Bishop Denny Talks To Men Just Entering The Ministry

Tells Them That the Way Is Not Easy, for They Will be Misunderstood, They Will Not Make Money, and They Will Not be Forgiven If They Do Not Pay Debts

By T. A. SIKES.
The feature of the third day's session of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, meeting in First Church, this city, was the address of Bishop Collins Denny to the class of young men who were received into the full connection.
The class of four young men was received into full connection.
Many items of business were transacted by the Conference.
Five old ministers have been superannuated during this session of Conference, and it was ordered Friday morning that a special offering be made for the assistance of these brethren at the Methodist churches on Sunday morning.
Bishop Collins Denny was requested by a vote of Conference to explain the plan of union with the Methodist Episcopal Church at his convenience during the present session.

What Budget Means
Bishop Denny told the Conference that the budget system means that every interest of the church shares on a percentage basis. "The laymen should not force," said the Bishop, "the preachers to attend to the business matter of the church, but if they will not do it, then the preachers must do it."
Conference was called to order at 9 o'clock by Bishop Denny with Rev. J. L. Smith leading in the devotional exercises.

On motion of Rev. J. T. Gibbs Bishop Denny was directed to draw on the Board of Conference Trustees for $882.63, to be turned over to the Board of Finance to be used for the superannuated preachers.
The resolution of Rev. J. C. Wooten, which was on yesterday, referred to the Conference Board of Trustees relative to using funds in the hands of the trustees for an emergency relief for the superannuated preachers, was reported to the Conference today with the statement that the Board of Trustees could not legally use the funds which they held in trust for any other purpose than that which had been directed by the donors of the fund. The report was adopted by the Conference.

Pastor From South Carolina
Rev. F. A. Lupton was received as a transfer from the South Carolina Conference.
The class of the second year was called and John Cleveland Cummings, Lindsay Frazier, Kenneth St. Leon Cook, and Martin Reed Chambers made their reports. Their characters were passed and they were advanced to the class of the third year.
When the name of Rev. K. S. L. Cook was called, in making his report, stated that the pastor's salary was paid in full, but that some of the benevolent collections were not in full. It was ascertained that his people used the budget system. Bishop Denny addressed the Conference, stating that the salary of the presiding elders and preacher in charge stood on the same footing of all the other collections, and that there must be a division on the percentage basis.

One interesting feature of this session of Conference, is the fact that a detail of Boy Scouts serves the Conference in the capacity of pages. They stand ready to do the bidding of the Conference or any member of it at any time. This morning the bishop introduced the Boy Scouts, who were to serve today, and stated that he was always for the Scouts, that his son was the first Eagle Scout in the State of Virginia.

An Impressive Scene
At 9:30 Bishop Denny called the class of young men around the altar who were to be received into full connection, and delivered to them a very strong and helpful address. "There could hardly be a more solemn hour to you and to us," said the bishop, "than this."
"We sometimes think that we live in a great age in the history of the world, and that we know a great deal and achieve much, but I do not know of a generation which made a more complete failure than we have. It is a solemn hour to us when we look back and realize how little we have done."

"It is a solemn hour to you—you are standing in a most critical moment. You are not to be the same any more. The world will not understand you. When a political question is before the public, a merchant, banker, lawyer or anybody else except a preacher, may enter into the discussion of that question, but the world will not allow you to do so. If you enter that realm you will be misunderstood."
"Somehow or other the preacher is a man of one purpose, and of one work."

No Royal Road
"You cannot expect an easy course. If your idea is to make money, you had better stop right now. The world might excuse a preacher for running off with another man's wife, but it will not excuse him from not paying his debts. You are going to meet prejudices. If you are starting out believing that you are committing yourselves to mere man, you are mistaken. You are committing yourself to the Lord. Put

TWO PRESIDENTIAL BOOMS RESOUNDING

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, Nov. 16.—Two presidential booms resounding throughout the country today, with the formal announcement of Hiram Johnson of California that he is in the contest for nomination as Republican candidate, and the endorsement from Omaha, Nebraska, by William Gibbs McAdoo of the statement issued here by David Rockwell that supporters of the former Treasury secretary intend to nominate him in the Democratic National Convention and elect him to the Presidency.

your trust in Him though it may seem hard at times, the things you will be called upon to endure. It may not have been pleasant for Paul to be in jail at Philippi, but he was forced to endure it."

