

Expecting Large Crowd For 'Loyalty Day' Thursday Night

Ticket Sale Is Off To Splendid Start Here This Morning

United Support Pleaded For By Club Officials To Boost The Team's Finances

First reports from the sale of special tickets here early today indicated that a large number of fans will be on hand to support "Loyalty Day" at the baseball park here Thursday evening. Selling for one dollar, the tickets may be used Thursday evening and if it isn't convenient for the purchaser to attend that game he may use it at any subsequent game during the regular season, but the movement is designed to fill the park to overflowing for the Thursday night game.

Handled under the direction of Mrs. E. T. Walker, chairman, the sale of tickets was progressing unusually well this morning, and club officials had good reasons for believing that several hundred of the one-dollar admission slips would be sold.

Fans Disgusted By Wilson's Conduct

Of all the players in the Coastal Plain League, Williamston's "Slim" Gardner is the last man who would wilfully hurt or injure anyone, and it was disgusting to the fans when Rube Wilson, Greenville manager, threatened Slim with a bat in the game at Greenville last Saturday night.

Catcher Wilcox signaled for a high ball, and it struck Wilson on the head. Wilson took his bat and went for Gardner, cursing and abusing him. Wilcox intervened and pushed Wilson away. Even after taking his place on first base, Wilson made slurring remarks and informed Slim that he would cut his throat if he hit him or another Greenville man.

This Week In Defense

In the first two weeks of the month, principal rises were in the price of eggs, lard, butter, pork chops and canned tomatoes, she said.

President Roosevelt told his press conference he is considering placing a ceiling on rents and commodities and asking Congress to put "teeth" in price-fixing measures.

Price Administrator Henderson, speaking at Atlantic City, said costs and prices have risen at the wholesale level and will soon hit the nation's pocketbooks. Before long, he said, "there will be more purchasing power running around hunting something to buy than there are goods available."

Farmers Respond To Plea Of Governor Broughton

The response to Governor Broughton's plea for increased egg production has been unusually good, reports C. F. Parrish, extension poultryman at State College, but "too many" producers are marketing their pullets as broilers instead of holding them as layers. At the present time there is no egg shortage, but this condition may be changed in the near future unless egg production is stepped up even higher. People are eating more eggs at home, the army needs tremendous quantities and still more are scheduled for shipment overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Lilley and son, Wayne, and little Miss Jean Stinnette, Mr. Edward Corey and family are spending this week at Pamlico.

Public Opinion

By "BUFF"

Jim Hammonds turned out last Friday night in his new arbiter's uniform. . . . And did you notice how the coat fit him? . . . It was plenty short. . . . And his pants were built on the stove-pipe model. . . . Jim has had a hard time getting an ump's "blue" due to the fact that it had to be specially made, but now he can discard his dark green street suit and be a regular "fellow". . . . By the way, Hammonds has turned out to be a much better umpire than many ever thought.

Local Boy Returns And Makes Good In His First Start—Yep, Dick Cherry did a masterful bit of pitching here last Friday evening to take the Greensies in tow 2-1. . . . He can still field with the best pitchers in the circuit and it is evident that he will be up among the leaders when the season ends. . . . Off the record, he's just the necessary added punch to put the Martins in the play-offs.

Jim Bagby, former major league pitching ace, is doing a fine job in the umpiring profession. Bagby came to this circuit this season with little or no experience in pro ball as an arbiter, but he has handled the duties like a veteran, and few, if any, complaints have been made against his decisions. He has done a masterful job and the fans of Williamston are always glad to see him work games here.

Bouquets to Charlie Wilcox and Pete Kunis on their managing of the Martins during the absence of Skipper Frank Rodgers. This pair took over last Tuesday and during their reign the Martins won three games out of four through last Sunday. Taking into consideration that three of these battles were with second-place Greenville and the other with the New Bern Bears, who are scrapping hard to get into the first division, they have performed quite a feat.

The Coastal Plain All-Star game will be held in Wilson on Monday night, July 22nd. The exhibition, originally scheduled for July 14th, was postponed due to the death of Manager Frank Rodgers' young daughter. Several changes are expected to be made in the line-ups of the two teams which will be announced in Friday's paper.

Skipper Frank Rodgers returned here yesterday afternoon from Pennsylvania, where he went last week due to the death of his nine-year-old daughter, Patsy. Mrs. Rodgers and their little son, "Buddy," accompanied the Skipper, and will spend the remainder of the summer here with him. Everyone is glad to see you return, Frank, and sincerely hope your wife and son enjoy their visit here.

