Forty-eight People Volunteer To Keep Watch For Aircraft

Need At Least One Hundred To Maintain Observer's Post 24 Hours

Williamston's aircraft observer's post, maintained on a part-time basis since last December 11, will go on a twenty-four hour schedule very shortly now or as soon as telephone and light connections can be effected and the volunteer personnel trained. The new post, located on the roof of the Enterprise Publishing Company building has been completed, but the little penthouse has not been furnished. The post is hardly large enough to house more than a couple of chairs and a small table and any one who can spare and lend one or more of the articles is urged to notify Aircraft Post Coordinator J. Paul Simpson or Dr. John D. Biggs, chief observer for the post.

Forty-eight persons, nearly half of them from the fairer sex, have volunteered to help maintain an unbroken watch. At least one hundred persons are needed to properly handle the task without unnecessarily inconveniencing anyone. The need for a constant watch has been stressed repeatedly, and the town authorities accepted the cost of the observation post construction in an effort to cooperate with the civilian defense program.

At a meeting in the Legion Hut this evening at 9 o'clock, instructions will be given the volunteer observers for handling their duties. Assignments will also be made as far as it is possible to do so at that time. Those who have already volunteered and others who can and will assist are urged to be present.

The following persons have already volunteered:

Misses Mary Taylor, Lora E. Sleeper, Mary Carstarphen, Blanche Parrott;

Mesdames Edwin Holding, Neda P. Stalls, Henry Griffin, Meyer Levin, W. E. Dunn, A. R. Dunning, Urban Rogers, Frank Weston, Reg Simpson, Dan Sharpe, E. S. Peel, O. M. Whedbee, E. T. Walker, H. S. Manning, John Hardy;

Messrs. W. H. Carstarphen, Geo. A. Harris, Exum Ward, Herbert Lilley, H. O. Jarman, Jack Frank, Joe H. Roebuck, B. S. Courtney, Charlie Bowers, J. C. Eubanks, Garland Woolard, Reg Simpson, John Tulos, Garland Coltrane, A. J. Manning, Hilton Forbes, Bill Howell, C. B. Clark, Jr., H. S. Manning, John Hardy, Bill Spivey, Albert Coltrane, J. D. Baldrice, Richard Levin, W. O. Abbott, Jack Fitzgerald, Dr. W. R. Burrell and F. M. Manning.

Opened on a part-time schedule by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Spruill at the river bridge last December 11th, the post has reported nearly 1,000 planes up until a short time ago. "We maintained a watch from early morning until almost midnight seven days each week, and it is possible that a few went by unnoticed in those few off hours," Mr. Spruill said. It is an established fact that the two volunteers at the part-time post and those at the eleven other posts in the county have done a good job in so far as they were able to do so without volunteered assistance.

The observer's task is limited as far as actual effort is concerned, and the work is quite simple, representatives of the army stating that the most important thing about the observation program is to have a 24-hour watch maintained.

Several other posts in the county are making ready to go on a 24-hour schedule, and it is hoped that the entire system will be improved. Martin County is trailing in the work, but renewed interest has been created and an effective system is certain to grow out of that interest.

Long Session Of The County Court Held Last Monday

Sixteen Cases Are Called By Judge Coburn; Vagrancy Drive Flops

Enjoying a holiday on Monday of last week, the Martin County Recorder's court was in a lengthy session this week clearing the docket. Judge Robert L. Coburn called sixteen cases, but several of them were continued. Solicitor Paul D. Roberson scored convictions in all the contested cases but one.

The drive against vagrancy in this county apparently ended before it got started. No mention of the united sons of rest was made at the session last Monday, indicating that every living person is busily engaged!

Illicit liquor dealers had a hard day in the court when record fines were imposed in two cases and the judge took definite action that will likely dishearten the illegal operators.

Proceedings in the court:

Kelly Purvis, charged with assaulting a female, pleaded not guilty. Adjudged guilty, he was released under a suspended judgment but required to pay the case costs.

