HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

By Irene James, Home Service Director, Virginia Electric And Power Company

"There are pies that make us happy. There are pies that make us sad, But the pies that fill our hearts with gladness, Are the pies that keep us well."

Yes indeed, pies can do their part toward furnishing protective food substances needed for good robust health.

Variety in the diet does much toward holding the family's interest and keeps them in a receptive mood for foods that are nourishing.

Meat pies, fruit and custard pies all figure into a day's requirement for balanced meals.

Beefsteak Pie
2 lbs rump, flank or chuck steak
1 chopped onion (or to taste)
Sliced potatoes
Salt, pepper
1 egg
Pie pastry
Cut the meat into strips two inches long by one inch wide. Put them with the bone, just cover with water and simmer one hour. Line the sides of a deep pan with pie pastry; put in layer of meat, a thin layer of sliced onion and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Next add a layer of sliced potatoes with bits of butter dotted over it. Alternate the steak and potato layers until the pan is full. Thicken the gravy with browned flour and pour in, put on top pie crust, brush with beaten egg and bake at 450° F. until quite brown—30 minutes.

Chicken Pie
1 fowl
3 cups boiling water
2 cups potatoes (diced or cut in balls)
1-2 cups chicken stock
3 tsp flour
1 cup onion diced in large pieces
1-4 lb sausage meat
1 cup mushrooms (optional)
3 tsp cold water
Salt, pepper
Cook fowl slowly in the boiling water until tender. Ten minutes before it is done add the potatoes, onions and the sausage meat which has been shaped into small balls. When chicken is done remove from bones in large pieces. Place one half the meat in a baking dish, cover with potato, onion and sausage pieces and one-half cup canned mushrooms. Add remaining chicken, vegetables. Thicken the stock with the flour mixed with the cold water and season to taste with salt and pepper.

For added richness, four slices of bacon may be cut into squares, browned crisp and placed over all. Cover the top with your favorite pastry crust. Bake seven minutes in a very hot oven (450°) or until well puffed and pastry is brown and thoroughly heated through.

Left Over Chicken Pie With Sweet Potato Crust
3 cups diced cooked chicken
1 cup diced cooked carrots
6 cooked whole small onions
2 tsp flour
1 tsp chopped parsley
1 cup milk
1 cup chicken broth (or bouillon cube)
Arrange in layers in casserole. Combine milk and broth to flour, blending well. Cook until thick—stir and keep smooth. Pour over chicken and vegetables. Cover with crust—bake 40 minutes 375° F.

Sweet Potato Crust
1 cup flour
1 tsp baking powder
1-2 tsp salt
1 cup cold mashed sweet potatoes
1-3 cup melted fat
1 beaten egg
Sift dry ingredients, work in the cold sweets, fat and egg. Roll 1-4" thick.

Orange Blossom Pie
To the regular pie crust recipe add the grated rind of half an orange and substitute orange juice for water. Line pie tin and prick bottom and sides and bake in a hot oven (450°) until brown.

Filling
2 cups milk
1-2 cup instant tapioca
1-2 cup sugar
1-8 tsp salt
Grated rind of 1-2 orange
2 eggs
1-2 tsp shredded coconut
Heat the milk under very low heat. (Double boiler may be used). Mix the tapioca, sugar, salt and stir into the milk. Cook until mixture begins to thicken. Add the orange rind. Cook 15 minutes, stirring to keep smooth. Stir in beaten egg yolks and cook one minute longer. Cool. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into pie shell. Sprinkle top with shredded coconut. Brown lightly in oven. Chill thoroughly before serving.

Washington Pie
Make a foundation of plain layer cake. Split layer and spread bottom with cold custard, placing over custard a spread of whipped cream. Replace top, ice with a chocolate butter icing.

Variation: Use raspberry jam for a filling and sprinkle top generously with powdered sugar or use whipped sour cream for filling and top.
