Entertaining the Conference
As readers of this newspaper know, the next session of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Church will meet with the First Methodist Church of this city November 14 to November 19.

Four hundred ministers and delegates will be in attendance, and the committee on entertainment is now at work providing homes for these religious leaders of the State.

Even if the large number who must be entertained did not make it necessary to call on the people of the city outside the congregation of the First Methodist Church, people of other denominations, The Advance is sure, would be glad to share in the privilege of entertaining the visitors. This newspaper is confident, therefore, that the entertainment committee in its work will meet with the heartiest and most ready support.

It is the intention of the committee, The Advance understands, to have suitable cards distributed in all of the churches Sunday next, October 7, upon which each recipient of a card may signify the number of delegates that can be entertained in his home.

While the conference convenes Wednesday morning, November 14, the larger part of the delegates will arrive on the afternoon or night trains of Tuesday. In all probability the conference will close in time for the delegates to take the morning train south on Monday, November 19. A few will probably remain over until the afternoon train Monday.

The plan adopted by the Conference for its entertainment is the Harvard plan; the hosts to provide bed and breakfast and the Conference to provide dinner and supper. Experience has made certain modifications of the plan necessary, as, for instance, on Sunday, for various reasons, it is found necessary to ask the homes to provide all three meals. It is also customary to ask the homes to furnish supper on Tuesday, for those who arrive before that hour, and dinner on Monday for those who remain as long as that. On Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday the mid-day meal will be served at the church. To relieve the women of the church from undue strain and enable them to enjoy the sessions of the conference, it is usually customary to provide the evening meal elsewhere than in the homes in which the visitors are stopping. At Raleigh last year this was done in hotels and cafeterias. But in Elizabeth City there are no facilities for feeding in this way so large a number of people, and the committee on entertainment, therefore, is asking the hosts, where this can be done without too much hardship, to provide both breakfast and supper. However, if there are cases in which two meals can not be provided, the committee will be glad to place in these homes guests to be given bed and breakfast only.

The Advance has the foregoing facts from an authoritative source, and is giving them space in order that the various congregations of the city may know what to look for when the cards are passed out next Sunday. The coming of such a body of Christian people to Elizabeth City should mean much to this community. The blessing and benediction of their presence will be largely in proportion to the welcome given them and the spirit of the hospitality shown them. The Advance trusts that the committee may be able to assure them and that the welcome accorded them in every home may show them that it took no drive to secure homes for them, but that the opening of homes and hearts to their coming was in every case spontaneous and free.

Even those, if there be any such, to whom there is no appeal in the Master's "Inasmuch," should respond to the appeal of the committee for the sake of the good name of the Picture City on the Pasquotank.

Neither Politics Nor Geography

Says the News and Observer: Mitchell County is the biggest and most reliable Republican county in North Carolina, and has the greatest prejudice to the negro. Would Republicans ever show friendliness to the negro except to get his vote and help?

But Mitchell County's politics has nothing to do with Mitchell County's aversion to the negro.

Race prejudice is older even than the Democratic party. It exists wherever opposite races are brought into contact and the fresher the contact the more violent the prejudice. What occurred in Mitchell could have occurred in any other rural county in the United States in which negro population was negligible, under similar circumstances.

The Advance has welcomed the recent negro exodus from the South because this newspaper believed that the exodus might hasten realization of the fact that race prejudice is not a question of geography or politics.

Forging to the Front

The Advance, once eked out an existence on the lowest advertising lineage of any daily newspaper in the State, has now caught up with and passed in this respect many an older of the small town dailies. In fact we do not know that there is a single North Carolina town with a census population of less than 9,000 in which there is a local daily carrying more advertising than does The Advance.

By the end of the present circulation campaign, The Advance hopes that in circulation also this newspaper will take front rank among North Carolina dailies in towns of less than 10,000 inhabitants.

The writer of the advertisement for the State Fair, which appeared in Monday's issue of this newspaper, evidently forgot to mention the date.