The bishop propounded the disciplinary questions to the class. The first one being "Have you faith in Christ?"

A Babel of Voices
"There are jarring voices today in the world," said Bishop Denny. "So many voices are calling you to doubt, and though there has been no rift in the doctrines of the Methodist Church, it seems that there is one on the horizon. We hope there will be no fight but if one comes we must meet it. When it comes it will cluster around the personality of Jesus Christ. We may as well close our doors unless we have a Christ who is the Son of God. My faith in Virgin Birth of Christ and the Miracle of the Resurrection is unshakable. If you brethren are not in accord with what we term Methodism, stop where you are. There is no place for you in the Methodist Church unless you are in accord with it. God has set a very high aim for us, a man with a low aim does not get very far. Let your faith be fixed in Jesus Christ as the Savior of the world, and allow nothing to shake that faith at any time."

Another question asked was "Are you groaning after perfection?" The bishop said that he believed in sanctification, but not the kind that some fanatics teach. "Some of these say that they cannot repeat the Lord's prayer because they have no trespasses to be forgiven. I need all the help of God and man to assist me in entering into a saved relationship with God. If men loved one another a great many of us would achieve to higher experiences and the results of our efforts would be more fruitful."

Dr. Rollins Introduced
Rev. Dr. E. E. Rollins, one of the general missionary secretaries of Nashville, Tennessee, was introduced to Conference and spoke in the interest of the great missionary enterprises of the Southern Methodist Church.

The Trinity College Alumnae Association of the North Carolina Conference will hold its annual meeting in the social hall of the First Methodist Church this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The ladies of the church have prepared an elegant supper for the association, and more than 300 men will sit down together to eat turkey, cranberry sauce and all accompaniments, listen to speeches, college songs, and music by the First Methodist Sunday school orchestra, directed by Mrs. J. W. Foreman. The bishop is to honor the occasion with his presence and is to address the association. Other speakers include Dr. W. P. Few, president of the college, Revs. H. M. North, H. E. Myers, W. A. Stanbury, Stonewall Anderson and Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy during the Wilson administration, and editor of the News and Observer.

Education Tonight
Friday night in First Methodist Church the Board of Education will hold its anniversary. The address will be delivered by Rev. Stonewall Anderson, D.D., of Nashville, Tennessee, secretary of the General Board of Education of the Southern Methodist Church. Rev. M. Bradshaw, D.D., chairman of the Conference Board, will be in charge of the exercises.

The special music for the services Friday evening, will be an anthem "No Shadows Yonder," by the vestal choir of the church. A sextet, "Dear Lord of Freedom," will be rendered by Mrs. J. W. Foreman, Mrs. Robert Peering, Messrs. W. C. Sawyer, J. W. Foreman, Harold Foreman and Harry Kramer.

Rev. M. T. Pyler presented and the secretary read the report of the joint commission on closer relations between the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant Churches. The report earnestly recommended that both churches unite in strengthening the cordial relations that has always existed between the two branches of Methodism. The commission is to be continued.

Rev. William James DuBois was elected a local deacon, and will be ordained with the class on Sunday morning.

The resolutions introduced on Thursday by Rev. A. J. Parker which called for an amount equal to one per cent of the preachers salaries be laid upon the church to supplement the amounts that the superannuated preachers receive, and which was referred to the board of finance, was again presented Friday and passed the Conference by a unanimous vote.

First Class Advanced
Bishop Denny called the question, "Who remain on trial?" and the names of H. L. Davis, F. B. Peele, A. E. Brown, R. J. Lough, E. W. Downum, G. C. Whitehurst, J. Vincent Knight and W. N. Vaughan were called and their characters passed and all except Mr. Vaughan were advanced to the class of the second year. Mr. Vaughan having failed to pass the required examination remains in the class of the first year. Rev. C. M. Pegram of this class has been transferred to the Virginia Conference.

Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, pastor of the local church, announced that Rev. W. P. Constable has been taken seriously sick and that he is in a local hospital. Bishop Denny led the Conference in an earnest prayer for the sick brother.

