It happens every once in a while that women's fashions adapt some part of men's costume to their own use. That's what happened to the pleated shirt bosom as the sketches show. While it was part of a man's attire it hid shyly behind a vest. Now it shows its outline plainly.

CHURCHES MUST FACE PROBLEM

Attorney General Makes Report To Congress Declaring Litigation Over Violations On Increase

Cleveland, December 4 — Calling upon all the churches of America to answer the present National challenge, Dr. John McDowell, of New York, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions, outlined a program of five essential duties, in addressing the National Presbyterian conference here this afternoon. He said that the churches must enlarge their conception of the task, and must enlarge their program, their organization, their resources, and their spirit. He gave three successful baseball rules as adaptable for the church: play together, play to win, make sacrifice hits whenever necessary.

"The present National situation," said Dr. McDowell, "is a direct, definite and inescapable challenge to every institution in our land to enlarge and adjust itself to the new needs and new opportunities of these after-war days. Business, industry, education and Government are all earnestly endeavoring to meet this challenge by deepening their purpose, adjusting their program and enlarging their resources. "Rebellion must not be an exception. It must not evade or ignore this important challenge. To do so would be to lose the loss of great opportunity, but the loss of its soul. If rebellion is to answer this challenge, the Christian churches of America must take the direct and primary responsibility for the answer. No other organization will do so; the school will not; the public press will not; the state will not. The church is the body of Christ, and if his body fails him in the hour of unparalleled opportunity, an adequate answer will not be given."

FOREIGN SECTIONS ALSO FRONTIERS

Rev. Fred Eastman, Speaking At Cleveland Conferences, Urges Work Among Foreigners

Cleveland, December 4 — The American frontiers are not alone the shifting frontiers of the west, but exist also in the foreign sections of the great American cities, according to Rev. Fred Eastman, of New York, director of education for the Presbyterian Board of National Missions, in an address before the National Presbyterian Conference today.

"It has been less than 100 years," said Mr. Eastman, "since a school board in Ohio passed this resolution addressed to some young men: 'You are welcome to use the school house to debate all proper questions in. But such things as railroads and telegraphs are impossible and rank infidelity.' There is nothing in the world of God about them. If God had designed that his intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful speed of 15 miles an hour by steam, he would have foretold it by the mouth of his Holy prophets. It is a device of Satan to carry the souls of the faithful down to hell."

"The railroads and telegraphs came in spite of the fears of the saints of those days. And largely because the railroads and telegraphs have come America of today is altogether a different country."

"More than 39,000,000 of immigrants have poured into this country during the last century. The majority of them have colonized around great manufacturing centers of the east and middle west and are today moulding for better or for worse the social and spiritual life of this part of America."

"The task of Presbyterian national missionaries today is to go down out upon the social and spiritual frontiers of this Nation, the frontiers in the West and the frontiers in the city, immigrant and industrial sections of the East, and draw these millions of new Americans together in Christian fellowship."

Jugoslavia to Make Demands On Roumania, Says Newspaper

Bucharest, Dec. 4.—A lively sensation has been created in the Roumanian capital by the publication in Beigrade Tribune of an article outlining new territorial demands to be made on Roumania.

The Tribune, which is regarded as the personal organ of Premier Paschitch, points out that the war efforts of Jugoslavia have been inadequately rewarded in the distribution of territory as between Jugoslavia and Roumania.

It is pointed out in the article that Roumania must cede to Jugoslavia additional territory down to the Tchernia River.

Governmental circles here view this declaration with undisguised uneasiness.

BEGIN CONSTRUCTION ON BIG RIVER DAM

High Bridge, Ky., Dec. 4.—Construction has been commenced of the Dix River dam, near here, which when completed will surpass the Roosevelt dam in Arizona, according to engineers. It will be larger and will be capable of developing 30,000 horsepower as compared with 23,000 horsepower of the Roosevelt dam.

For the last 14 years engineers of international reputation have acclaimed the location an ideal place to build a high dam.

The project, when completed about February 1, 1925, will tower 270 feet between the rugged cliffs of Dix River gorge and will be the highest dam east of the Rocky Mountains, it is announced. The cost will be $7,000,000. More than 1,800,000 cubic yards of material will be used in its construction. It will be 700 feet thick at the base, tapering to 24 feet, and 780 feet wide at the top. Its backwater will form a lake 38 miles long, storing approximately 8,000,000,000 cubic feet of water.

Scientific calculations were made for 12 years by prominent engineers from many parts of the world who checked and rechecked calculations and estimates and at last approved the hydroelectric development project. Arthur P. Davis, an engineer of international reputation, who planned and built the Roosevelt dam, is associated with L. F. Harza, and other engineers in building the Dix dam.

SEEK CHESTNUT TREES TO RESIST LOCAL BLIGHT

Washington, Dec. 4.—To combat the chestnut blight which is now sweeping through the East and South Atlantic States and threatening to destroy entirely the American chestnut, forestry specialists of the Department of Agriculture are conducting experiments to find a species that will be a substitute for the American species and resist the blight.

One of the department's agricultural explorers is searching the Himalaya uplands for new species and varieties of chestnut for trying out in this country. Two small plantings of a Chinese chestnut have been made on the Natural Bridge National Forest in Virginia, and two plantings of an Indian chestnut have been made in the Florida National Forest.

An Indian chestnut from the mountains of Bengal is looked upon with favor, and a Japanese chestnut has been found to be a good blight resister, but yields a bitter tasting nut. The American chinquapin is being cross-bred to develop a blight resister. The experimental work will require some time before any definite results can be obtained.

The Greatest Historian Of Them All

HOMER wove history into his songs. The Pharaohs carved it in stone. Julius Caesar painstakingly penned it on papyrus.

Today, history is written and given to you simultaneously with its occurrence. Every day, the important events of the world are summed up fully and comprehensively in your newspaper. You are able to keep abreast of history in its making.

And not the least important phase of modern history lies in the realm of industrial progress. You find this chronicled in the advertisements.

Advertising is a priceless boon to those who use it properly. It keeps their information up-to-date on the great variety of things that make life what it is today. It tells them of the thousand and one things they need in order to live profitable, happy and useful lives.

The consistent advertiser pays money to tell you about his wares. He knows they are good—he backs them with his money because he is confident that they will satisfy. For only merchandise that is consistently good can be consistently advertised.