Columbus Ward, charged with drunken driving, was sentenced to the roads for sixty days. The road sentence was suspended upon the payment of a $50 fine and the case costs. His license to operate a motor vehicle was revoked for one year.

The case charging C. W. Burrus was drunken driving was continued for the defendant until August 17th.

Pleading not guilty, Stephen Griffin was adjudged guilty in the case charging him with reckless driving. A thirty-day road sentence was suspended on condition that he pay the case costs and $20 for damage done to Louis Harris' car. The defendant appealed and bond was required in.

Three Curing Barns Destroyed By Fire

Curtailed by adverse weather conditions, tobacco production is undergoing still another reduction in this county. Fire is already making itself felt in various parts of the county, three farmers having reported barn losses so far this season in the county.

Farmer A. F. Weaver lost a barn and his first "pullings" some days ago on his farm near Hassell. Mrs. C. C. Fleming lost a barn by fire on her farm near Hassell. Mrs. C. C. Fleming lost a barn by fire on her farm near Jamesville last Saturday, and Farmer J. L. Mizelle, of Goose Nest, had a barn burned on his farm there last Tuesday night. The first two barns were equipped with furnaces, and the third was using oil burners. Mr. Mizelle stated that no one was at the barn at the time, that a high heat was being maintained to "kill out" the stems. In addition to the loss of the barn and contents a quantity of green tobacco was destroyed on racks nearby.

The barn is one of very few to have been destroyed by fire in this county. Farmer Mizelle estimated his loss at about $400.

As far as it could be learned no insurance was carried on any of the three barns.

Tobacco curing is well advanced in the county at this time, many farmers stating that the quality and color of the curings are good.

To Start Delivering Rations For County Trucks Saturday

Working day after day, the Martin County Rationing Board plans to start delivering gas ration cards to truck owners and operators tomorrow, Chairman C. C. Martin announced this morning. Remaining in extra session and incidentally without remunerations, the board hopes to handle the applications for 313 truck ration cards by late today or early tomorrow. Late applications will be considered in the order in which they are received. Applicants will find it necessary to call for the truck ration cards at the office in Williamston.

Acting in accordance with rules and regulations, the board is finding it necessary to tailor or reduce the applications in many instances, but every effort is being made to allot sufficient gas to carry on essential work.

Up until late yesterday applications had been received for 314 non-highway gas rationing cards. These will also be considered as quickly as possible, Mr. Martin stating that quite a few of this particular type of card would be ready for the applicants along with the truck cards tomorrow. All of those applications now before the board will be made ready for distribution of cards by next Tuesday. The supply of application forms for non-highway gas rationing has been exhausted and it is quite likely that some farmers and others will not be able to get their rationing cards by the time the new rationing system goes into effect next Wednesday.

Those persons who failed to get their basic or car gas rationing cards will have to wait until next Friday to register. Those persons needing sugar for canning are again urged to wait until the gas rationing program is completed before filing applications.

Big Number Claims For Tires Is Carried Over By Rationers

No New Car Tires Rationed by County Board in Regular Meeting Thursday

After allotting thirteen truck and trailer tires, including several of the obsolete and recapped types, the Martin County Rationing Board in regular session here yesterday carried over for later consideration applications for eighteen car and forty-four truck tires. If ever the need for gas rationing was demonstrated, it was demonstrated at the meeting of the board yesterday. A troubled widow explained that she had been borrowing and begging her neighbors' vehicles to haul hands to help house her crops, that means of transportation was about ended for her. The application filed by the lady is waiting its turn, but there are so many applications and so few tires for rationing. For some the tire shortage is becoming serious; for others the situation is far more serious than they apparently realize.

New truck tires were allotted as follows:

Roberson Slaughter House, Williamston, two tires and two tubes for wholesale meat deliveries.

Farmville-Woodward Lumber Co., Williamston, three tires and three tubes for hauling lumber.

J. C. Norris, Williamston, one tire and tube for plumbing and metal work.

John Gurkin, RFD 1, Williamston, one tire and tube for hauling lumber.

