Originators of the Paul System Community Tire Factories

You Build and Sell the Nationally Advertised Clover Leaf Tires

Tires known for extreme life and service. Car owners recognize their quality. Our national advertising continually creates the demand. You build and supply the tires to meet it. A market far in excess of possible production is right at your door. You control both the making and selling of every tire. In this way you make a double profit. You can meet or beat all competition. In fact you can sell retail at dealers' wholesale prices and make $10,000 the first year by manufacturing and selling an average of only one set of four tires daily, which is only one-tenth of the maximum capacity of each community plant.

Car Owners Will Prefer Locally Made Tires

They can see their tires made. They can drive to the factory and be sure of purchasing new stock with the full life of the rubber in every tire. They can have adjustments made fairly and easily. They can obtain their tires at wholesale prices. They will have a real pride in the success of this local industry. They will prefer to buy Clover Leaf Tires, factory made, factory sold and factory guaranteed by men they know.

What Is Your Location?
Paul Community Plants are to be established, one to a community, in towns of 2,000 or over, throughout the entire state. Each plant will have ample territory, predetermined, in which to market all of the tires it can produce. One plant will not be allowed to infringe upon the rights and privileges of another. Each will have the same opportunity to make sales and to make profits. Don't hesitate to get the details of this proposition and do it at once while the greatest opportunities are open, in regard to territory. Phone or wire us for an appointment.

Suggest Moving Franklin's Body

Washington, Sept. 25.—The movement for this Franklin tribute at the nation's Capital was launched last December by the Sons of the Revolution in the state of New York. The Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, the 1923 Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the V. F. W., and many other organizations, have likewise recommended that Franklin's birthday, January 17, be annually celebrated, though without any public holiday.

October is the 200th anniversary month of Franklin's epoch-making pilgrimage, as a runaway printer's apprentice of 17, from Boston to New York and Philadelphia.

Whereas, for his scientific achievements Benjamin Franklin is held in high regard by the entire civilized world, but by Americans Dr. Franklin is equally esteemed for his lofty patriotism; and

Whereas, Franklin is an international tie of strongest friendship with the French, who loved him, and with the British Isles, which showed university and other honors upon him; and

Whereas, most of the Veterans of Foreign Wars went to France in part to repay the debt of gratitude contracted by Dr. Franklin during the Revolutionary War; and

Whereas, honoring our great men is the best kind of Americanism and creating patriotism is a primary object of Veterans of Foreign Wars; and

Whereas, Franklin, born in Boston, January 17, 1706, ran away in 1723 to New York and Philadelphia, arriving in Pennsylvania "on a Sunday October morning," earlier that year having become a newspaper publisher; therefore be it

Resolved: The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States recommend that Franklin's birthday, January 17, be annually celebrated, though no public holiday is desirable. This organization endorses similar resolutions adopted by a convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and also by the 1923 Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution. This society agrees likewise with the Sons of the Revolution in the State of New York that "the Government of the United States should plan to dedicate in Washington a memorial to Benjamin Franklin, commensurate with his patriotic, scientific and literary achievements; if such a memorial is built should not Philadelphia unobscurely permit Franklin's ashes reverently to be borne to Washington and made the basis of this national shrine?"

Be it further resolved: Benjamin Franklin Post, V. F. W., is requested annually to celebrate Franklin's birthday, preferably at the Franklin Statue in Paris, other American societies and the French being invited to co-operate.