HAS PROGRAM FOR EDUCATION WEEK

Bureau Officials Announce That November 18 to 24 Will be Observed for American Education.

Washington, Oct. 3.—American Education Week will be observed this year from November 18 to 24, and suggestions made by the Bureau of Education include the designating of certain days for the stressing of special topics connected with education. The American Legion, the National Education Association and other organizations have sponsored the movement, and co-operation with these societies should be the first step in a community program, bureau officials declare.

Plays, pageants, stories, writing of essays, speeches, poster and moving picture exhibitions, should play an important part in school and community programs, according to the bureau.

Sunday, November 18 is styled "For God and Country Day," and ministers in all pulpits are invited by the bureau to preach at least one sermon on education.

Monday is "American Constitution Day," set aside for stressing obedience to the law, man's struggles for liberty, the duties of citizenship and education and the ballot. "The Man Without a Country" is a good topic suggested for plays and essays.

Tuesday, "Patriotism Day," is allotted to discussing the duty of voting honor to the flag of the country, the duty to the foreign born, and American ideals.

Wednesday, "School and Teacher Day," is devoted to questions about local schools and teachers, the relation of education to civilization, and better training for rural teachers.

Thursday, "Illiteracy Day," is for devising ways and means for the eradication of illiteracy. Data showing the extent of illiteracy and its dangers to the nation and loss economically, are suggested as subjects of exhibits and essays.

Friday, "Community Day," is given over to consideration of equal opportunity in education for every boy and girl, the needs of the community as to public libraries and community center.

Saturday, "Physical Education Day," is a day for the study of the value of exercise, correct posture and health habits. A "Health Parade" of children is suggested by the bureau.

The value of having all members of the community participate in the activities of the week is important, the bureau believes. No matter how large or small the community may be. Music and addresses, with various activities, such as physical education work and playground projects, should be included to attract adults.

The bureau recently compiled for distribution a pamphlet regarding the programs suggested for the week, including data from which to work, and guides for teachers, school officials, town government officials and others interested in the celebration.

SHANGHAI LEADS IN CUSTOMS REVENUES

Shanghai, Oct. 3.—More than a third of China's customs revenues was derived from entries through the port of Shanghai, according to the annual trade report for 1922 just issued. The gross collection in the year was 21,923,000 taels.

Great Britain, including the British dependencies and Hongkong, still maintains a big lead in the gross value of Chinese trade, but the United States leads all individual countries, followed by Japan.

A report issued by the American consulate shows that declared exports from Shanghai to the United States in the half year ending June 30 last amounted to $29,507,211, an increase of more than eight million over the 1922 figure for the period.

CHICAGO IS SAFER FOR LITTLE BABIES

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Chicago is four times as safe for babies as it was seven years ago, according to a report of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago.

The death rate of one and thirty-nine one-hundredths of one percent for August among the babies cared for by the society in 1916 was reduced to thirty-five one-hundredths of one per cent among 6,515 babies and children cared for by the organization at its 27 stations this year, said the report.

Nurses and dietitians with the society made 8,735 visits this year giving advice to mothers in the poorer districts as to proper methods of preparing food, dressing, bathing and other details of infant and child care.

SHIPMAN REPORTS ON UNEMPLOYMENT

DO YOU FIND SHOPPING A PLEASURE
SOME folks do. They're the modern shoppers—the ones who know just what they want—how much to pay—exactly where they will find the right goods at the right prices.
They're the ones who realize the value—to them—of advertising. They make a practice of reading the advertisements in the newspapers. Sitting at ease in their homes, they formulate their shopping programs. They note the things that interest them particularly and plan to cut out waste motion, unnecessary steps and lost time.
Planned in this fashion, shopping loses its terrors. It no longer leaves you jazzy and jaded. It starts you off with a definite objective and brings you home with a feeling of something accomplished.
If you haven't been reading the advertisements, try out the method. It's a good one.
