

THE LETTER-BOX

SUNDAY CARDS

If card games are played on Sundays in Williamston there is gross neglect in the training which the clergy are giving their members. The Sabbath was made for man, but not for man to abuse and set a bad example to children and others.

If one cannot attend church services then one should read the Bible, the religious press, and engage in acts of charity and mercy.

The town's life will become very poor if cards are played on Sunday and the clergy do not speak against this practice in no uncertain terms.

"The Continental Sunday" was a term for persons doing most anything on Sunday. But years ago, such was not the habit in the British Isles nor the South of America's United States.

Mrs. Jim Staton.

To The Editor:
For some time I have wanted to write and say that the articles which it was thought, had been stolen from the Baptist parsonage of Williamston, were located. They were put aside for shipment to Greensboro and were temporarily misplaced in our moving in Williamston and to Greensboro. We rejoice that they were found, not only because of their value, but because of the embarrass-

St. Louis Cardinals And Detroit Tigers At Durham April 7

Durham—(Special)—A preview of big league baseball will be offered fans of this district when the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League and the Detroit Tigers of the American loop meet in Durham in an exhibition game on Tuesday, April 7th. The game, to be staged at Durham Athletic Park, will be called at 3:00 o'clock.

One of the outstanding attractions of the contest will be the appearance of Jimmy Brown in the infield of the Cards. Brown, a star of the Red Birds, is a Jamesville boy, raised in Martin County, and started his baseball career in that spot.

A number of fans from that section are planning to make the trip here to pay tribute to their "first citizen of baseball."

Other Tar Heels in the Cardinal line-up include Outfielder Enos (Country) Slaughter, of Roxboro; Pitcher Max Lanier from Denton and Outfielder Coker Triplett of, Boone.

In addition, the Cards will present such stars as Lon Warneke, Gus Mancuso, Howard Pollet, Walker Cooper, formerly of Asheville; Terry Moore, Stan Musial, Frank Crespi, Morton Cooper, Martin Marion and Ken O'Dea. They will be under the direction of Manager Billy Southworth.

In the Detroit line-up will appear such well-known diamond names as Rudy York, Tommy Bridges, Schoolboy Rowe, Birdie Tebbets, Pinky Higgins, Barney McCoskey, Ray Radcliff and Dick Wakefield, the $45,000 rookie, with Winston-Salem ing circumstances under which they were supposed to have disappeared.

This letter of explanation should have been written sooner. My only excuse is that since we cannot now go to the Hawaiian Islands, we have been very busy meeting speaking engagements in this State, South Carolina and Georgia. We did so enjoy our stay in Williamston. We have found no people anywhere in this world more kind and helpful. Allow me to take this opportunity to express appreciation of consideration received and regret that this letter was not gotten off to your paper sooner.

Thanking you for publishing the above, and with kindest greetings to all, I remain,

Very sincerely yours,
Chas. A. Leonard, Sr.

Farmers Warned Of Deadline On AAA Applications

Farmers who participated in the 1941 Agricultural Adjustment Administration program must file application for conservation and parity payments by March 31, according to E. Y. Floyd, state AAA executive officer.

More than 213,000 farm operators took part in the program last year, and each of these must file an application, he said. Payments will not be made on applications filed after the deadline.

Mr. Floyd said applications should be signed at the Triple A office in the county in which the farm is located. It was pointed out that farmers will not be required to come to the county office to receive their checks this year. U. S. Department of Agriculture officials have announced that checks will be mailed directly to farmers in order to save time and conserve transportation.

Estimated earnings of North Carolina farmers under the program last year are approximately $14,287,267 in agricultural conservation payments, and $7,100,000 in parity payments. These parity payments include $4,200,000 in tobacco payments, $2,800,000 in cotton payments, and $1,000,000 in wheat payments. Mr. Floyd pointed out that parity payments were necessary under existing farm legislation to bring the income received by farmers for their products to approximately 75 per cent of parity. Conservation payments were made for planting with in acreage allotments for special crops and carrying out approved soil building practices.

Marketing quotas, approved by farmers in grower referendums, were in effect for cotton, wheat, tobacco, and peanuts last year, he said. Wheat growers approved quotas by a majority of 83.8 per cent, peanut growers by a majority of 90.9 per cent, and cotton growers by a majority of 95.1 per cent. Tobacco marketing quotas were approved for a period of three years on July 20, 1940.

Demand For Milk Supplies Is Created

Army camps and increased civilian population in North Carolina have accounted for a new demand of approximately 10,000 gallons of fluid milk daily, according to W. L. Clevenger, dairy manufacturing specialist of N. C. State College.

The requirement is still on the increase, since new camps are now being established in the State. In addition, the normal demand is increasing as more money is placed in circulation.

This situation, Clevenger said, means that North Carolina is now doing its biggest dairy business and will be expected to do an even bigger job before the war is over.

Indications are, he continued, that the State will be able to meet this new demand without a great deal of trouble, since it is well-balanced from most standpoints.

However, the dairyman said, this added load has required much expansion of physical plants handling the dairy products and a better correlation and foresight in the management of these plants by those engaged in the industry.

"North Carolina is fortunate," he continued, "to have so many good dairymen to supply milk and cream either directly to the consuming public or to milk processing and distributing plants, evaporating and drying plants, cheese plants, ice cream manufacturers, and creameries."

Now that the State is an important dairy producer, the State College last summer. Manager Del Baker will have charge of the Tiger squad.

The Tigers played here several years ago against Cincinnati, but this game will mark the first appearance of the Cardinals in Durham, and they are regarded as one of the outstanding threats in the National League pennant race.

lege specialist said, dairymen should make every effort to see that their milk will be among the best and most wholesome in the entire country.

Labor

A U. S. Department of Agriculture survey recently completed shows sharply higher wages for farm labor and larger numbers of workers now employed on farms.
