Deutschland Failed To Make A Getaway

Collision at Entrance Of Outer Harbor Brought Submarine Back to Pier

(By United Press)
New London, Nov. 17.—An attempted dash to sea by the German submarine Deutschland, which arrived here on November 1st, ended today when the Deutschland rammed one of the escorting tugs and caused the death of the tug's captain and four members of her crew.
The Deutschland put back to port and is now again in dock here.
It is rumored that a mysterious motor boat attempted to ram the Deutschland and that the tug in the attempt to protect her convoy swung into the submarine's path.
Unusual activity at the Deutschland's pier last night indicated that the time of the vessel's departure was near at hand. At ten o'clock lights on the pier were darkened and guards kept would-be spectators moving. The too venturesome or over curious were kept away with squirts of water from a hose possible.
At midnight the steel net guarding the entrance to the Deutschland's pocket was lifted and at 1:30 the vessel left her pier and, conveyed by two tugs, slipped out of the harbor. By two o'clock she had almost reached the entrance of the outer harbor.

Of Interest To A. & M.

West Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 16.—The attention of all graduates and students of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts is called to the following notice:
"The examination of candidates for provisional appointment as second lieutenants in the army will begin on January 29, 1917. Applicants for authority to undergo this examination should forward their applications to The Adjutant General of the Army at as early a date as practicable and, in any event, not later than January 15, 1917, as applications after that date may be too late for proper consideration in connection with this examination."
A large number of vacancies now exist in the grade of second lieutenant in the line of the army. The pay of a second lieutenant is 1,700 yearly. Officers receive 10% on the yearly pay of the grade for each term of five years service, not to exceed 40% in all. Due to the increase of the Army, provided by the National Defense Act, promotion for officers entering at this time promises to be unusually rapid. Candidates must be between 21 and 27 years of age when appointed.
Graduates of the A. and M. College will be exempted from examination in certain subjects upon the proof of graduation. The educational requirements for entry into the Army as second lieutenant are given in General Orders No. 64, War Department 1915, copies of which, together with application blanks for admission to examination, may be had upon request to the War Department, Adjutant General's office, Washington, D. C., or President's office, A. and M. College, West Raleigh, N. C.

The Why and the Wherefore

There are thousands of families within reach of Elizabeth City, families which to a great extent depend upon Elizabeth City merchants for their household supplies, furniture, clothing and sundry articles. Many of these people know the merchants here, know from whom they are going to buy when they reach here. These we accord to any business as standing customers. But there is a large percent of the people who come to Elizabeth City who have no place picked out, have decided on no certain merchant for their custom. As a consequence these people wander aimlessly about dropping in here and there to do their shopping. They have no idea from whom they are going to buy, nor what they are going to buy. They may get what they want they may not.
Now, Mr. Merchant, do you have what these people want; do you have any article they want? Then tell them about it. The Advance circulates all thru the sections from which Elizabeth City draws her trade. An advertisement in this pa-

AMERICA FEEDS STRICKEN EUROPE

GREATEST REASON FOR IN-CREASE IN PRICES

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 17.—With 150 per cent increase in exports of meat since the outbreak of war and a constantly increasing proportion of her grain crops leaving the country, America is assuming a constant increasing burden in feeding the stricken nations of Europe.

This fact, in the wake of poor crops, is one of the foremost reasons for high prices, declare officials of the Department of Justice, who are probing the charges that the war in Europe is being used as a pretext by food supply men to further boost the soaring prices of all food stuffs.

WILLIAM BOETTCHER PRE-SIDING.

On November 15th, 1916, the First District of North Carolina, Order of the Eastern Star, held its first annual meeting in the Masonic Hall at Elizabeth City. The lodge room and spacious reception rooms were appropriately decorated by members of White Rose Chapter No. 44.

