The 50th Week Of The War

present Government employees, who have been deferred, are not enlisted or commissioned... unless they can produce the approval of the head of their agency." Mr. Roosevelt said that after his order November 17 for cancellation of all deferments already made on the basis of federal service, there was a rush of Government employees to get into uniform. He said his new order should apply not only to the regular civilian employees of the Government "but also to employees in Army arsenals and in navy yards and navy shore establishments owned or operated by the United States."

The new manpower setup to be completed soon, the president said, would provide for deferment and prohibition on enlistment of men needed more urgently for war production than in the army. More uniformity could be obtained from local draft boards, he said, by plant managers certifying to the boards cases of men who are irreplaceable and by more consultation between draft boards and war production employees.

The Armed Forces

Navy Surgeon General McIntire said navy facilities among the wounded at Guadalcanal are less than one per cent, compared with an average of seven per cent wounded in World War I—due principally to use of new medical discoveries in treatment of wounds. The president appointed Brig. Gen. Frederick H. Osborn, chief of special services of the War Department, as chairman of a committee which will work out plans for post-war education of young men whose school years are interrupted by entrance into the armed services. The president increased the maximum size of the WAACS from 25,000 to 150,000 women. More than 1,000,000 soldiers have applied for benefits on behalf of their families under the Servicemen's Dependents Allowance Act.

The Office of War Information announced 48,956 members of U. S. armed forces have been officially reported as killed, wounded, missing or prisoners since the war began—exclusive of the Africa campaign. The War and Navy Departments organized the United States of America Typhus Commission, headed by Rear Admiral Charles S. Stephenson to "function as a board of strategy against typhus, the common foe of all armies and of all people."

Production

War Production Chairman Nelson announced aircraft production in 1943 has been fixed at more than double the 1942 output. At the same time he appointed a new top board of aircraft production supervision under the chairmanship of WPB Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson. Mr. Nelson issued a statement asking war workers to stay on their jobs Thanksgiving Day. The WPB smaller war plants division reported it has completed its operating organization and now has the staff necessary to carry out its work.

The attention of the City Fathers is called to the condition of the sidewalks in New Town. Sand is wasted on other streets that is needed on these walks. When it rains, as it did

Farm Prices and Production

The WPB froze until March 6, 1943, one-half of the supply of cold storage butter in the 35 principal markets of the country. Without reward to existing contracts, this butter may not be delivered except on specific permission by the WPB or to the armed forces, lend-lease, or other specified Government agencies.

The OPA set special price ceilings on turkeys sold direct to consumers by farmers and processors.

Employment on farms November 1st totaled 10,879,000, a seasonal decline of about 1,000,000 persons during October and representing a much higher percentage of women, children and townpeople.

Rationing

The OPA cut the value of the basic "A" gasoline ration coupon from 4 to 3 gallons in the District of Columbia and 16 of the non-rationed eastern states. B and C books were not affected. These motorists who, because of the change of the value of the "A" coupons, are unable to obtain "essential mileage" may now apply for supplemental rations. To allow motorists extra time in which to dispose of idle tires in excess of five per passenger car, the OPA postponed the deadline for idle tire turn-ins until December 1.

War Finances

To finance the war effort, the treasury will borrow during December the unprecedented sum of approximately nine billion dollars. Twelve Victory Fund Committees will launch an intensive sales campaign on November 30 on three series of offerings of new securities, and the War Savings Staff will intensify its drive to add at least 7 million more income-earners to those already investing regularly in war bonds through the payroll savings plan.