Jimmy Brown, former Martin star, has been rating headlines since his return to action with the St. Louis Cardinals last week. Brown is considered the sparkplug of the Cards' infield by a number of national baseball experts, and they predict they will be the key man in bringing the Cardinals to a National League championship this season. At present the St. Louis team is resting in second place, just one game behind those Brooklyn Dodgers.

In the men's tennis tourney, Bill Spivey and Vernon Bunting defeated the defending champions, Bosko Anderson and Rush Bonduant in the doubles finals, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3. The singles are now in the semi-final round with the finals scheduled to take place this week-end.

Well, Wilson has lost its keystone ace, Irving Dickens, to the Army, so the word goes. It's a shame that the young player had to leave the Tobs just before the "home stretch" for it may be that Manager Bill Hering will need the steady little field captain an awful heap about the second week in September.

Don't forget to buy your "Loyalty Day" ticket for the game here Thursday night with the Goldsboro Bucs. A record crowd is urged to attend and support the Martins!

Tobacco Wrappers Selected From Leaf, Cutter Groups

Tobacco wrappers are selected from the leaf and cutter groups, and may be described as the fancy leaves of these groups. L. T. Weeks, extension tobacco specialist, says wrappers must be practically free from injury, must be smooth, elastic, oily, firm, and strong, and must have bright finish and small to medium size and blending fibers. The average crop does not contain any wrappers, but Weeks says that if the crop is exceptional in quality and contains a fair percentage of wrappers, it will pay farmers to sort them out.

Mrs. Samuel Emmert, of Hagers-town, Md., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Crockett here for a few weeks. Miss Peggy Dare Stinnette has returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooker in Bethel.

Martins Cling to 4th Place In Hot Battle

Bears And Bugs Are On The Heels Of Spirited Martins

Locals Are Only Seven Games Behind Second-Place Greensies

Playing a fine brand of baseball the Williamston Martins are still in the first division of one of the closest races the Coastal Plain loop has witnessed in several years. Clinging to fourth position by a scant percentage point, the locals are at present one and a half games behind the third-place Leafs and seven games out of second place. But in fifth spot is New Bern, in a virtual tie with the Martins and Goldsboro is only a half game behind.

Williamston was limited to three hits last night when New Bern knocked out a 5-0 verdict over there. Pea Green started on the mound for the locals and was touched for five hits during his seven inning stay. Humphries finished the game.

Bill Shelton got two of the Martin singles, with Fred Hoyle hitting the other.

Farmers Urged To Grow More Hogs

A steadily increasing demand for pork has caused Ellis V. Vestal, swine specialist of the N. C. State College Extension Service, to call on North Carolina farmers for larger hog numbers.

More money in circulation as a result of the Defense Program has created a brighter situation for swine raisers. Likewise, the lease-lend act guarantees pork supplies to Britain.

"These factors have brought about a favorable ratio between hog prices and feed prices," Vestal said. "With hogs selling at 10 cents a pound and better, farmers and 4-H club members may well afford to feed any pigs they have, even if they have to buy some corn as well as protein and mineral."

An average of ten trials conducted by the North Carolina Experiment Station showed that 10-cent hogs will return $1.57 a bushel for corn consumed, basis cottonseed meal at $1.75 per 100 pounds, and fish meal at $3.50 per 100 pounds.

Farmers and farm boys wishing to conduct feeding demonstrations are advised by Vestal to use the following procedure:
Weigh the pigs at the beginning of the period.
Use a self-feeder. Blueprints may be obtained from any county agent.
Use shelled corn or ground barley in one compartment, and cottonseed meal and fish meal (or tankage) in the other.
Use the recommended mineral mixture in a dry place. Green feed is important too.
Keep a record of the feed used.
Vestal said county agents will be glad to assist farmers in carrying out these swine-feeding demonstrations.

The Baptists, managed by Harcum Grimes, seem to have top honors in the local softball circuit "sewed up" with only three more games scheduled for this season.

The Methoterians defeated the Episcopalians in the first game of a twin bill last night by the score of 5-4, the exhibition going into an extra inning. Wheeler Manning, the winning pitcher, allowed 11 hits, while John Hardy, his opponent, gave up only nine.

