American Flag Waves From Its Sliding Door Whether Still or Moving

Angora, Asia Minor, July 11.—The only American representative in this far off country of Asia is a young Marylander, Charles Imbrie, of Baltimore. His duties include that of consul, trade commissioner, and counselor to thousands of non-Moslems who are not popular in Turkey at the moment, and who believe any American can perform miracle for them.

Mr. Imbrie had been living a hand-to-mouth existence in the poverty stricken city for more than a year, but when he married Miss Katherine Gillespie of New York, director of the Near East Relief—Orphanage, recently, he thought it would be well to go home hunting.

Angora, however, has what probably is the most acute housing shortage of any city in the world, hence the young couple decided to set up housekeeping in the only box car to let in town, and now the American flag waves from its sliding door.

Although a bit cramped for room, especially when company calls, the American home on wheels is the cleanest place in Angora. It stands on a railway siding and is always ready to be coupled to a train for one of Mr. Imbrie's trips of inspection to outlying parts of Turkey. During these journeys, Mrs. Imbrie carries on her house work as usual. In fact she finds certain advantage in being able to take her house with her in her travels with her husband, and says that she will miss it when she returns to western civilization.

EUROPE SHOULD NOT GIVE AMERICA ADVICE

Paris, July 11.—America knows its own business best, can judge for itself whether or not it will join the League of Nations, and this without any advice from European countries, Gabriel Hanotaux, former French minister of foreign affairs, said recently to The Associated Press.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the United States will eventually co-operate more closely in European affairs, but whether this takes shape in the form of joining the League is a matter for Americans to decide," Mr. Hanotaux continued. "America is well able to look after its own affairs and it is my impression that no blame can be directed against Washington from Europe because of failure of the American Senate to ratify the pact of the League of Nations."

"For the present it behooves us to try and settle our own muddled situation before attempting to give advice to America," Mr. Hanotaux concluded.

PERSPECTIVE OF THE GRAHAM MEMORIAL BUILDING

To be erected at the University of North Carolina as a Students' Activities building and social center for the student body. The building is to be located on the old University inn site, will face west towards the Battle-Vance-Pettigrew dormitories, with appropriate entrance towards Franklin street and the Alumni building, and is to cost $400,000, subscriptions for which are now being raised by students of the alumni. The plans for the building, which will be of the late Georgian style of architecture, brick with limestone trimmings, have been drawn by Messrs. Kendall, of McKim, Mead, and White, and Nash, of the T. C. Atwood organization. Construction of the central unit will be begun in 1923-24.
