Suggests Plans For Beautifying Home

John H. Harris, extension landscape specialist of N. C. State College, says there are many home beautification jobs that can be accomplished during the month of December. "We all need to keep our morale high," he declared, "and the improvement of the homestead will help make life more pleasant for those on the civilian front, and for the fighting forces when they return from the camps and battle-fronts." He offers the following home beautification suggestions for December: (1) Now is the time to transplant trees and shrubs—you will wish you had next spring. (2) In gathering Christmas greens for decoration or sale, why not go deep into the woods rather than destroy the beauty along the road. Even in the woods, our decorations may be gathered by careful pruning rather than by destroying the tree. (3) This is a good time to prune grapes, raspberries, and many shrubs such as Abelia, Crapemyrtle, Hardy Hydrangea, Desmodium, Butterfly Bush, and other late summer and fall-blooming shrubs. These may be pruned equally as well in February or March, but don't put off too much until spring.

(4) Keep the leaves off your lawn—use them for compost. Mow your winter lawn as often as necessary. (5) Avoid pruning (dehorning) your valuable shade trees. The only pruning shade trees need is removal of the dead limbs, or perhaps some thinning out of the branches.

Each retailer and wholesaler shall also preserve all existing sales and other records upon which the computations of his initial and allowable inventories are based.

(b) Every retailer or wholesaler shall on or before December 31, 1942, report to the Board, on such form as may be prescribed by the Office of Price Administration, the following: (1) the information contained in his records maintained pursuant to paragraphs (a) (3), (a) (4), and (a) (5) of this section; (2) the computations of his initial and allowable inventories; and (3) such other information as may be called for by such form.

Farm Buildings Must Be Preserved

Money spent on the maintenance of farm buildings in peace time pays high dividends, says D. S. Weaver, Extension agricultural engineer of N. C. State College. In War time he says, the scarcity of materials for new buildings, and even for repairs, makes maintenance vital to insure continued use of the building. Perhaps the most needed protection for existing farm buildings in North Carolina is paint, says Weaver. The life of a building is increased by 30 per cent or more if it is kept in good condition to withstand exposure to the weather.

"The durability of paints depends to a great extent upon the quality of the product," the agricultural engineer asserted. "All good paint consists of an oil mixed with powder, known as a pigment. The quality of these two ingredients, together with the method of mixing, determines the desirability of the paint." "All paint manufacturers who make reliable products put on the for just ernuf to live on a day, then World War II is shore in the offin.
