuts and hay.

Wheat

A 1942 national wheat acreage allotment of 55,000,000 acres has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, smaller than the 1941 allotment by 7,000,000 acres.

despite America's willingness to help the "possible" enemy. A showdown is expected on trade agreements between Japan and the Dutch Indies some time today.

The Japanese are renewing their rain of death on the Chinese. Late yesterday 700 Chinese women and children, their hands locked one to another, were killed in a single raid by Japanese airmen.

There was little air activity over England last night, and Gibraltar was heavily bombed.

On the seas, the British reported four German ships had been sunk. It was presumed that the ships were tenders for the Bismarck, recently sunk in the Atlantic.

In this country, President Roosevelt signed a bill today requisitioning all foreign ships in American ports and providing for the Maritime Commission to take them over. There are also reported moves to enforce labor peace. The big airplane strike-out in California is receiving attention, union leaders stating that it was not authorized and that action would be taken immediately in an effort to end it.

David Nyles is being mentioned as a possible bottleneck buster in the office of Production Management. The Boston man's appointment is expected by next Monday.

Escape Uninjured In Minor Auto Accident

Howard Bullock and Ira Harrison escaped uninjured in a truck crash between here and Hamilton last Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock. The pick-up truck driven by Mr. Harrison and owned by the B. S. Courtney Furniture store had two fenders and a running board ripped off. Damage to the truck was estimated at $62.50.

Repairs were being made to the road, making it difficult for traffic to pass.

Rye Grass Seed Available As An AAA Grant-Of-Aid

E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer of State College says rye grass seed will be available again this year as an AAA grant-of-aid if orders are made before June 30. County AAA leaders will accept orders for the seed at about five and one-half cents per pound, the cost to be deducted from conservation payments earned by farmers under the 1941 Agricultural Conservation program.

Roosevelt Between Hospitals

Sporting a gorgeous shiner Ensign Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., third son of the President, is shown with his wife as he left Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, en route to Chelsea Naval Hospital for further treatment before returning to duty at Newport Naval Station in Rhode Island. He was injured when his car overturned after a blowout.

Flies to Children

Lady Cathleen S. Queensbury, whose husband is a direct descendant of the originator of the Queensbury rules in boxing, arrives at New York by trans-Atlantic plane from Europe. She is en route to Canada to visit her children, Lady Jane Douglas, 13, and Lord Drumlanrig, 10.

Carolina.. Bird - Lore

The Red-Winged Blackbird
When coming home on a late afternoon from a tram through the swamps and forests, in the hope of catching a glimpse of a bird I had never seen, suddenly all around me I heard the chanting of numberless little voices, conquerer, conquerer, con-quer-ree, con-quer-ree. Looking around, I saw hundreds and countless hundreds of blackbirds. Blackbirds in every bush and tree. Blackbirds everywhere. Dreaming? A fantasy? No not like the ungainly, gaunt, and ominous bird that visited Mr. Poe on a certain dreary December midnight, but graceful, agile, little creatures swinging and swaying all around.

Up to now these birds had been simply black birds to me, but down in the clearing there looked to be myriads of butterflies in iridescent shades of crimson and gold dancing on wings of night, now on the ground now suspended in the air, now here, now there, now everywhere, golden fireflies, blood-red rubies, diamonds and pearls whirling and twirling through the gray twilight in an elfish dance. I had longed to catch a glimpse of this bird just to say I had seen him, but never had I dreamed that nature would set a stage so magnificent for his presentation. In my little book, under "Bird Identification," I can only write, "The Red-Winged Blackbird."
Description: The male is a little smaller than the robin, entirely glossy black with a broad red patch on the wing. The female is smaller, dusky streaked above and beneath, without any red.
Range: Whole State at all seasons, except in the mountain region, where it is chiefly a summer visitor. It is chiefly a summer visitor.—N. C. Bird Club.

Robersonville Has Its Base Quota In Tuesday Afternoon

one from West Virginia, and the other from Virginia, after several months' stay in camp wanted to visit relatives and friends in Danville. The three young men were not unlike the youths leaving this county. They were tired of spending their leisure time in camp and wanted to get out. Their limited pay checks would hardly support a trip and they turned to the open road. Before the trip was completed those three young men had to spend the night along the way. In this county they would have found refuge from the weather in the common jail.

It is proposed to provide cots and sleeping quarters for the young men when they are stranded in this county and to furnish them with a meal the following morning. No tickets or transportation will be furnished. In addition to that service, this county as well as others over the United States have agreed to help provide wholesome entertainment in the camp areas and help keep the boys out of the questionable joints that are springing up like mushrooms near the reservations.

Recalling a similar call back in the last world war, Dr. John D. Biggs, then head of the Red Cross, stated this week that this county pledged $9,000, that $7,000 in actual cash was raised. "I recall the campaign very well," Dr. Biggs said. "Out in Bear Grass, the late Harry Stubbs spoke and following his speech, $700 was raised," he added.

Albemarle Beach Formal Opening

Albemarle Beach, located near Mackeys, had its formal opening last Friday night with a record-breaking crowd in attendance at the dance and another large gathering there Sunday, many of them being from this section. A number of improvements have been made at the beach this year, and the owner, L. W. Gurkin, is expecting a banner season.

Swings and slides are being put up for the benefit of those taking part in the water sports, and the walkway is being extended out to the second pier. Several cottages are available for renting to those who wish to spend their vacations at the beach this summer.

As usual, bathing, boating and dancing are the featured entertainments available at the resort, with other recreational activities at times during the season. Special rates are in effect for the cottages and use of the beach for Sunday schools and other picnic groups, Mr. Gurkin said. The regular weekly dances are held on Friday nights, with Hal Thurston's orchestra providing the music.

Large Congregations Are Hearing Barclay At Hassell

Rev. John Barclay, of Wilson, is preaching at Hassell Christian Church each evening this week at 8 o'clock. Large appreciative audiences are enjoying his messages, and increasing each evening. Thursday night after the revival service he is giving by request, a lecture on his trip abroad through Germany, Russia and other European countries. The revival will run through Sunday night.

Drought

The continued drought has retarded crops in all parts of the country and has increased the forest fire menace to its most dangerous stage in many years.