Hardy also led at bat with three hits for four trips to the plate. The Baptists and Christians staged quite a battle in the nightcap, with the league leaders finally winning.

All seven runs were scored in one inning when the Christian defense cracked and their pitcher weakened momentarily.

C. T. Robertson got two of the Christians' four safeties allowed by Oswald Stalls, while the five Baptist bingles were divided among six many players.

Greensies Finally Conquer Martins

Greenville defeated Williamston there last Saturday night, 8-6, in a battle which saw 33 safeties by both sides. The Greensies had 17 hits while the Martins were getting 16.

Slim Gardner started on the mound for the Martins but weakened in the seventh, and Harry Humphries went in to finish. Gardner was touched for 14 of the hits and was credited with the defeat.

Slim was top man with the bat, getting two for three, while Bill Shelton, with three for five, continued his steady pace. Byrum, Sparr, Tuckey and Wilcox each got two for four.

Local Scouts Will Canvass Town For 'Scrap' Tomorrow

ready for government trucks when they start their state collections. The chairman, using his own car or renting a truck possibly at his own expense will collect the scrap metal in the various community centers.

A bin is being located at the town hall here and everyone is urged to add an old pot or pan to the collection.

The organization will make a house-to-house canvass with the aid of the Boy Scouts here tomorrow morning beginning at 10 o'clock. All housewives are earnestly urged to have their scrap aluminum on the porches by that hour.

Defense authorities estimate that there is enough scrap aluminum in this country to build at least 2,000 fighting planes. They also estimate that the collection will approximate 15 million pounds.

Householders and other donors are advised that no price is to be paid for the scrap, that those handling the canvass are giving of their time and means without remuneration. The scrap-aluminum-ware will be placed in the hands of the government, and any portion of it turned over to private industry for the manufacture of defense planes will be paid for at prevailing rates and the returns used in bolstering the defense of every-one.

Pete Kunis Settles Down To Hurl Win Over Doc's 'Bears'

Fred Hoyle Leads Williamston Attack in 6-3 Victory

After starting off "on the wrong foot," Pete Kunis settled down to whip the New Bern Bears here last Sunday afternoon, 6-3. Pete gave up two runs in the first and one in the third inning, but went to work in fine fashion during the remainder of the game. He allowed nine hits, gave no walks and fanned two.

Williamston's first run came in the initial frame on an error, fielder's choice, Hoyle's single, and walks by Tuckey and Cone forcing in the score.

The deciding runs came in the third on four singles and two sacrifices.

The clinchers were added in the sixth on two hits, two sacrifices and an error.

Fred Hoyle, dependable rightfielder, led the local attack, with three hits for four attempts, with Elmer Cone close behind, having two out of three.

No One Injured In Car Accident Here Monday

No one was hurt and very little property damage was done when a truck skidded and tore into the front of L. H. Boyd's car at the Warren and South Houghton Street intersection in New Town about 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

Traveling west on Warren Street the truck driver applied his brakes, causing the semi-trailer to swerve and strike the front end of the car.

Dick Cherry Returns To Take Mound Duel From Bill Teller, 2-1

Cherry Is Liberal With Hits, But Bears Down When Necessary

Dick Cherry returned to action here last Friday night as a Martin hurler and won a mound battle over Bill Teller and Greenville 2-1. It was an exciting battle all the way, with Dick giving up 10 hits and Teller allowing half that number. Cherry fanned five and walked one, while the Greenville ace walked one and struck out one.

Williamston scored its two runs in the third when Charlie Wilcox opened with a single and went to second on Ken Rymer's sacrifice. Cherry hit safely but Wilcox had to stop at third base. Johnny Byrum made a beautiful bunt to score Wilcox, with Bill Shelton following with a single to bring in Cherry.

The Greenville run came in the eighth frame on singles by Scagg and Manager Rube Wilson and an infield out.

However, Dick Cherry proved a miracle man in the clutch. Filling the bases with none out in the seventh, he made the next Greenville batter fly out to shortstop, fanned the second and the last batter was out on an infield grounder. Also in the ninth Greenville had two men on with only one away, but Ches Sparr snagged Finckoff's line drive and threw to second to make a double play and end the exhibition.

Bill Shelton was the only Martin to hit safely twice, the other hits being equally divided among Elmer Cone, Wilcox and Cherry.

Ken Rymer made a difficult catch in deep center field to feature afield with Sparr.
