As We Agonize

To get out in one day an eight page issue containing the news carried in yesterday's Advance and to put the first edition of this paper in the mails with news of the mistrial in the Jennings case at noon, it strikes us, is an achievement which we have the right to feel just a bit cheery about.

Nearly three thousand copies of this issue were printed, and yet every one of the three editions went to press on time and all the mail was out before The Advance shop closed Friday evening.

Time was when we would not have believed it possible that a newspaper with the equipment of The Advance could issue an eight page edition of 3,000 copies in one day, getting out a first edition of eight full pages by noon. Frankly, we don't believe there's another newspaper in the State that with The Advance equipment would attempt such a thing.

But give us a circulation of 3,000 and the business to justify it, and The Advance will guarantee to keep the pace on its present equipment until it can get the money to buy a faster press.

Really, it grieves us to the heart to think of what an attractive Armistice Day edition we could have made today's issue had business not shrunk on us to four page dimensions.

We look forward to the time when The Advance can print eight pages every day regardless—whether business keeps up the eight page pace every day of the week or not. We are hoping that the time is near at hand when business will so nearly reach a daily eight page level that we will be able to tide over a slight slump on one or two days in the week. But not even if our highest hopes for November and December business are realized will The Advance be able as early as next year to issue an eight page newspaper for two pages of advertising.

If we attempted to do that The Advance would go broke in just about 60 days. With our present circulation, an eight page newspaper means a bill of more than $60 a week for newsprint alone.

Congratulations

Elizabeth City's unlooked for success in the football game Friday from the strong Greenville team was a crowning achievement for the season.

To develop a team capable of winning such a victory with the limited opportunity for practice that Elizabeth City High has had this fall, in one season, is a mighty good showing for the team and a mighty good showing for Coach Dwight of the High School faculty.

The Advance offers congratulations all round.

A Beginning

Bear in mind that there will be no money in any form asked for at the Armistice Day program at the Alkrama Sunday afternoon. Armistice Day has passed too much unnoticed in this city and section for the last four years. Let's make this year a beginning in the way of real and proper celebration of a day which may come to mean more to the World than Thanksgiving.

ALKRAMA TODAY

10 and 25c—15 and 25c

NOV. 11, 1918

Five years since the Armistice was signed! A long time, yes. But we're still too close to the World War for any of us to "grasp" what really happened and how its connection with the future.

Under arms in the great war were 65 million men. Casualties totalled more than 37 millions. That tells only part of the story of horror. But it should be called daily to the attention of everyone.

Alas, memory is short. Humanity likes to forget the unpleasant side of life. That is why catastrophes like wars are repeated. One generation, trying to forget, fails to impress itself on the minds of the rising generation the frightfulness, sorrow and futility of the battlefield.

Celebrate Armistice Day by teaching your children to hate war and all that goes with it. Forget the "glory" which is the camouflage of the militarists.

Thirty-seven million casualties! Tell them that.

Thirty-seven million casualties! Tell it again.

Thirty-seven million casualties! Never stop telling.

GREAT BRITAIN TO KEEP MAKING EFFORT

(By The Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 10.—Although press reports from Washington regarding the prospect of a reparations inquiry conducted within the limited scope of the French proposal are by no means sanguine, British official circles in London do not consider that the time has yet arrived to abandon hopes of an allied conference including America.

In competent quarters it is asserted that Great Britain will continue to apply herself to the problem of reaching a basis on which a conference satisfactory to the United States can be held until every possible avenue is explored.

EXPLAINS HARVARD PLAN

 weary way homeward expecting to get a hot supper and an opportunity to rest in your home, he will be surprised to find you will be embarrassed if you have not made arrangements to bring such you have made your mind in this matter and agree to recall your agreement to furnish the supper, you had better notify Brother W. C. Sawyer, the chairman of the soliciting committee, that he may bring the matter promptly to the attention of those who furnish the supper tickets.

Something, perhaps, which has been said about the money side of the matter. Several facts stand out. First, the amount raised by the Conference will not furnish such dinners and suppers as Elizabeth City desires its guests to have if the matter is worked on a commercial basis. Second, that the ladies of the church have planned for these guests' dinners which will do credit to Elizabeth City hospitality. In the third place if they undertake to furnish supper to all or nearly all, they will have to modify the dinner menus. It is barely possible that the ladies' organization, by hard work, close buying and the special favors given them by the merchants, may come out with a little balance to their favor. Some are optimistic enough to hope so. Others who know what we preachers can do in the matter of disposing of good things when we get a chance at them, and what it will cost to offer us such a menu as is planned, see but little chance for any balance to be in the treasury. But if any balance remains it will be hardy-won by strenuous effort and wise management, and it will not go to enrich those who worked day and night to give our guests proper entertainment, but will go as a part of their contribution to an important church interest.

"After this plain and candid statement of the plan and the causes which have led to its adoption, if there are any who wish to recall their promise to furnish suppers, I am sure that if you will notify Brother W. C. Sawyer, steps will be taken to relieve you of the burden. If on the other hand any who confined their promise to bed and breakfast find that they can give them suppers too, without hardship, and will so notify Brother Sawyer, your further kindness will be appreciated and your aid will lessen the work on these serving 'Marthas,' and perhaps be an indirect contribution to a good cause, or at any rate help the ladies to give the guests really first class Elizabeth City dinners without the fear of bankrupting their organization as well as of wearing themselves out in this service of love.

"But if your card said that you would serve suppers, and you do not expect to do so, be sure to notify Brother Sawyer that he may see that provision is made to furnish your guests with proper supper tickets, or else a balance of supper tickets is made in favor of the guests at the next cards."

"While writing I wish to express to the members of Elizabeth City an appreciation for the wonderful way in which they have responded to this appeal. As I am daily informed, we have secured the homes for these guests, though there are more of them than ever before, with less effort than has any other of which I know, which has entertained the Conference in years.

"In the published list of homes and delegates in Friday's issue of The Advance, there were some omissions and some inevitable errors. These will be corrected so far as they are called to our attention in Monday's Advance."

"Respectfully,
 N. H. D. WILSON."

FOR CONSTIPATION

Black-Draught Recommended by an Arkansas Farmer Who Has Used It, When Needed, for 25 Years.

Hatfield, Ark.—Mr. G. W. Parsons, a well-known farmer on Route 1, this place, says: "I keep Black-Draught in my home all the time. It is the best all-around medicine I have ever found for the liver and for constipation. We began using it 25 or more years ago and have used it whenever needed since. I have never found any other medicine as good for constipation, and that was what I suffered with till I began using Black-Draught. Black-Draught corrected this condition, and now we use it for the liver and for indigestion—a tight and sluggish feeling after meals, for bad taste in the mouth and sour stomach.

"My wife uses it for headache and biliousness. It sets on our shelf and we don't let it get out. It has been a great help to us. I believe a great deal of sickness is caused by hurried eating and constipation, and Black-Draught, if taken right, will correct this condition."
