

Drunken Driving Cases Increasing

Drunken driving and general violations of the liquor laws are literally crowding the docket scheduled for consideration in the county court next Monday. Up until yesterday noon, ten new cases had been booked for trial in the court. Five of the defendants are charged with drunken driving, and two others are charged with violating the liquor laws. Two others cases charge defendants with larceny and receiving. A ninth case charges reckless driving, and in the tenth case the defendant is charged with non-support.

There are a few cases that were brought over from previous terms, and it is quite likely that other new ones will be added to the docket before it is finally made up for the court.

To Issue No Drivers' Licenses Week After Next

Mr. M. J. McLeod, local driver's license examiner, announced today that he will not be in Williamston to examine applicants for driver's licenses the two weeks beginning May 4 through May 16. During this period Mr. McLeod will be attending a special training school in Raleigh for all driver's license examiners. The school is being conducted by the Department of Motor Vehicles with the assistance of representatives of the National Safety Council, cooperating with the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

Mr. McLeod urges all persons who might need a license during this period to make applications before May 4th.

Little County Child Died In Hospital Early Today

Janice Carroll, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Roberson, of Poplar Point, died in a Washington hospital this morning at 6 o'clock following an illness of about two weeks' duration. Meningitis was given as the cause of the little child's death.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon and interment will follow in a new burial plot on the farm.

Besides her parents, the child is survived by an infant sister, nine other sisters, Annie Bell, Daisy, O'Dell, Jamie, Ruth, Frances, Allie Marie, Polly Faye, Shirley Jean and Bettie Lou, and five brothers, Zeph, Bill, Jr., Charlie, Bennie Earl and Lloyd Gray Roberson, all of the home.

Senator Says Rubber Shortage Exaggerated

Senator Herring, of Iowa, was quoted as saying that the rubber shortage had been exaggerated, that many tires could be replaced before they wear out.

The 19th Week Of The War

Army and Selective Service

The War Department said organization of 32 new divisions this year is being carried out on schedule. The department said the army medical corps strength will be doubled to meet demands of the expanded army. Physicians under 45 years and dentists under 35 will be eligible for commissions as first lieutenants. The department also announced formation of a new combat force, the tank destroyer command, which will begin training in Texas early this summer.

The department said it will grant furloughs of 10 days to inductees after their processing at reception centers if local boards recommend such action for men who need the time to clear up personal affairs. Selective Service Director Hershey said the supply of men classified as 1-A probably will be exhausted by the end of summer and the calling of men of 1-B classification probably will start in the fall.

Navy and Air

The Navy Department said the Bureau of Yards and Docks will act as contracting agency for the department for all construction accomplished by private agencies, including works subcontracted under a prime contractor. Two new destroyers were launched and a third was commissioned. The President directed Navy Secretary Knox to take over three plants of the Brewster Aero Nautical Corp. in order to increase their production.

President Roosevelt and Canadian Prime Minister MacKenzie King announced jointly that all United Nations with air training programs underway in the U. S. or Canada will confer in Ottawa early in May on "further united military efforts."

Shipping

The War Shipping Administration requisitioned all the remaining American-owned ocean-going vessels which had not been taken over by the government previously. Every detail of operation—cargoes, routes of travel and time of departure—for ocean going vessels can now be specified by the WSA.

The President authorized the Maritime Commission "to acquire, use and dispose of" any real or personal property needed for the building of merchant ships. He also authorized the commission to award medals to members of the nation's Merchant Marine for distinguished conduct.

War Bonds and Stamps

The Treasury said a campaign will be opened May 1 to secure voluntary pledges from all persons in the U. S. to purchase war savings bonds and stamps with at least 10 per cent of their income. The campaign will include the establishment of war savings committees in every county of the nation. It will attempt to double the monthly volume of bond and stamps purchases. The WPB said war bond sales totaled almost $5 billion as of April 1.

Rationing

The Office of Price Administration reported the first sugar ration will be one pound per person for a two-week period. The office said rationing books will not be issued to persons who already have more than six pounds of sugar. Persons with two pounds on hand but not more than six will have stamps removed at registration time, at the rate of one stamp for each pound over the first two. Each sugar ration book holder will be permitted to receive a special allotment of not more than five pounds of sugar a year for home canning or preserving of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Civilian Supply

The WPB ordered production of medium and heavy trucks for civilian use discontinued after existing quotas have been completed. The Board froze all stocks of new plumbing and heating equipment, with the exception of retail sales of $5 or less and orders bearing a preference rating of A-10 or higher. The Board also prohibited manufacture of oil burners and coal stokers for residential use. Amounts of shellac used in the manufacture of phonograph records were restricted to 30 per cent of 1941 consumption.

Housing and Construction

National Housing Administrator Blandford said he will establish regional offices, tentatively set at 10, to shift more responsibility for planning the billion-dollar war housing program to the communities it will benefit. Responsibility for building the projects will remain in Washington. The WPB reported military and other essential construction in 1942 will give the industry its greatest program in history—20 per cent above the 1941 record.

Surry Parker Dies At His Home In Norfolk

Mr. Surry Parker, well known in this section of Carolina for many years and the father of Miss Jane Parker, former employee in the office of the Virginia Electric and Power Company here, died at his home in Norfolk last Tuesday. Mr. Parker, 83 years old, was a timberman and carried on extensive operations from Pinetown for many years. Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon and interment was in Portsmouth.

Mrs. J. F. Thigpen and Mrs. J. McKimmon Saunders attended the funeral.

Gasoline Rationing Is Scheduled For May 15th

While high-ranking officials can't agree on the amounts to be allotted, it is fairly certain that gasoline will be rationed beginning about the middle of next month.

Fourth County Man Makes the Supreme Sacrifice In War

As far as it can be ascertained, the young man lost his life about the same time Murry Cargile, another Martin County youth, was killed at Pearl Harbor, possibly a few minutes before or a few minutes later. Austin Randolph Jackson, formerly of Jamesville, was accidentally killed in Pearl Harbor some weeks after the initial attack, and Dennis R. Coltrain, former Williamston young man, lost his life possibly off the North Carolina coast as a member of the United States Merchant Marine.

Young Mr. Leggett is survived by the following brothers and sisters, Messrs. Marion, H. Ernest and Andy Leggett, of Poplar Point; Mayo Leggett, of Hopewell, Va.; Mrs. Bob Johnson, of Robersonville; Biscoe and Chas. Leggett and Mrs. Lee Winfield and Mrs. Albert G. Gray, all of Washington City. He also leaves a half-brother, Mr. Jack Leggett, of Poplar Point.

Three-Year-Old Youth Passes In The County

Luther R., three-year-old son of Mr. Joe F. Griffin and wife, Mrs. Louise Brown Griffin, died at the home of his parents in the Spring Green Community of Hamilton Township Wednesday morning following a brief illness.

Besides his parents, the little child is survived by a sister, June Griffin. Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home by Rev. W. B. Harrington, Baptist minister. Interment was in the Stallings Cemetery, near Jamesville.
