EXTRA PRIZES AROUSE NEW ENTHUSIASM

Nine Days Remain To Pile Up Votes

End of Extra Prize Period Also Marks End of Second Period in Vote Earning Power of Subscriptions Offering Double Incentive to Effort.

In view of several inquiries made over the telephone it seems advisable to emphasize the following facts in connection with the added prizes that The Advance has announced in connection with its "Everybody Wins" Auto and Prize Campaign.

The added prizes, consisting of three orders on the jewelry firm of Louis Sellig of Elizabeth City for $25.00, $15.00 and $10.00, respectively, will be awarded to the three contestants who from Wednesday, October 17, till 9 p. m. Saturday, October 27, turn in the three greatest amounts of new subscription money.

Winning one of these added prizes in no way interferes with a contestant's winning one of the regular awards, whether it be one of the two automobiles or a cash award, and all the votes earned naturally help contestants in winning the regular awards.

Contestants are also reminded that an extension, or "second payment," of a new subscription is considered new in so far as counting toward winning one of the added prizes, and also earns more votes for the big prizes to be awarded on November 3.

In fairness to the subscribers, contestants are urged to turn in all new subscriptions with as little delay as possible.

An Attractive Display

It should prove an inspiration to increased activity and energy, to glance in the windows of Louis Sellig's attractively arranged windows and see the many and varied beautiful articles that the winners of the added prizes will have to choose from. Whether the winners wish to pick something for "Him" or for "Her," for Dad or for Mother, or wish to celebrate the occasion by getting something for themselves, they will find that making up their minds as to just what to choose will be possibly harder than was the winning of the prize.

WAKE FOREST PRACTICES FOR WILD CATS SATURDAY

Wake Forest, Oct. 18.—Wake Forest football warriors are hard at work in preparation for the battle with Davidson in Charlotte on Saturday. Heartened by their two tidal wave wins in recent battles the Baptist boys are laboring hard under Coach Garrity for the Wild Cat battle, regarded as one of the most important on the schedule.

Garrity this week is exerting special efforts to develop a steadier defense and a snappier offense. In some of the moments of the past two games the Wake warriors have shown flashes of exceptional ability only to lax into mediocrity on the next play. To develop a consistency, Coach Garrity will keep his men on the field several hours each afternoon. Before the team entrains for Charlotte it will be given some new lessons in black board talk.

More than 50 passes were used in the last two games by the team and the dopology boys who claim to be on the inside predict that Coach Garrity will dig deeper into his bag of tricks for the Wild Cat contest. They expect that he may unlimber some big artillery held in reserve from experience at Princeton of the University of Missouri.

Services for the Non-Church Goers

Preachers of Many Denominations Take Part in King's Chapel Services

Boston, Oct. 18.—Preachers of many denominations from all parts of the country and from Canada and England will participate in a series of daily services in historic King's Chapel now under way and to continue until next May for the purpose of drawing non-church goers into some church, regardless of denomination.

College presidents and prominent writers also will be among the speakers. On one day of each week the service will be entirely musical.

The first King's Chapel was erected in 1686 and the present structure was built in 1749. It was the first Episcopal church in Boston and here the British officers worshipped while the city was besieged by the Continental army in the Revolution. In 1785 it became the first Unitarian church in the United States and has since been affiliated with that denomination. The present pastor is Rev. Harold E. B. Speight.

The Preaching Mission, as it is to be known, was opened by the ringing for the first time in years of the Paul Revere bell in the church tower and the playing of several chorales by 8 trombonists from the Boston Symphony Orchestra stationed in the balcony outside the tower. The first preachers were Dr. Alexander MacColl, minister of the Second Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, and Rev. Vivian T. Pomeroy, Congregationalist, of Bradford, England.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING PAYS UTILITY COMPANIES

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 18.—"There is no royal road in public utility advertising, but you will find the advertising columns of your home-town newspaper the direct avenue to the minds of your customers," said Arthur W. Hawks, Jr., manager, publication and advertising department, Consolidated Gas, Electric Light and Power Company, Baltimore, Maryland, in the course of an address delivered here today before the American Gas Association.

With reference to the experience of his company and the desirability of newspaper advertising in preference to other forms, Mr. Hawks stated that "it pays better to advertise in newspapers and costs less than any other way we know." Explaining why nearly all of the Baltimore company's advertising is done in newspaper columns, Mr. Hawks said that it was for the reason that the company had found its "advertising dollars go further and bring back more than any other place we put them."

"If you use this newspaper space to tell your customers the truth about your company," continued Mr. Hawks, "to tell them in a way that will make them understand what you are doing for them day by day, that you understand what you have to do, why you have to do it, and how to do it, you will accomplish two things—you will make your service more valuable to your customer and your customer more valuable to your company."

