

Damaged Cotton Should Not Be Harvested

In the first place, growers should not attempt to harvest cotton that has been beaten out on the ground, sprouted, and begun to root. The important thing, however, is to take cotton to the gin as dry as possible. Also, if possible, the cotton should have the cleaning effect of four beater rolls to remove sand and soil stain. Seed from storm-damaged cotton should be kept separate from the better grades.

Hickory And Oak Best Woods For Smoking Beef

Hickory and oak, although practically all of the non-resinous woods are satisfactory, particularly the hardwoods, for smoking beef. Dried beef should be smoked 70 to 100 hours at a temperature of 125 to 150 degrees Fahrenheit. After smoking, the dried beef may be wrapped in heavy paper and then slipped into a heavily starched flour sack and hung up in a well-ventilated room.

Ef you hav ever hearn-tell that ther thing we calls ther DOLLAR, is a kind of a cam-o-flage as a medium of x-change?
When you tells a man that sich and sich a thing will cost 'im so-many and so-many dollars, he mout grunt and say—thats purty high. But right off, his mind runs to things he's got to sell thats up a little-bit morn they used to be, and mebbly he kin stand it, and goes on and makes ther trade, and scrapes up ther dollars, trustin to luck to be benefitted by what he shore do need. And rite thar is whar he is cam-o-flaged in what he gits fer a dollar, and what he always a danger; greater care should be observed in this wartime year.

Don't let insanitary livestock quarters endanger profits; all stock barns should be cleaned and disinfected before cold weather.
Don't risk ruining the dairy herd through mastitis. If any cows show inflamed udders or abnormal milk, have them examined.
Don't forget that livestock needs plenty of vitamins during damp, dark fall and winter weather. Vitamin A and D are all important. In livestock

Farmers Will Plant More Small Grain Than Before
Wayner County farmers have indicated they will plant more small grains this year than ever before, reports D. J. Murray, assistant farm agent of the N. C. State College Extension Service.
Vitamin A is found only in yellow corn, green leafy legume hay, and succulent pasture.
Don't see dooft or damaged corn to livestock.

gives fer a dollar. Now sum folks argafies that this here medium of x-change ort to be calculated on days-work, lak —you do sumthin fer me fer so-many days work, and I do sumthin fer you fer so many days-work, then evy-body would understand how ther "medium" was x-changin cordin to a-bility to pay. But when it comes to tradin do-nuts fer dollars, its jest lak sellin a hundred acres of good food-producin land for a-nuf dollars to buy a flivver, sos to roll over ther roads you went hungry in raisin tax-money to build.
All all that brings up what old Jim Sprukes run into tuther day. Old Jim has growed into ther herd of shaggy-brows, and has bin a-thinkin bout ther time when he'll be called on to stop heppin feed ther world at little pay, and lay his-self down in ther dust with rich and pore alike. So old Jim looked 'im up a lawyer and saus—Jedge, I'm agittin on ther shady side of makin ther world go easy fer sum folks, even ef I am still tryin to pull up ther slope my-self, and I cal-ca-late to leave my little holdins ther way I'd like fer 'em to go, and I'm confident you air ther one I wants to write my little will. How much is it a-go-in to cost me?
And ther Jedge says—I dont know how much property yous got, nor how long it will take me to write it,

Jim. And old Jim says—Jedge, you hav writ plasters on evy little patch I own, and ort to know 'em by now, but Iv paid up clean, and wants you to hep me leave 'em clean, what'll you charge? And ther Jedge says—Well, that bein ther case, I recon it will take jest about fifteen minits. I'll do it fer fifty dollars. Old Jim says—Dast ef that aint prutty steep Jedge, but bein I wont never hav to hav a-nuther one writ, and bein I knows you'll writ it right, and that my corn craps on-usual good, and tobacco is bustin ther belly outn all ther years it didnt pay fertilize bills, I recon I better spare ther fifty, and ther trades made.
But ef ther Jedge had said—Yas, it will take me jest fifteen minits, and I'll do it for fifty days work—old Jim would natally hav flung a fit at workin for ther Jedge fifty days, whilst ther Jedge worked for for him fifteen minits in x-change; and sich a cussin as old Jim would a-put forth would a-upset what ther Jedge mout a-called the bench-of-jestis.

Veterinarian Issues Timely Animal Aids
Ten don't for farmers, to help them avoid fall livestock losses, have been issued by Dr. C. D. Grinnells, veterinarian of the Agricultural Experiment Station of N. C. State College.
The suggestions, based on a study of principal causes of fall losses among farm animals, include:
Don't allow fall pigs to be farrowed in old hog lots infested with worms and disease germs.
Don't keep stock in cold drafty buildings. Such an environment is favorable to the development of "flu" and pneumonia.
Don't bring new feeder animals onto the farm without a proper certificate of veterinary inspection; always isolate new stock from other animals for three weeks to prevent spread of possible disease.
Don't overcrowd poultry houses; it endangers flock health.
Don't take chances with hog cholera; have a veterinarian check the herd and vaccinate fall pigs as soon as they are weaned.
Don't turn horses and cattle into cornstalk fields without keeping watch on them; cornstalk disease is

Williamston Tobacco Market Will Close TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3rd

The warehousemen and members of the Williamston Tobacco Board of Trade wish to thank the farmers and tobacco growers of Eastern Carolina for the fine patronage and cooperation given the market this season. It has been a pleasure to sell your tobacco and serve you and we know you have received the top dollar for every pound of tobacco marketed in Williamston.

To the farmers who have not sold all their tobacco we extend a special invitation to sell the remainder of their crop in Williamston. Although the sales may be comparatively small, rest assured top prices will be paid for every basket and buyers from every manufacturer and independent dealer will be on hand until the last pound is sold next Tuesday, November 3rd.
