DO THIS NOW—Melt a small lump of VapoRub on your tongue and feel the comforting medication slowly trickle down your throat—bathing the irritated membranes—bringing blessed relief where you want it, when you want it.

DO THIS TONIGHT—Rub throat, chest with VapoRub. Its long continued poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation, eases coughing, invites restful sleep.

The following item, written by Nancy Clark in her column, "It's Just Justice," in the Richmond News-Leader, will be of interest to local people:

"Loves Singing . . . What's that darling little newcomer from Oceana, Virginia, who is already becoming popular around here? Why, of course, it's Sally Hyman, the senior with the pretty blond hair and laughing green eyes. Besides dazzling the boys, Sally has an unusually mellow voice which should be able to make even Hitler stop and listen. This blond bomber loves to sing, 'cause music makes a flame flicker in her heart. No wonder Mr. Charles Troxell quickly put Sally in the girls' chorus."

Interesting Bits Of Business In U. S.

More pork is in prospect for the dinner table judging from reports that OPA is about to draft an order lowering hog prices . . . Wars cost money—as the taxpayer well knows—and in September we spent $5,500,000,000 to help lick the Axis. That's approximately $750,000,000 less than the amount spent by consumers for civilian goods . . . The automotive industry has approximately one-third of the nation's war orders . . . Material shortages and the elimination of all work not essential to the war effort is reflected in the decline of the number of new houses started under the Federal Housing Administration program from 117,385 in the first nine months as compared with 166,869 in the same period last year.

State College Hints For Farm Homes

To get the most food value from your potatoes, cook them in their jackets. When you must peel, keep peeling thin. Prized minerals lie close beneath the surface. Peel potatoes just before you cook them—don't let them soak, or you lose minerals and vitamins.

Store white potatoes in a cool, dark, airy place where they won't freeze. Store sweet potatoes in a dry place where they will not chill.

A wise mother considers quality as well as price when she buys clothes for her children. She learns to look for value both in the fabric used and in the workmanship. She asks these questions of even the smallest purchase of children's clothing: Is it comfortable? Is it becoming? Will it keep its shape? Is there minimum shrinkage? Will it wear well? Is the color fast to sunlight? Is the color fast to washing?

In workmanship, she looks for flat, smooth seams and strongly finished edges; deep hems and pleats to allow for growth; roomy arm holes to permit freedom of movement; strain points reinforced or bartacked, pockets doublestitched; a strong, wide binding, all in one piece, to make a sturdy placket for these garments with a drop seat; buttonholes firmly bound or stitched very closely; medium-sized, round flat buttons sewed on securely; weight of the garment supported from the shoulder to prevent slipping and irritation and to promote good posture; openings easy to manage, strongly finished and large enough.

Children's clothing should be light and bright—sunny yellows, sky blues and all the colors of the rainbow.
