

Tells Of Reunion Of Foster Children

Oak City, Sept. 14.—I wish to express personally the reunion which occurred between Richard Raynor and his sister, now Mrs. L. D. Williams, of Winston-Salem, also facts leading up to same and hope this explanation will bring the entire situation in full view.

In 1920 after the death of their last parent, Richard Winfield, Sr., Margaret, 14; Richard, 4, and Roy, 14 months old, were placed in the Children's Home Society, Greensboro, and separated a short time after.

Richard was adopted to us, Mr. and Mrs. Alonza Raynor, then of Williamston. We made an attempt a few weeks after the adoption to locate Richard's sister and brother for further contact, but were informed it was not advisable, so the matter was dropped. Until now, 21 years later, an official member of the Greensboro Children's Home notified us that Richard's sister wished to locate him. My husband now is deceased, so it was left to me to proceed, which I did with a deep motherly feeling.

Richard immediately wrote his sister asking her to visit him at his home in Oak City, while waiting for reply he received a telephone message that she had gotten as far as Bethel enroute to see him and finding the bus did not make connections, the Chief of Police of Bethel, S. F. Martin, aided her with the message to Richard and there learned of the long separation of the two. Mr. Martin then invited Mrs. Williams to his residence to await for Richard which she accepted. So it was at this home that they first met. Mr. and Mrs. Martin were indeed thrilled to participate in the reunion as they later stated but I'm quite certain it was nothing to compare with the one when the family, including sister, brother, Richard's wife and two small sons and myself, Mrs. Fannie Raynor met. Tears of thankfulness, prayers and gratitude have continued to flow from our hearts and now a few weeks later we have located the younger boy, now named Roy Wise, in the

Egg Powder for Our Fighters

With a great demand for eggs by our fighting forces and by our Allies in the far corners of the earth, the problem of shipping and preserving these vitamin-packed nuggets has been met by science. At the Tramin plant in Chicago powdered eggs are being turned out at the rate of 10,500 pounds daily. In plants throughout the country 400 million pounds are produced each year. Mary Skupien is shown holding five ounces of powdered eggs which is the equivalent of one dozen fresh eggs. (Central Press)

Big-Scale Laundry Operation In Army

Fort Bragg — The Quartermaster Corps at Fort Bragg has devised a mass production system of laundering more than three million pieces of clothing, bed linen and miscellaneous articles each month which could well serve as a model for commercial laundries throughout the country.

Four hours and 20 minutes after work is started on a bundle of dirty shirts, underwear, socks and miscellaneous articles issued to enlisted men stationed here, they are spick and span and wrapped in individual brown paper packages ready to be picked up by organization trucks. That's all the time it takes for each man's laundry to be marked, washed, dried, ironed, mended if necessary, sorted and wrapped. It's a record-breaking achievement in speed and efficiency of operation.

There are three large laundries operated by the Quartermaster Corps at Fort Bragg, all of which follow the same method of procedure in receiving and processing soiled material.

Mules
—The Army mule, long a standby for drawing escort wagons and other vehicles but rather generally replaced a few years ago by motor transport, is now making a remarkable comeback.

Was Here Wednesday
Mrs. Bennie Lilley, of Jamesville, visited here Wednesday.

Marine Corps, stationed at San Diego, Calif. His letters to Richard have been of a brotherly nature and expressed regret that he cannot join them now, but hope's to in the future. His sister is now enroute to see him.

We will all just hope and pray for a reunion that will bring all of these families together in lasting existence.—Mrs. Fannie Raynor.