A recapped truck tire and a tube were allotted to W. A. Manning, RFD 1, Williamston, for farm use.

Obsolete tires and tubes were allotted as follows for farms:

Redden Tyre, RFD, Williamston, two trailer tires and tubes.

S. O. Peel, RFD 1, Williamston, one trailer tire and tube.

Bennie Bryant, RFD 1, Hobgood, one trailer tire and tube.

Howard Coltrane, RFD 1, Williamston, one trailer tire.

An application filed by Gaines and Kirkman, Jamesville lumber firm, for a truck tire and tube, was rejected.

Applications for 18 car and 44 truck tires were received since last meeting. The board, having exhausted its current weekly quota, carried them over for consideration at a later meeting. It should be noted that none of them was allowed, and it should also be noted that because the applications were filed it does not mean that the requests will be met. The applications filed since the last meeting and carried over follow:

For automobiles:

John Henry Peel, Williamston, two recaps for farming.

Jim Scott, Hamilton, two new tires and one tube for hauling labor to and from log woods.

Herman H. Williams, Everetts, one tire for farming.

Alvin Lowe Thompson, two recaps for hauling machinist.

Mrs. Martha M. Rawls, Hassell, three tires for farm use.

J. H. Hopkins, RFD, Williamston, two recaps tires and two tubes for farm use.

Travel Exchange Is Established Locally

The office of Civilian Defense in cooperation with the rationing board is setting up a "travelers exchange." The exchange will be operated by the Civilian Defense secretary, Mrs. Brewer, in the old Farmers and Merchants Bank building.

The idea and purpose of the exchange, according to Mr. Iverson Skinner, coordinator for the local chapter, Civilian Defense, is to assist in saving gasoline and rubber and render every service possible to the public. It will function as follows:

1. Anyone traveling from Williamston is asked to register with Mrs. Brewer, giving information upon registering as to where he is going and how long he will be gone and volunteer to take someone in his vacant auto seat; 2. Anyone desiring to go out of town and having no means of transportation should register and if possible, will be given a seat in someone's auto that has registered and is traveling wherever the party wishes to go.

This plan is strictly of a local nature and the traveling public is asked to cooperate in this effort to aid in the conservation of rubber and gas. The telephone number is 349.

Police Here Arrest Officer's Assailant

James H. Mayo, alias James H. Pittman, was arrested by local officers here yesterday and jailed for allegedly assaulting John S. Ayers, late chief of police of Hamilton. Mayo, claiming he had been in and around Robersonville, since the alleged attack the early part of June, will be given a hearing this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Mayo admits taking a walking stick from the officer as the officer was arresting his (Mayo's) relative, but denies he struck the officer. He declared that he took the stick when the officer apparently made ready to strike a boy who was interfering with the officer in the performance of his duty.

THE 31ST WEEK OF THE WAR

War Production Chairman Nelson, speaking in Detroit, said the U. S. will hit the "Real" peak of its war production program by next March. Mr. Nelson said "our ability to produce is much greater than any one dreamed. The armament objectives as announced by President Roosevelt last winter—and which seemed too vast at the time—will be readily realized. Our productive capacity is apparently limited only by the raw materials available.

"The Engineering Genius of American Production, when turned from peace to war, has proved a reservoir no one could gauge," Mr. Nelson said. "When American men and machines stopped competing with each other and turned all their competitive energy and abilities against Hitler and Hirohito, it knocked all previous calculations of our productive powers into a cocked hat. The real problem now is not one of production. It is the problem of a better distribution of the materials from which war production springs."

Chairman Nelson said "at all costs—we must not get into the frame of mind that this is either an easy or a short job. If people build on false hopes of an easy victory or a short war, then they are certain to feel let down when the bad days come, as they will."

Production and Subcontracting

WPB Chairman Nelson announced a "Realignment" of the Board to permit him to devote his time to essential allocation policies between the needs of the armed forces and the civilian economy.

