

Planning To Enlist 80,000 Young Men

Charleston, S. C.—Representatives from all colleges, universities and secondary schools in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia are invited to attend a meeting on Monday, April 13th, at North Carolina

State College, when Navy officials will explain the plan for the Navy's vast Officer Procurement Program, under which 80,000 college freshmen and sophomores will be recruited in Class V-1.

The meeting will be held in Pullen Hall at North Carolina State College, Raleigh, beginning at 10:00 a. m. Lieutenant Commander Ralph A. Sentmen, USN, will be in charge of the meeting for the Navy.

Purpose of the session is to acquaint educators from the three states with the opportunities offered their students under the Navy's new program and to explain to the school officials what courses on their curricula will be required by the Navy Department.

Invitations have been sent to colleges in each of these states requesting that representatives attend the meeting. It is also stressed that secondary institutions should send representatives so that they may explain the program to their high school students entering college within the next few years.

Under Class V-1, college freshmen and sophomores will be enlisted as apprentice seamen in the U. S. Naval Reserve. They will be placed in an inactive duty status and allowed to continue their college education at least until the end of their second college year and perhaps until they receive baccalaureate degrees.

Approximately 35,000 of those who are enlisted will be selected each year for further training, leading to commissions as ensigns in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

"War has the effect of discouraging young men from going to college, but the Navy places more importance than ever on higher education," a Navy spokesman said. The

Canadians No Slackers When It Comes To War

While this country is calling its youth to the colors, Canada reports unusually large enlistments in her various service branches. Nearly half million men have already enlisted for combat service in Canada, 100,000 in the air force, 27,000 in the Navy, and 295,000 in the Army. The enlistments by the end of the year, it is estimated, will approximate 615,000 men.

V-1 program is designed to provide the Navy with a continuous supply of officer material with a good basic education.

HATS OFF to "the men behind the men manning the ships!" ... the civilian shore-workers of the Navy! They are the men and women who build and maintain Uncle Sam's great fleet. Their battlefields are blueprints ... their weapons the callipers of the drawing boards ... their bullets, rivets. BUT THEY DON'T STOP AT BUILDING—THEY HELP BUY THE SHIPS AND IMPLEMENTS OF WAR THEY BUILD! Besides working long hours and as fast as possible, they're buying Defense Bonds and Stamps regularly, every payday.

The Voluntary Payroll Deduction Plan for the purchase of Defense Savings Bonds, Series E, as sponsored and adopted by the Navy for the use of its civilian employees is rapidly being followed by commercial firms throughout the nation. Thousands of employees of the Navy have realized that a systematic savings plan for buying Defense Bonds regularly brings better results than haphazard purchases.

The Virginia Electric and Power Company has adopted the Payroll Deduction Plan for the purchase of Defense Bonds and hundreds of Vepco employees are now using this means for making their contribution toward bringing about Victory.
