MANNING-STANCILL

(Washington Daily News)
Quiet simplicity and dignity marked the marriage of Miss Annie Bridgman Stancill to Mr. Charles Hodges Manning which took place Friday, October 2nd, at five o'clock in the afternoon in the Methodist Church on the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flynn Stancill, which was solemnized in a home ceremony.

Mrs. James Hackney, church organist, played a program of nuptial music using as her selections, "Sonata in A Minor," "Evening Star," from Tanhauser, "Estrella" and "Liebestraum." "Schubert's Serenade" was softly played during the ceremony and the traditional marches from Lohegrin and Mendelssohn were used as the professional and recessional.

The bride and bridegroom entered the church together unattended and took their place before the altar, simply decorated with palms and baskets of white gladioli, and where the vows were spoken by the Rev. D. A. Clarke, pastor of the bride's church.

The bride, an attractive blonde, was attired in a dress of Defense Blue silk designed on Princess lines. Her small hat was of a shade to match her dress trimmed in doulonnet and draped with a short veil of blue. Her accessories were of doulonnet and the orchid which she wore at her shoulder was pink tinted.

Mrs. Manning is the attractive only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Flynn Stancill and is a popular member of the Washington younger social set. She graduated from the local high school with the class of 1936 and later attended Salem College where she received her business and commercial diploma. She has been employed with the Bank of Washington, the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, held a position at Cherry Point and for several months had been employed at the glider base in Edenton.

Mr. Manning is the son of Mrs. A. J. Manning and the late Rev. Manning of Williamston. He is a graduate of the Williamston schools and from the School of Law at Wake Forest College. After receiving his law degree he was associated with the law firm of Peel and Manning in Williamston and last spring volunteered his services with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. For some time he had been located in Little Rock, Ark., and has recently been transferred to Philadelphia, where he and Mrs. Manning are now at home.

Since the announcement of the approaching nuptials was made known at a prettily appointed party the bride has been extended a number of delightful social events.

Happenings In The Farm Life School

The second meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Farm Life school will be held on Thursday evening, October 8th, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. Everyone is invited to come and particularly those citizens of the community are urged to be there.

In the first meeting of the PTA this year, Mrs. Eason Lilley was re-elected president of the organization; Mrs. John A. Griffin, vice president; Mrs. Oscar Davenport, secretary; Mrs. Nathan Roberson, treasurer. The following committees were appointed by the president: Program, Mildred Ward, Mrs. Daniel Manning, Mrs. Rufus Hardison and Mrs. Ira Hardison; First Aid, Mrs. John A. Hardison, Mrs. Asa Hardison, Mrs. Nick Daniels, and Mrs. Herbert Manning.

There have been three chapel programs presented by different class rooms so far this year. The first by the tenth and eleventh grades carried out the theme of "What we can do in the war effort," the second by the ninth grade brought out the theme, "I am an American," and the third by the eighth grade carried out the theme of "Americanism." The sixth and seventh grades will present the program for chapel this Friday.

The new home economics department in the school has not enthused the students alone but has also interested the community in thinking about a lunch room for the school. The department is very well equipped. The teacher in charge is Claire Hill.

The senior class elected Elsie Bennett Lilley, president; Nannie Margaret Roberson, vice president; Georgia Deanne Roberson, secretary; Josephine Hardison, treasurer. The class has already ordered rings for the year 1942-43.

The school is now in the middle of one of the biggest drives ever staged by its students and patrons. This drive is to collect all scrap metal within the bounds of the community. This drive was explained to the school in chapel last Friday by the principal, Tommie Gaylord, and the students are willingly cooperating in this effort.

AUXILIARY
The first regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary to be held this fall will be Saturday afternoon, October 10th, at 3 o'clock, in the Auxiliary rooms of the Legion Hut. It is very important that every member be present. The work of the organization for the coming year will be discussed.

GURKIN-JONES
Miss Marie Jones and Dalmar Gurkin were married in South Mills, North Carolina, on Sunday, September 27th.

Mrs. Gurkin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones, of Jamesville, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gurkin.

Revival Meeting At The Rose Of Sharon Church

Rev. Chas. Hamilton, of Fountain, is conducting a series of revival services in the Rose of Sharon Free Will Baptist Church, near Bear Grass, this week. The services are being held each evening at 8 o'clock. Next Sunday, services will be held at 11 a. m., with the closing scheduled that evening at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

To Entertain Pageant Cast At Hut Thursday

The County Post of the American Legion will entertain the members of the "America on Parade" pageant cast in the hut on Watts Street on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Sandwiches will be served and a dance program will feature the entertainment, it was announced. All members of the pageant cast are cordially invited to be present.

RECENT BRIDE HONORED

Mrs. James Mixon Bonner, a recent bride, was complimented on Thursday evening at a dinner party given by Mrs. J. Frank Jordan at her country home in Dardens. Guests were received informally and later invited into the dining room, where a three course dinner was served. Hand-painted place cards were attached to wedding favors. White and blue were accentuated in the table decorations, where white fall flowers and candles were used as a center piece.

After the dinner, Mrs. Jordan invited her guests into the gift room. Mrs. Mittie E. Fagan, foster mother of the bride, gave a reminiscent talk of "The Parties Here in Your High School Days." The Bridal Quiz Book was filled in by the following guests: Mesdames Charles Hough, Fred Woolard, Oscar Johnson, Dan Fagan and Robert Walters. Mrs. C. B. Fagan assisted Mrs. Jordan in serving.

KEEP UP THE HOMES WE'RE fighting FOR MORALE BEGINS AT HOME
We Are Observing
National Furniture Week
BY GIVING OUR CUSTOMERS THE FINEST VALUES ANYWHERE IN THE SOUTH!
Morale begins at home, not only for those of us who live there, but the memory of home spurs on the men and women in our armed forces. These are the homes they are fighting for; they would be the last ones in the world to want them to deteriorate. To keep faith we must protect and care for them so that America will continue to enjoy, today as well as tomorrow, the highest living standards of all the civilized world. It is patriotic to buy things for the home in wartime. Come in and see the beautiful furniture items that our unusually large stock affords you the opportunity to select from. If you don't need or cannot purchase a complete outfit an occasional piece will enrich the beauty of your home. We are celebrating NATIONAL FURNITURE WEEK with the finest bargains in the history of our store.