He said essential civilian needs, such as those for the communications and transportation systems, must be met. "The civilian economy," though "thin," must be kept healthy, he said. William L. Batt and James S. Knowlson were named vice chairmen of the board.

Lou E. Holland, formerly president of the Double Rotary Sprinkler Corp., of Kansas City, Mo., was appointed WPB Deputy Chairman in charge of the smaller war plants corporation. Chairman Nelson said the corporation should attempt to confine the manufacture of relatively simple war items to smaller factories, increase the farming out of manufacture of bits and pieces of large corporations which hold prime contracts, and encourage conversion of additional small plants to essential civilian production.

The WPB said expenditures for war purposes by U. S. Government agencies in June were at the average daily rate of $158,000,000, 6 per cent higher than in May. Congress-

Bus Operators Are Facing Big Problem

Taxed with a mushroom business and unable to get all the equipment necessary, bus line operators in some cases, it is understood, are about to give up in despair when it comes to handling drunken draftees and some service men.

A group traveling through here this week had to be transferred from a regular schedule and placed on the attention of the traffic manager and when he tried to place them on a regular bus and save the extra travel, the group commander the special bus-and-driver-and-threatened to take the traffic manager along too.

Returning from an induction center, approximately eighteen young white men stopped at several times and by the time their feet hit the ground runners opened a trail to the liquor "control" stores.

While most of them did not "stick" the group of colored draftees leaving this county a few days ago was described as the best behaved seen at the local bus terminal in many weeks.

Supplemental Gas Issued Last Ration Under Old System

Quite a few car owners and operators are appearing before the rationing board seeking supplemental gas rations under effect next Wednesday. It is assumed that all car owners have sufficient rations on their basic ration cards to last them for a few days after the new program goes into effect. No supplemental rations for cars will be issued until after next Wednesday.

The board is calling in the following men to help determine identities and answer any questions they may be able to answer in connection with the issuance of supplemental rations: J. F. Crisp, Ernest Edmondson, T. B. Slade, Linwood Knowles, Marvin Leggett, J. R. Winslow, Reuben Everett, Herbert Sexton, C. D. Carstarphen, Wendell Griffin, Garland Forbes, W. M. Harrison, J. D. Wynn, Charlie Gurkin, F. M. Manning and C. B. Roebuck.

Slav Joins Army To Avenge Deaths Of His Aged Parents

Awake to the real meaning of this war and his countenance reflecting seriousness, a native Yugoslavian stopped in Williamston for a short while on a recent night en route with other comrades to a point they knew not where. The passage of soldiers and other service men through here attracts no great attention here any more, but there was something about this fellow that prompted a conversation between him and Night Officer John Roebuck.

Born in Yugoslavia 52 years ago, the soldier came to this country when he was sixteen years old. He saw service in France with the mighty 81st Division, and troubled by tragic news coming from his homeland he volunteered for service again three months ago. He had learned that his 84-year-old father and his 82-year-old mother and a sister had been murdered by Hitler's mad men back in his home town. A brother had already been killed in the defense of his country, and another brother, according to the latest reports reaching him by the underground system, was carrying on with the guerrillas who are causing the Germans so much trouble in the little Balkan area.

Breaking away from his established economy, the 52-year-old veteran has signed up again and he is anxiously waiting for the chance to go into action against Hitler and his murderers. He had just heard that the death toll in his homeland had reached 10,000 following the killing of a No. 1 Nazi hangman a few weeks ago. Some of the soldiers in the group were "whooping it up," but the Slav, seeing little of about about, remained quiet, his countenance literally bubbling over with serious thoughts.

Call More County Men For Service In Army

Group Leaving Soon Largest To Be Sent From Martin County

One of the largest groups of young white men to be called from this county for service in the current war is receiving instructions today to report "soon" for induction. And larger calls are expected in August. Ordinarily about ten days elapse after the selectees are notified before they leave. The contingent, even though the largest to be called so far is two short of the original quota, the draft board explaining that so many young men have volunteered in recent days that the list of available men was exhausted and that there wasn't time to get others examined and ready to report by the designated date.

