WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1923.

It is not always the most guilty who is caught and those who suffer most at the breath of scandal are the innocent.

Normalcy has hit the price of wheat in the neck but the five cent loaf of bread seems still unable to stage a comeback.

France Versus England
As to the debate between Premier Baldwin of England and Premier Poincare of France, The Outlook offers the following illuminating comment:

It would be a great mistake to think that this is an issue between two individuals, two politicians. It is an issue between two national states of mind. Great Britain looks at the question as a business proposition. On one side are the debts, on the other side the credits. Total them up and strike a balance. If you follow France's course, your debts will be greater than your credits; if you follow Britain's advice, your credits will be greater than your debts.

In Britain's argument there is no room for the word or even the idea of justice.

This argument between France and Britain will continue until either France is forced to abandon her demand for justice by losing through mere fatigue her will to justice or until Britain learns that justice cannot be bartered for markets and that perhaps injustice does not pay.

We hope that France will stand firm until America—if not Britain—gains enough in courage and common sense to follow the only policy that will bring justice and that is a policy of informing Germany repeatedly, patiently, emphatically, that she must make restitution for what she did, and make it without whining about its cost.

How Does This Strike You?

Everybody admits that something ought to be done to put an end to reckless driving of automobiles and especially to prevent the operation of motor vehicles by men who are under the influence of liquor. But no remedy yet proposed in these parts seems to be very effectual.

The Advance wonders if the following paragraphs from a Times' report of a day's doings in the city court of Raleigh would give the powers that frame the laws in Elizabeth City a suggestion:

"In addition to the payment of a $50 fine for operating an automobile while under the influence of whiskey, W. S. Coley Tuesday lost his right to drive a motor vehicle in Raleigh when the judge in city court ordered his driver's license revoked. This was done by the city clerk.

"The new city ordinance requiring a driving license for every person who operates a car leaves it in the discretion of the judge of city court whether the license is to be revoked. Judge Harris and also Prosecutor Cliff Beckwith, who presides over court during the absence of the judge and assistant judge, has never failed to order a revocation in cases of the operation of an automobile by any one under the influence of whiskey.

"Ellis Williams, a negro, who cut a corner by careless and reckless driving, lost his right to drive for 30 days. He was fined $10 and costs."

COUNCIL CAN CREATE A CITY PLAN BODY

dustrial uses is made, the person or persons opening such street or proposing such new subdivision for residence, business, or industrial purposes shall submit a detailed plan with blueprints and other necessary data to such board. It shall be the duty of said board to carefully examine the plans for such subdivisions as regards their nature and purpose, the number, width, character and location of streets and alleys, and the size, material, and manner of laying of water mains and sewer lines; and transmit such application, with all data, to the governing body, with its recommendations in writing. The jurisdiction of such board concerning the regulation of subdivisions shall extend one mile beyond the corporate limits of such city or town. Said board shall have the right to make recommendations for the correction, widening, or relocating of any interior street to the governing body.

Section 6. Said board is authorized to make a study of the existing parks, and submit plans for development of same, to locate new parks and recommend to the governing body the acquisition of same, and submit plans for the development of existing playgrounds, and to locate and make recommendations for the acquisition and development of such new playgrounds.

Section 7. Such city planning board may make recommendations for the promotion of the economic and industrial prosperity and the enhancement of the health, comfort and convenience of the people of such cities and towns. It may study, and in its discretion recommend, ways and means which will tend to prevent or relieve congestion, either of population or traffic, to control the fire hazard, to preserve the natural and historic features of the city or town, and to beautify the same. Such board may also prepare and issue reports on the best method of financing and assessing the cost of public improvements. It may investigate, prepare surveys of, and make recommendations on any matter which will in its opinion make the community a better place to live in or a better place to work in. Plans may be made by such board for new streets, roads, boulevards, alleyways, viaducts, bridges, subways, parks, playgrounds, aviation fields, rail and water terminals, docks, wharves, canals, basins, tunnels, markets, waterfront improvements, public utilities, public buildings, and all other public improvements. Wherever any of the foregoing shall exist, then the city planning board may make recommendations as to their respective removal, re-location, widening, or extension, as occasion may suggest or necessity require.