Lowly Jobs Worked to Increase Incomes

German Professional Men Doing Other Things on the Side to Keep Going

Leipzig, Nov. 16.—This is a time of by-professions in Germany. Doctors, lawyers, teachers, preachers, professors, scientists, dentists, government employes, and actors who still cling to their old callings are, for the most part, doing something else in their free time to piece out their incomes.

Stock brokerage and money-changing are popular sidelines for professional folk. All sorts of securities are in great demand among persons who wish to get rid of their marks as soon as possible, with the result that there is flourishing business for bond and securities agents, who conduct their business in a more or less secret way.

Everybody is dodging taxes, consequently there is a great desire among persons with funds to conceal their wealth.

Many professional men have also become agents for coal dealers. There are many restrictions on the sale of fuel. Consequently it is bootlegged, much as foreign money is.

Manual labor is much better paid than many professions, with the result that men of excellent education are accepting positions as janitors and street-cleaners. One Berlin lawyer who had a lucrative practice before the war is now running a dust-cart, and is much happier than many of his associates in the practice of law who are waiting in idleness for clients to visit them in unheated offices.

Waiters are hard-pressed in their work by students and unemployed men of excellent education who are willing to accept any sort of work which will supply them with nourishing food and a warm place to sleep.

Hotel prices have soared so high that most of the larger hotels have been emptied and their patrons have sought private lodgings to the great delight of women who have large apartments and are glad to get roomers who will pay higher prices than persons who get rooms assigned to them through the housing committees.

Wilson, marshal of the village who sought to arrest him for slightly wounding Timmy earlier in the day. He was fleeing through the woods before a posse could be formed to go after him.

The resolutions introduced on Thursday by Rev. A. J. Parker which called for an amount equal to one per cent of the preachers salaries be laid upon the church to supplement the amounts that the superannuated preachers receive, and which was referred to the board of finance, was again presented Friday and passed the Conference by a unanimous vote.

FRANCE DOES NOT PLEASE ENGLAND

Indications Multiplying, It is Said, in London, That Countries Are Coming to Parting of Ways.

(By The Associated Press.)
London, Nov. 16.—Indications are multiplying that England and France are approaching the parting of the ways on the question of how to deal with Germany.
France's threatened penalties against Germany, if Berlin does not recede from its position on extradition of the former crown prince and the re-establishment of full Allied military control in Germany, are declared in government quarters here to be wholly unacceptable to England.

Advices Girls Not To Try the Movies

The exquisitely beautiful Marion Mack, star of "Mary of the Movies," the story of an extra girl's rise to fame in pictures, playing at the Alkrama theatre tonight, advises the girl ambitious for a screen career to stay at home and advance in her own special field instead of yearning and pining and wishing for the wherewithal to take her to Hollywood.

Said Miss Mack: "If you are a stenographer and have ambitions for a screen career please, please forget them! No matter how pretty you are, no matter how talented your home folks and your friends think you are, do not take them too seriously. Stay where you are. If the girls in the small towns only knew of the heart-breaking struggle for existence of the extra girl she would be content with her home and her parents and her twenty-five per. No matter how beautiful you are, there is always the possibility that you won't photograph well. I have actually gone through every incident, every experience portrayed so graphically in "Mary of the Movies."

Wolpack to Play Maryland Saturday

Fifth Gridiron Engagement Between These Teams Expected to be Desirive Battle

Raleigh, Nov. 16.—When the Wolpack stacks up against "Curly" Byrd's crack Maryland University team here Saturday, it will be the fifth gridiron engagement between the two teams.

In the four games played State has won two. Maryland has taken one, and one battle resulted in a tie. The series to date is as follows:
1908—State 25, Maryland 0.
1917—State 19, Maryland 7.
1921—State 6, Maryland 6.
1922—State 6, Maryland 7.
1923—State 7, Maryland 7.

North Carolina State played Maryland first in football away back in 1908 when the latter institution was known as Maryland Agricultural College. The Tech team was coached that year by Mickey Whitehurst and it was captained by Fatio Stephens who played quarterback. The game was played in Raleigh and State won an easy 35 to 0 victory, but in those epic days of Tech gridiron history, winning football games was just about the easiest thing a Tech team did.

From 1908 until 1917 no games were played, but in that year State, under Harry Hartsell, played the Marylanders in Washington, D. C. Each team scored a touchdown but Dick Gurley broke a 7-7 deadlock by kicking a field goal from the 45-yard line, giving the local collegians a 10 to 7 victory.

