

Presbyterian Social
On the agreeable night of October 2nd, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church gave the following parrot-toed and disagreeable people a lovely and grateful social at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Blades on East Main street.

Among those present were the unhappy Miss Pickard, the mischievous Miss Kiser, the tantalizing Miss Purvis, the glorious but cross-eyed, Mr. N. Howard Smith, the fresh Mr. and Mrs. Brent, the slew-footed Mrs. Hughes, the straight Mrs. Simpson, the decayed and puny Mr. and Mrs. Scattergood, the rheumatic Mr. and Mrs. Melick, the romantic Miss Mary Bright, the not-much and some-kind-a-sorry Mr. and Mrs. Haley, the crooked and fuzzy Mr. and Mrs. Barton, the cotteny Miss Edwards, the slick Miss Margaret Sheep, the beautiful Mrs. Morrisette, the greasy Miss Nell Pickard, the whole worm-eaten Blades family, the brilliant Anne Melick, the spongy and musical Mr. Cartwright, the flabbergasted Miss Willis, and the slimy Mr. Thompson. These were only part of the rabbit-eared and bald-headed guests, but were deserving of special mention.

All testified to having had a tall and lantern-jawed time and hope they will be able to attend many angelic and top-sided socials in the defunct future.

N. B.—The foregoing account of the social was the result of a clever game suggested by Mrs. Blades. With an outline of the story in hand she called upon the guests to supply the adjectives. This they did without knowing what sort of ultra fits and misfits would occur, and the result was so entertaining that Mrs. Blades was persuaded to allow it to be published just as it evolved at the party.

The guests were Mesdames T. S. McMullan, A. T. Haley, William Weatherly Jr., and William Dawson, Misses Mary Dixon Riddick, Dorothy Gregory, Virginia Flora, Mae Fearing, and Lucile Leroy.

HAD SUFFERED FOR TWO YEARS
Mrs. Smith Declares Stella Vitae Was Only Thing That Relieved Her

"When I began taking Stella Vitae my sufferings were almost more than I could bear," said Mrs. Norman Smith, living at Ridgewell, South Carolina.
"I suffered from a complication of troubles and really do not know what caused my misery. Headaches were awful and my back nearly killed me. I had a terrible pain in my right side for two years and an internal female trouble that was wearing me out.
"I tried everything I could get hold of but nothing did me any good. Finally I began taking Stella Vitae and at once felt it was reaching my trouble. I have taken only one bottle so far but it has done me worlds of good and the way I am now improving I firmly believe a few more bottles will make me sound and well."
Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief. advt

Better Bedrooms
In the widespread move for better homes, it is natural that increasing numbers of women should elect to start with their own room, the bedroom, in improving their home furnishings. For it is here that the feminine members of the family may be truly at ease, free of the social obligations of the living room. Here, often, they may exchange with their closest friends those intimate confidences so dear to a woman's heart.

Flowers Made By New Process
On Sale At H. C. Bright Co.

A striking novelty are the artificial flowers so deftly made and of such unusual texture that visitors stop at our store to look at them and admire them and feel inclined to declare that they are real. These flowers are the product of the A. W. Mass Company, New York. The material is wood pulp, fabricated by a new process and so sensitive that the hues alter with changing atmospheric conditions. Actual poppy centers are used in the simulation of these particular flowers; actual maiden's hair fern is processed so that it retains its beauty indefinitely. The H. C. Bright Company is the local distributor for these beautiful flowers. adv
