WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1923.

This is what we'd call a bad day to have to go to jail.

Summer seems bent on showing us that she hasn't lost her punch.

Seems to be a rather late day in the baseball season to be changing a team leader.

We'd like to spend this week with the farm boys and girls at the Old Fairgrounds. Can't help envying them a little bit.

Reading matter in the advertising columns of The Advance is worth the subscription price of the paper to one who trades in Elizabeth City.

The Consolidated Press still leaves this newspaper in the dark as to the reason for the failure of the promised Washington dispatches by Robert T. Small to show up. Our readers, we are sure, are not nearly so keenly disappointed at our failure to receive this extra service as is The Advance.

With Hearts Atune

Mayor Goodwin's proclamation calling upon the places of business or of industry to cease operations during the hour from 12 to 1 o'clock Friday is timely and fitting.

The hour chosen for a memorial service also is a particularly suitable one, it seems to The Advance, not only because in various cities of the country the same hour is being set apart as a time in which to render a token of respect to the dead President, but also because it is the hour when downtown workers in large numbers will be passing the courthouse green and when it will be most convenient for them to stop by and take part in the services.

The Advance hopes that not only will those to whom it is convenient join in the service, but that all others who can possibly do so will make it a point to be present.

The Nation mourns the death of Warren G. Harding. It behooves every patriot to tune his heart to beat in unison with the heart-throbs of his country. So perhaps out of a Nation's sorrow may come a new and more complete conception of a Nation's obligation to mankind.

Your Support Needed

Scoutmaster Scattergood thinks Elizabeth City has about the finest boys in the world, and The Advance agrees with him about that and the other things he's telling you about Boy Scout work. Mr. Scattergood loves boys better than anything in the world. He could be sitting in the shade this hot weather and reading a book, but instead of that he's sweating like a regular fellow, braving the elements and the redbugs and mosquitoes, and constantly on the go doing things, not for Frank Scattergood, but for the "little fellers," your boy and mine, or if not literally your boy, some boy at your very door whom you ought to be interested in.

The Advance bespeaks for him in his work your cordial support. He needs the assurance of your sympathy and interest, perhaps, even more than the money for which he is asking.

DIRIGIBLE WINGS ITS WAY PAST HERE

Winging its way southward across Albemarle Sound the first dirigible airship ever observed from Elizabeth City was seen at an early hour Wednesday morning by the few who happened to be down on the waterfront shortly after sunrise and to cast their eyes eastward. The big ship, with the appearance of a drifting phantom, came into view from the Advance editor's sanctum when it came from behind the Robinson Building and perhaps five minutes later passed from view behind the trees of a point on the right bank of the Pasquotank. Not a sound of its engines reached the city on the quiet air of early morning and the big ship at its distance of perhaps twenty miles or more away seemed to float across the horizon as lazily as a summer cloud.

CIVIC OPERA HAS NEW 1923 STAR

Fernand Anseau, Leading French Tenor, Has Joined Chicago Company Which Opens November 8th.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Fernand Anseau, leading tenor in French opera, will make his American debut with the Chicago Civic Opera, which opens here November 8, according to the announcement made by the company. Arrangements are being made for the appearance of other brilliant guest artists, which will include Mme. Louise Homer. She will appear in a limited number of performances including "Samson and Delilah."

Other stars included in the regular personnel of the company for the coming season will be Mary Garden, Amelita Galli-Curci, Florence MacBeth, Mary McCormack, Cyrena Van Gordon, Georges Baklanoff, Tito Schipa, Edith Mason and Feodor Chaliapin, with Giorgio Polacco axian present as musical director. "Boris Godunoff" and "L'Africain," the latter by Meyerbeer, are announced as novelties in the 1923-24 season, because they never before have been given by the Civic Opera Company. The role of Boris is said by critics to be one of Chaliapin's greatest. Among the revivals announced is that of "Zaza," with Mary Garden in the title role. Miss Garden also will appear in the revival of Massenet's "Cleopatra."