Section 8. The governing body of every such city or town shall have the power at any time to request such planning board to give an opinion upon any matter pertaining to the duties of such planning board; but no such request, however, shall deprive said planning board of its right or relieve it of its duty to report at such time as it deems proper upon any matter referred to in the preceding sections of this act.

Section 9. The governing bodies of cities and towns are hereby authorized and empowered to make provision in their budgets for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

Section 10. Upon the submission to the governing body of maps and plans subdividing any city or town into districts or zones under the provisions of section four hereof, it shall be the duty of the governing body, before adopting said subdivision into districts or zones to give a public hearing, notice of same to be published twice a week for two weeks next preceding such hearing in a newspaper of general circulation published in such city or town, and in the event there is no such newspaper, then by posting a notice of such hearing before the door of the mayor's office and in three other public places for two weeks next preceding such hearing.

Section 11. All cities and towns are hereby authorized and empowered, in their discretion, in the exercise of their police powers, to pass and adopt all ordinances and resolutions, and to do all things necessary to carry out the recommendations of such city planning boards, under the provisions and powers of this act, where not contrary to law.

Section 12. The members of the first Baptist B. Y. P. U. enjoyed a pleasant hayride Monday evening, escaping the showers and eating their picnic supper in the trucks.

Engineers To Visit The Heart of Canada

Meeting To Be Held In Ontario And Quebec Beginning August Twentieth

New York, July 25.—Mining engineers from this and other countries will make their summer pilgrimage next month to the heart of Canada's mineral riches. The 125th meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, it is announced here, will be held August 29 to 31 in Ontario and Quebec.

With the co-operation of the ministers of mines of these two provinces and of the members of the Canadian and American Institutes of mining and metallurgical engineers, the vast mineral wealth of Canada will be placed on exhibition.

Petroleum and gas will be among the principal general subjects of the technical sessions, which are to be held in Montreal. The geology of Santa Elena oil fields, Ecuador, will be discussed by Joseph H. Sinclair of New York and Prof. Charles P. Berkey of Columbia University. Other papers will be presented by A. F. Meston of New York and Oliver U. Bradley of Muskogee, Okla.

"The average man of the street if asked what minerals of commercial value were found anywhere near New York," Secretary F. F. Sharpless of the Institute said, "would probably answer, 'coal and possibly some iron.'"

"It is scarcely realized by the average citizen that within 24 hours' ride from New York, just a short distance north of the Lakes, lie the deposits from which nearly all the nickel of the world comes from; then on a little further to the Northeast, the richest silver mines that the world has even known are still producing; and then again a little further to the Northwest we come to what promises to be one of the most interesting gold developments of the present century."

"The Hollinger mine is today probably the most important gold producing mine of the world. Near it are the highly profitable Dome and McIntyre mines. Then passing on to the east down into Quebec, there are the asbestos mines which are today furnishing the bulk of the asbestos being imported into this country."

"The Porcupine Gold District and the country lying to the east of it are attracting considerable attention at present and the American engineers whose duty it is to advise in respect to them will take this opportunity to familiarize themselves a little further with the districts that are daily referred to in the public press."

Section 10. Upon the submission to the governing body of maps and plans subdividing any city or town into districts or zones under the provisions of section four hereof, it shall be the duty of the governing body, before adopting said subdivision into districts or zones to give a public hearing, notice of same to be published twice a week for two weeks next preceding such hearing in a newspaper of general circulation published in such city or town, and in the event there is no such newspaper, then by posting a notice of such hearing before the door of the mayor's office and in three other public places for two weeks next preceding such hearing.
