Examine History

In the name of truth, a study should be made of witch burning in old Salem back in the old days when men feared to speak out against the destruction of innocent victims at the fire stake.

There'll come a day, surely, when Americans will hang their heads in shame and recall with horror mccarthyism of the twentieth century, just as many today recall with shame the persecution of innocent persons back in Massachusetts.

The people of Massachusetts and other states have some consolation, however, in the knowledge that the persecutors of old possibly were sincere in their acts.

A Big Hand-Out

One of the largest hand-outs ever recorded in a single year was placed on a silver platter, all sealed and made ready for the privileged when President Eisenhower signed the federal tax cut on April 1.

It was no April fool business for the favored but the new tax cut as far as the little man is concerned is about like the proverbial needle in the haystack.

The seven billion tax cut will be felt in the top ranks but down among the masses it can hardly be detected.

Capitalist Starvation

The Right Hand.

A Communist, reporting to his local Soviet after his return from a government mission in the U. S., said: "America is so desperate for food her people have taken to the last resources of a starving nation. They are killing their dogs and eating them; and this fact is so well known that no attempt at concealment is made."

Notwithstanding

Notwithstanding the gasoline tax, the tax on earnings, dividends and all others, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey reported a record net income for 1953.

Reports for all the oil companies are not immediately available, but in the one instance profits should be very pleasing.

After reviewing such reports, one finds it difficult to understand why the oil people fuss about gas taxes when those taxes go to improve and build more roads and pave the way for increased consumption of gasoline.

High Price Coffee

The importance of storing surplus farm commodities is well demonstrated in the run-away coffee prices. Possibly if some coffee, if possible, had been stored, the consumers would not be now subject to a raw Jesse James deal today.

When the consumers of this nation realize that the farm program keeps supply in keeping with demand, there are no extremes either for the producer or the user.

Republican Ways

The Republicans have the most unusual ways of going business. They question a fellow for voicing an opinion, and then pat a fellow on the back for "stealing" from the government by taking kick-back money.

Starvation is all right until they get hungry, the records showing they are doing little or nothing to relieve the nearly five million jobless in the country today.

Garden Time In East Carolina

By Robert Schmidt

Anyone who tries to grow tomatoes in the South is concerned with the problem of wilt. There are two kinds of wilt which commonly affect tomatoes—fusarium and bacterial wilt—caused by two different organisms which are quite common in garden soils of this state.

Fusarium wilt can be effectively combatted by the use of wilt resistant varieties such as Homestead, Southland, and Jefferson. Marglobe and Rutgers are still very popular varieties but seem to have very little resistance to the present strains of fusarium wilt.

The empty is still being put on ice-box sized watermelons. The New Hampshire Midget variety which grows to the size of a cantaloupe has become quite popular in the home garden. Hills may be spaced as close as five or six feet apart. A fault of this variety is that it becomes over-ripe very quickly. Another good small melon is the Rhode Island Red variety which will weigh about 10 to 12 pounds, on the average. It has deep red flesh and black seeds.

Kipling Minister State College Has Revival Speaker Timely Answers

The Reverend H. B. Baum of Kipling will be guest preacher for the revival which will begin at First Methodist Church in Williamston next Sunday, according to an announcement made this week by Pastor R. E. Walston. Mr. Baum is already known to many in this section, having served two pastorate in the Elizabeth City District in the 1930's. He was also guest preacher for Holly Spring Church's revival last fall. For several years he has served pastorate in the vicinity of Raleigh, having been pastor of churches in Wake Forest, Cary, and Selma before going to Kipling about three years ago.

Mr. Baum will bring his first message at Evening Worship Sunday night and will preach each evening throughout the week. He will preach also for Morning Worship on May 2. In addition to these services at the church, he will be the speaker on Inspiration Time over Radio WIAM at 9:00

Question: What is centipede grass? Answer: It's a low creep lawn grass that does well on almost any kind of soil. Its scientific name is Eremochlea ophiuroides. It will grow well in the sun and does reasonably well in the shade. Its main claim is that it remains close to the ground and requires little mowing. The worst objection to it is that it browns over at the end of winter and remains so until spring growth starts. Seed of centipede grass are now becoming available. If you can get them seed them in April. However, the usual practice is to start centipede grass from roots planted in April and May.

Question: How can I keep crabgrass and cocklebur over of my corn? Answer: With 2, 4-D you can control crabgrass, cocklebur, morning glory pigweed, lambsquarters and ragweed. Use pre-emergence spray, spraying surface of soil five to seven days after planting or just before corn emerges. Use one and one-fourth pounds of 2,4-D per acre on sandy soils, one and one-half pounds on clay soils and two pounds on muck soils. Do not cultivate or disturb the soil until the corn is 14 inches tall or until weeds appear. Plant corn at least one inch deep. Avoid pre-emergence applications on extremely sandy soils. Injury to stand may occur if heavy rains follow the application before the corn comes up. Poor weed control is likely under dry conditions.