Mrs. Nolan Knight, of Asheville, was the guest of honor. Other guests were Miss Flanche Johnson, Past Grand Matron, Mrs. Mary E. Johnson, Miss Eva Johnson, of Greensboro, Miss Blanche Mills, Past Matron, and Miss Hazel Mills, Secretary, of Virginia Chapter, Norfolk, Va. The address of welcome, was given by Mrs. A. B. Houts, Past Matron of White Rose Chapter No. 44, to which Miss Blanche Johnson responded.

White Rose Chapter No. 44 then opened in special session and exemplified the ceremonies of the Order, explanations being made by the Grand Matron. In speaking of the work done by White Rose Chapter, the Grand Matron said she was greatly pleased with the high degree of efficiency exhibited and complimented the officers on their work.

Past Grand Matron, Miss Blanche Johnson, spoke of her recent visit to the Fifteenth Triennial assembly of the General Grand Chapter in Louisville Ky. Miss Johnson is a woman of charming personality and her review of this assembly was interesting in the extreme.

Two candidates were initiated at the afternoon session by White Rose Chapter.

The evening session was called to order by the District Deputy, Mrs. Boettcher, at 8:00 o'clock and after initiating the third candidate, the members were again entertained by Miss Johnson with a description of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home at Greensboro. Miss Johnson told of the splendid work these two great Orders are doing, stating that there are now thirty six old people being cared for in the Home.

The meeting was then thrown open for general discussion. Many questions were asked concerning the work, and the Grand Matron was kept busy answering them. Every one present agreed that the first annual meeting of the First District was a splendid success, and promised to do their full share toward doubling the attendance at the next session.

After the meeting adjourned the members and visitors were guests of White Rose Chapter No. 44 at an elaborate banquet served in the dining room of the Masonic Hall. The tables were arranged in the form of a large five pointed star and chrysanthemums were used in the decorations. The menu consisted of turkey, cranberry sauce, ham, pickles, celery, salad, ice cream, etc. Covers were laid for fifty. Mrs. Boettcher acted as toastmaster and there were numerous witty and entertaining responses.

RAULFS' BODY LAID TO REST

AFTER SIMPLE AND IMPRESSIVE
FUNERAL SERVICES AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

The body of Frank Raulfs, whose untimely end on Wednesday cast a pall of sadness and a sense of tragedy and loss over the city, was laid to rest at noon today in Hollywood cemetery after a simple but beautiful and impressive funeral service at the First Methodist church.

Rev. J. L. Cunningham, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. James B. Black of Cann Memorial church conducted the services, which were attended by a sorrowful band of relatives and friends who gathered to witness the last sad rites over the body of one who but a few days ago was in the blush of youth and in the vigor of perfect health.

The casket was borne into the church by the following members of the boy's Sunday school class: William Woodley, Richard Tatem, Raymond Midgett, Randolph Commander, Harold McDougall, and Allen Hayman. The other members of the class acted as honorary pall bearers and followed the casket carrying the floral offerings. There were: Neal Lister, Lester Winder, Dan Harris, Joe Ashen and Peleg Midgett.

Then came the immediate family—the bereaved mother, sisters and brothers.

Mrs. Wesley Foreman rendered softly "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" following which Mr. Black read from the ritual. A reading from Corinthians by Mr. Cunningham was followed by "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," sung by Mrs. L. L. Winder. After the invocation the choir sang, "Asleep in Jesus."

Though hardly eighteen years old Frank Raulfs was a member of the First Methodist church and a boy of unusually attractive personality. He was the son of the late Charles Raulfs, a well known tailor of this city.

ATTRACTIVE BARGAINS AT MITCHELL'S

This is not a year when you hear much of reduced prices but Mitchell's Department Store is advertising real bargains in this issue. Mr. Gilbert has made a recent purchase of two hundred ladies suits which he says he has bought way below their real value. He believes that the prices at which they are offered are startling bargains in this day of high prices and hard to get merchandise. Every reader of this paper should be sure to see Mitchell's advertisement.
