Sponsoring Special Project In Schools

The finance committee of the Williamston Parent-Teacher Association in session at the high school last Wednesday afternoon endorsed the matrons project in the local schools and formulated plans for providing financial support for the project throughout the term. Matrons have been employed at both buildings in an effort to provide care for small children and improve sanitary conditions. Members of the committee plan to organize a parents club during a special drive with all contributions earmarked for the continuance of the sanitation project. The drive will get underway next week when patrons of the local schools will be asked to cooperate in the support of the worthy project.

Finance members present for the session were, Mrs. Harrell Everett, Mrs. Hugh Horton, Mrs. J. H. Ward, Mrs. Herbert Taylor, and Mrs. B. W. Nash, president of the association.

Farmers Are Signing 1943 Practice Plans

Farmers in every county of North Carolina now are being given an opportunity to sign farm practice plans for 1943, stating whether or not they intend to cooperate in the 1943 AAA farm program, according to G. T. Scott, chairman of the State AAA committee, with headquarters at State College.

Weekly reports already received in the State AAA office show that 29,495 of a possible 196,745 eligible farmers have signed practice plans for the coming year. Of this number, Scott said, 29,422 indicated their intention to take part in the 1943 AAA farm program, and 73 indicated they will not cooperate.

"Signing of these farm practice plans is not compulsory on the part of the farmer," Scott said. "By signing a practice plan, the farmer merely signifies his intention to cooperate in the program during the coming agricultural year, and allotments for special crops are determined for his farm and forwarded to him. The farmer also is informed of the maximum payments he can earn for carrying out approved production practices next year. Since this is the time for seeding winter legumes and spreading soil building materials, it is important that he sign his farm plan as soon as possible. Farmers who cooperate in the AAA program can obtain seed and materials, such as lime and superphosphate, on a grant-of-aid basis, and costs will be deducted from any payments due them under the Agricultural Conservation Program.

In an effort to conserve transportation facilities, the AAA official said, most of the sign-up work this year is being carried on by contacting farmers when they are in county AAA offices or at meetings for other reasons. He emphasized that this sign-up concerns particularly cooperation in the 1943 program.

Winter Hay, Grazing Crops Needed in N.C.

Recent rains in the Coastal Plain have destroyed the value of a large part of the hay that was stacked outdoors in Eastern Carolina. The damage to peanut and soybean hay has been especially serious, reports E. R. Collins, Extension agronomy leader to N. C. State College.

"Every effort should be made by livestock farmers to supplement their feed supplies with fall-seeded crops for winter grazing and spring hay," says Collins. "Fortunately, there is still time to sow winter legumes and small grains to be grazed in February and March, or to be harvested for hay in the late spring."

The agronomist explained that the restrictions placed on the use of fertilizers containing nitrogen applied on small grains does not apply where the grain is not harvested. Where farmers seed small grains for grazing, or in mixtures with legumes for grazing, they will be able to obtain 2-12-6 and 2-8-10 fertilizers. Collins says that all winter hay and grazing crops should be top-dressed with nitrogen February or early March.

One of the west winter hay mixtures, according to the Extension worker, is a combination of vetch or Austrian peas and small grains. He suggests the per acre seeding of 15 pounds of vetch or Austrian winter peas, 2 bushels of Fulgrain No. 3 or Fulghum oats, 1-2 bushel of Caralora or Redhart wheat, and 1-2 bushel of Iredell barley if available. This mixture should be planted as soon as possible, and should be fertilized with 200 pounds per acre of 2-12-6 fertilizer at planting time.

Collins says that 1 1-2 bushels of Abruzzi rye, planted by November 15 and fertilized with 200 pounds of 2-12-6 at planting time, will furnish grazing in February and March.