In preparing the current call, the draft board exhausted order numbers up to about 2,700. Physical examinations include those men with order numbers in excess of 3,200, it is understood.

Included in the list of men leaving "soon" are several young men who were married since last December 7th.

The names and addresses of the young men being notified today to report are:

Sennie James, Robersonville.

William Henry Ange, RFD 1, Jamesville.

Chester Hue Gardner, RFD 1, Williamston.

Dave Wiley Branton, RFD 2, Robersonville.

List Includes Several Recently Married Young Men; Large Calls Pending

Special booths, for the sale of war bonds and stamps, have been set up in the Moore Grocery Company and the E and W Grocery and Market, and for the first time will have for sale war stamps and bonds on Saturday, July 18th. These booths are being sponsored by the above firms but the actual selling will be done by the various church and civic organizations of the town with an alternating personnel.

Mrs. Henry Smith Died Last Sunday

Mrs. Mollie Smith, widow of the late Henry Smith, died at the home of her son, Henry Smith, in the Spring Green community Sunday, July 12, at 5:30 p. m. Mrs. Smith was 83 years old and had been critically ill for the past two months. Although an invalid for the past 48 years, Mrs. Smith accepted life without complaint or remorse. She was a devoted wife and mother and was recognized as one of the section's most prominent women.

Funeral rites were held from the home Monday at 5 p. m., with Rev. J. M. Perry officiating. Interment was made in the Spring Green Church cemetery.

Surviving are two sons, Henry Smith and G. E. Smith of Robersonville; three daughters, Mrs. J. B. Coburn of Williamston; Mrs. R. S. Bullock of Parmele; and Mrs. D. A. James, of Robersonville; 15 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Committees Report On USO Fund Drive Here This Evening

Williamston Exceeds Quota And Reports from Other Areas Are Bright

Martin County, in all probability, will have exceeded its second USO cash quota by 8:30 this evening when representatives meet in the Legion Hut here to make a second report on the progress of the campaign.

Only one district, Bear Grass, has filed a complete and final report, but several other districts, according to unofficial but reliable reports have exceeded and in at least one case doubled their quotas. Several townships have not yet reported, but their representatives are expected for the meeting tonight.

The canvass with the exception of a few repeat calls and a report from the colored population has been completed in Williamston. Dr. W. R. Burrell, the local chairman, explaining that approximately $425 in cash had already been turned over to Dr. John D. Biggs, county treasurer for the USO, that the total will also certainly exceed $500.

Germans Pushing on Toward Vital Points In Russia And Egypt

Russians Take Initiative in the Voronezh Sector but Weaken in Other Areas

Described as the most furious and costly in all history, battles continue to rage along spotted areas on the Eastern and Egyptian fronts with the Russians trying to stem the German march into the Caucasus and the British challenging the Axis bid for Alexandria and the Suez in Egypt. The defenders are offering a good fight and the cause has not yet been lost but objectives in both Russia and Egypt are in grave danger.

Around Voronezh in Russia, the defenders have taken the initiative, and reports gathered from both sides clearly indicate that the fighting there during the past few weeks has been the most costly in human life and equipment known in all history. The Germans are said to have lost 900,000 men in their bid for the Caucasus, but Hitler apparently cares little for life and he proudly announces today that his forces are within 80 miles of Rostov and less than 180 miles from Stalingrad, two important points left for the Russian defense.

It is apparent now that Russia was dangerously weakened when she took the offensive last winter, that there is a shortage in tanks and other weapons and that supplies are being moved to her only after great losses at sea.

In Egypt the fighting continues to bounce backward and forward, late reports stating that British tanks had repulsed another Nazi attack while New Zealanders continued in possession of an important ridge just off El Alamein.

The fate of the Caucasus and Alexandria is hanging by a thread today as the mightiest armies of all times clash. The outlook is not at