Then the war came along and disrupted football schedules while turning the world topsy-turvy, and it was not until 1921 that the teams met again. The series was then established on a "home and home" basis, the games to alternate between Riddick Field and a place to be designated by the Maryland management, either College Park, Baltimore or Washington.

The 1921 game was played in Baltimore and resulted in a 6-6 tie. State scored a touchdown, but "Runt" Paucette failed to kick goal, the only one he missed in three seasons, and Maryland knotted the count with two field goals from the toe of "Untz" Brewer.

Maryland won its first victory of the series last Thanksgiving Day when the game was played at Riddick Field. Failure to add the extra point after touchdown again robbed State of a victory, and Bobby Long was the offender on this occasion, as his dropkick, following Tommy Park's touchdown, went wide of the mark. State scored in four rushes from the 15-yard line after Joe Ripple had recovered a punt which was a Maryland back fumble. Maryland earned its touchdown on a brilliant run of 60 yards by halfback Groves after he had intercepted a Tech forward pass.

The latter youngster is still with Maryland and he will be seen in action here Saturday. He has played great football this season and is rated as one of the best backs in the East. He scored both of his team's touchdowns against Yale.

Tech scouts who have followed Maryland closely report that the aggression is usually strong with a dazzling aerial attack that is spectacular in the extreme. The team that looked Carolina and Pennsylvania and scored two touchdowns against Yale, after marches of more than 80 yards, is certainly far above the average for this section. New Haven papers speak of it as "the strongest team to appear in the Yale Bowl in the last two years."

On the basis of past performance, of course, Maryland is favored to beat State, but the Paek has a habit of turning at bay in the face of the bitterest opposition and there are many who believe that the game will be closed than the "dope" seems to indicate.

The encounter will get under way promptly at 2:30.

CRIME CONTINUES ITS LATEST WAVE

Bandits Smash Plate Glass Window on Fifth Avenue in Day Time and Make Way With Furs.

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 16.—New York's latest crime wave continued today when bandits smashed a plate glass window in a fashionable Fifth Avenue shop of Hickson, Incorporated, and escaped in an automobile with $50,000 worth of furs.

This robbery, which followed the theft of a wagon load of silk from a livery stable, took place while four watchmen were in the store.
The thieves sent two ash cans crashing through the window and before the watchmen could reach the street to get a description of either the bandits or their car they escaped.

At the stable, John Gillen, night hostler, was beaten into unconsciousness, bound and gagged, by four armed men who escaped with a load of silk.

TWO STATES ARE AFTER SAME TOWN

Wisconsin and Michigan Both Desire Hurley, With Its Notorious Past and Its Valuable Minerals.

Ironwood, Michigan, Nov. 16.—On the arm of the attorney general of Michigan, the town of Hurley, Wisconsin, notorious in its past, has been ushered before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Born to notoriety in the days of the north country's "rum rebellion," Hurley, nevertheless, is desired by Michigan, with Wisconsin just as firm in fighting the attempt to remove the town from its jurisdiction.

Hurley is on the small strip of land that Michigan claims as its own, despite the fact that the land, situated in the Iron and Vilas counties, has been Wisconsin territory since 1836. Michigan's contention, as presented to the Supreme Court in a bill of complaint, is that the boundary line between Michigan and Wisconsin was established originally as "through the middle of the main channel of the Montreal river." Later it was discovered that the original surveys were incorrect; that the river branched. Michigan asserts that the correct boundary is in the west branch of the river; Wisconsin, the east branch.

The territorial acquisition that would result to Michigan, if this state's contentions are recognized by the high court, would be small, including besides the land of the two Wisconsin counties, several islands in the Menominee river and Washington Island in Green Bay. Valuable deposits of iron and coal, however, make the disputed terrain a tempting bone for the two commonwealths to wrangle over.

Michigan's bill of complaint to the supreme court charges that Wisconsin has refused to settle amicably the boundary dispute. Wisconsin is required to file an answer by January 7. The Michigan-Wisconsin dispute is of long standing. Michigan officials have explained the present court action is not as much directed to the extension of the territorial limits as it is to the settlement forever, one way or another, of the boundary argument.