Harry W. Beatty, technical directors, is spending the summer in Europe visiting the more famous opera houses of France, Germany and Italy in search of new ideas. He is said to be making a special study of proposed settings in Moussofsky's "Boris Godunoff," which has become popular with American audiences. The opening of the operate season November 8 is a departure from custom, as the season will open Thursday instead of the usual Monday and will run one and one-half weeks longer than the usual season of ten weeks. Announcement also was made that Adolph Bohm will be in charge of the ballet and that Miss Anna Ludmila would return as premiere danseuse.

Engagement Announced
When Miss Dorothy Gregory entertained at bridge Tuesday afternoon, the guests presumed that the occasion was entirely in honor of her sister, Mrs. C. E. Griffin of New Bern, who is her guest, and were surprised to find in each deck of cards hearts carrying the announcement of the engagement of Miss Gregory and Mr. George Allen Ives of New Bern, the wedding to take place in November. Colorful decorations of roses, lilies, and zinnias made a lovely setting for the party. When the salad course was served the nuts appeared in little white wedding bell cups, and the ice course was also served in wedding bells. The top score was won by Mrs. William Woodley, Jr., the consolation by Miss Virginia Kramer. The guests were Mesdames William Weatherly, Jr., T. S. McMullan, Jr., Wesley Woodley, William Woodley, Jr., W. L. Small, William Dawson, Ray Toxey, Misses Inez Smithwick, Christine Walker, Olive Wood, Maud Palmer, Lucille LeRoy, Mae Fearing, Lucelle Griffin, Elizabeth Etheridge, Ruth White, Evelyn Jones, Anna Whitehurst, and Virginia Kramer.

Mrs. Foreman Entertains
Mrs. Harold Foreman entertained at bridge Tuesday afternoon at her home on West Main street in honor of Miss Annie Terrell Ferebee of Norfolk. Summer flowers were the decorations used and there were two courses of delicious refreshments served. The prize for top score was won by Mrs. Thorburn Bennett and the guest prize was given Miss Ferebee. Mrs. Foreman's guest, besides the guest of honor were: Mesdames, Howard Kramer, Frank Kramer, Thorburn Bennett, Buxton White, William Adams of Four Oaks, J. B. Kittrell of Greenville, and Mrs. J. E. Hughes.

Surprise Party
A surprise party was given in honor of Miss Lillian Barber, the guest of Miss Camilla Hopkins at her home on Burgess street, from 8 to 10:30 Tuesday evening. After many enjoyable games were played refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Ethel McCoy, Lillian Barber, Lettie Bunch, Mary Trueblood, Maxine Shepherd, Evelyn Rodgers, Estelle Silverthorn, Shelton Lewis, Mary Francis Thompson, Helen Bright and Camilla Hopkins; Carl Perry, Bennie White, Edward Zimmerman of Maryland, Elliot Ward, Julian Ward, Claud Ward, Asher Scott, Billy Harris, Vernon Davis, Clinton Bunch, Ernest Williams and Kenneth Holloman.

Personals
Miss Gertrude Edmondson, member of the faculty of the Mary Baldwin Seminary at Staunton, Va., is visiting Miss Margaret Foreman on West Main street.
Mr. and Mrs. James P. Casey of Richmond have returned home, after being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Max L. Sanderlin on South Road Street.
Miss Jacqueline Winn of Norfolk is spending some time as the guest of Mrs. Howard Combs on Selden street.
Miss Inez Smithwick of La Grange and Miss Christine Walker of Roxboro are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Weatherly, Jr., on Riverside Drive.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Commander have returned from their wedding.

WHEN the main organs of elimination fail to throw off bodily wastes; these poisons are often thrown off through the mucous membranes. This gives rise to CATARRH of the respiratory or of the digestive tracts.

"Catarrh"

Chiropractic adjustments get rid of catarrh by restoring normal vitality to the eliminative organs so that wastes are properly thrown off and the mucous membranes return to a healthy condition. Whether your catarrh is located in the nasal passages, bronchial tubes, stomach or intestinal tract, it will respond to Chiropractic adjustments.