LLOYD GEORGE RESUMES TASK

After Day's Rest Seems to Regain Vigor and Makes Thrilling Address at Stockyard Amphitheater.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—His chief address in America made, David Lloyd George, British war premier, today resumed his itinerary. He went to Springfield, Illinois, to visit Lincoln's tomb and to deliver an address today.

His all day rest yesterday left little indication of illness when he spoke at the stockyards amphitheater last night. The building was crowded. Thousands stood in the rain outside.

In his address he declared that German reparations are the most serious factor in Europe's disturbances and that America might aid as peacemaker by participating in an expert inquiry as to what Germany is able to pay, as suggested by Secretary Hughes. The French method of collecting is a means to revolution instead of reparations, he asserted.

Circus Eliminates All Gaming Devices

A Few Members of Club; However, Indignant at Stand Taken by Advance

All wheels of fortune or drawing schemes were eliminated at Wednesday night's Shrine Club circus show and the various acts were the only attractions.

A good crowd attended and appeared to enjoy the performance. On the first night the noise of those playing the gaming devices practically prevented those occupying seats from hearing the musical part of the program.

Running the circus on the new basis is expected to put the local Shrine Club in the hole on the proposition of bringing the circus here. Some members of the club accept the situation philosophically, apparently taking the position that the venture was a bad bargain; but that there now is nothing to do but to see it through and take such loss as may ensue.

Others are indignant, blaming The Advance for the fact that the Shrine Club will lose, and taking the position that this newspaper's stand was entirely uncalled for.

"The Shrine members knew what they were getting," said E. F. Spencer to an Advance reporter Thursday morning. "Nobody went into the tent expecting to get their money's worth from the chance features. They went there to donate their money to a charitable cause. Chance devices were operated unhampered at the District Fair and all the money went out of town. In its criticism of the Shrine circus The Advance has made it necessary for us to go down in our pockets and pay for goods that we bought and proposed to sell for the benefit of charity."

"I wouldn't advertise in your paper again if my goods rotted on the shelf," said W. P. Duff, chiming in on the conversation. "And there are many more," he added.

However, only two advertisers have been heard from in this vein so far; though a prominent member of the Shrine Club did accost the editor of The Advance Thursday morning to know the name of the writer of the editorial and news item relative to the circus in yesterday's paper. The editor promptly assumed responsibility for the authorship of both editorial and news item.

There was also an anonymous communication that would not have been worth printing even had the writer cared to give his name.

It is planned to send to the meeting, representing Elizabeth City, a delegation consisting of a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, a committee from the Kiwanis Club, a committee from the Rotary Club and the members of the City Council.

Wake Forest Trains High School Coaches

Thirty Members of Education Club Are Taught by Coach Harry Garrity

Wake Forest, Oct. 18.—Instruction and practice in the science of high school coaching is to be furnished 30 members of the Education Club of Wake Forest College under arrangements completed with Coach Harry Garrity. Twenty of the 30 men who will receive the training will be graduated at Wake Forest this year and will be prepared to direct a complete program of athletics for the high schools. This is the first year that Wake Forest has had a course in high school coaching. It is in keeping with the program of service which the college wishes to render the state at large.

Dr. D. B. Bryan, head of the department of education, and Coach Garrity perfected details for the new course. The thirty members of the club will report on the football field two hours each week this fall and follow Coach Garrity in the fundamentals of the game. After they have had time to master some of the principles involved, the members will be placed in charge of various intermural squads and given actual practice in the art. One hour each week they will meet Coach Garrity for theory and black board discussion.

This system will be followed during the football season. A little later it will be applied to track. With the advent of basketball the study will turn to this sport. In the spring will come baseball.

Coach Garrity is well fitted for the work of instruction. The past summer he was teacher in the school of coaches at the summer session of the University of Missouri. He is a graduate of Princeton University. In 1920 he was the popular selection for All-American half back.

The thirty members of the Education Club are highly enthusiastic concerning the new course. Those who complete the course will be in position to earn considerably more money as teachers. Officers of the club are C. G. Berry of Burke county, president; C. B. Brooks, Robeson county, secretary; C. S. Shuford, of Buncombe county, treasurer.

CLERK SUPPLIES RULES FOR BLISS

Centerville, Mich., Oct. 18.—County Clerk John Niendorf of St. Joseph County believes that a county clerk's responsibility does not end with the issuance of marriage licenses. He has had printed a supply of cards containing his rules for a successful marriage, and each couple is given one.

One side of the card carries the county clerk's blessing: "May all your days be as happy as your wedding day."

On the reverse side appear ten "rules" to insure happy marriages. They include:

"Keep up the courtship. Go 50-50 on the money and 50-50 on the love. Make your home and don't live with relatives. Beware the boarder, and don't be a tightwad."
