Even a King!

Nearly everyone who goes hunting sends a picture back to his folks showing the "big kill." Here's one of King Gustav V of Sweden. The elk season just opened and His Majesty bagged a big one right off the reel, as the saying goes.

Cotton seems, like many of the rest of us, to be having its ups and downs.

Thirteen are the shopping days to Christmas, we declare And foolish is he who thinks they all will be fair.

Early signs favor Coolidge and McAdoo as the next nominees of the respective political parties of this country. So does The Advance, if you ask us.

It is good to hear that the County Highway Commission is planning something dependable in the way of road dragging for this winter and in the way of road widening next spring.

With a campaign on to build a new hotel at Hickory, the Hickory Record reports between 300 and 400 citizens as having subscribed to the project. Elizabeth City can get a new hotel when Elizabeth City folks are ready to dig down in their pockets for it.

A huge flag with 1,250 uniformed Boy Scouts, consisting of 50 complete companies, participating in the ceremonies of its unfurling, was a feature of the Armistic Day celebration at Detroit this year. The flag was 90 feet wide, 150 feet long, and 7 1/2 miles of thread were used in stitching together the 1,261 yards of red, white and blue material. Some flag, wasn't it, boys?

Water is being rehabilitated as one of the city's best business streets by the new buildings that are going up on it. Poindexter, it would seem, especially that section between Poindexter street bridge and Pennsylvania avenue, would be next in order for such rehabilitation. And both these streets, The Advance thinks, with all due respect to the city authorities, are in line for the first new paving that goes down in the business section.

Big Possibilities Here
The Advance is hoping that the latest scheme to widen the District Highway will amount to something eventually if not now.

But that is not the only reason why sentiment in this section should be solid for the bridge across the Chowan River between Chowan and Bertie counties at or near Eden House.

From Edenton to where the proposed road bridge would be built is hardly more than five miles. A glance at the map will show that a road from Edenton to Williamston, with a bridge across the Chowan River, would settle the question of getting across Albemarle Sound in reaching points to the southwest of that body of water.

What that would mean to Elizabeth City and to the entire Albemarle can hardly be over-estimated.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Buxton White has returned from Norfolk, where she saw Al Johnson in "Bambo."

William Broughton, who for some time has been living in New York, is in the city visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Broughton.

With Mrs. Thorpe
The woman's Wesley Bible Class of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. E. Thorpe on West Church street. The Parsonage Aid Society also met with the class and the meetings of the two were combined because the Aid Society had been postponed owing to the absence of the president, Mrs. Clay Foreman, from the city.

The class at this meeting elected the following officers for the coming year: Mrs. M. Leigh Sheep, teacher; Mrs. Minnie Brooks, assistant teacher; Mrs. Constant Fearing, president; Mrs. C. C. Pappendiek, vice president; Mrs. C. V. Harris, secretary; Mrs. L. W. Perry, assistant secretary; Mrs. R. H. Commander, treasurer.

Mrs. J. G. Fearing for the Aid Society read the report of expenditures for Conference entertainment, and there was a solo by Mrs. J. W. Foreman.

After the business session a delicious salad course was served by group twelve, the hostesses for the afternoon who were: Mesdames L. E. Thorpe, C. G. Markham, L. R. Foreman, C. C. Pappendiek and Mrs. M. C. Smith.

Mrs. Dulin Entertains

Mrs. S. N. Dulin entertained the officers of the S. S. department of the First Methodist Church at her home, in the Perry Apartments. The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme of pink and white being carried out. Pink and white carnations were used and pink baskets of candy were given as favors. After discussing Christmas plans and deciding on what to do, a delicious salad course was served. The ladies present were: Mesdames W. A. Peters, G. R. Barrow, Robert S. Fearing, Raymond Sheely, J. B. Leigh, Grover Falls, George Leathers, Miss Sallie Cobb and Miss Elizabeth Harrell.

NO LET UP SEEN IN CITY'S CRIME WAVE

New York, Dec. 5.—New York's crime wave shows no indication of a let up.

Two mysterious slayings, one bearing evidence of vengeance wrought by members of a black hand society and the other a tragedy of the bootlegging game, were among yesterday's crimes here.

Three holdups and a robbery of a truck load of liquor by highjackers were others.

PROPOSED MERGER HAS BEEN ABANDONED

New York, Dec. 5.—Confirmation of reports that the proposed merger of the Studobaker and Maxwell motor companies had been abandoned was furnished today by James P. Brady, director of the Maxwell Company, who declared that overtures for such union came from the Studobaker corporation.

USES PAINT FOR MOTION PICTURE SCENES

John P. McCarty, director of "Out of the Dust" which plays at the Alhambra today, believes that Rubens or a Rembrandt or a Whistler would, in his time, have looked upon the cinema as a method of expression and it been perfected in that way. He says that to visualize an event is to do it with the dumb fingers of the painters or sculptors' palette.

In the very first attempt to prove the theory of Mr. McCarty, selected scenes from the picture were photographed in a studio.

With a published book of Rembrandts by way of introduction, the story of "Out of the Dust" unfolds again after group of living Remington counterparts. No action is "held" for any instant, not a still pose is used throughout, yet the spectator who has ever seen the unforgettable Remingtons, will immediately recognize their living prototypes in "Out of the Dust." Such well-known subjects as "Caught in the Circle," "The Sentinel," "The Advance," "Christmas Carol," "The Night Attack," "Latest News," and others are preserved in all of their atmosphere. While it is impossible, of course, to reproduce the artist's original colorings, light effects are used which give the interpretation of a tinted print.

KATE GREENWAY STARTED THE STYLES

New York, December 5.—The fact that an English girl happened to live in a part of England where boys and girls still wore the clothes of the period of 1800 is responsible for the design of many of the present day Christmas cards, says E. M. Doyle in the Mentor for December.

When Mrs. Greenway, who was born in 1846, started her commercial designing she drew a series of designs for Christmas cards, dresses for children in the quaint, old-fashioned costumes she had seen when a child. To this day, her short waists, poke bonnets and long-trousered suits are copied on Christmas cards.

Your Question And Its Answer
QUESTION—"I am subject to spells of listlessness, poor appetite, nausea, dull headache over the temples, skin yellow, urine dark, and aching across the back. Do you think I have Kidney Trouble?"
ANSWER—Your symptoms point to spinal impingement of nerves supplying the liver and kidneys. The yellow skin and dark urine indicate bile pigment. Bile is normally found in the liver and intestinal tract, but due to impinged nerves, it is often dammed back into the liver and must find an outlet through other tissues. It then becomes a poison and produces a general condition of "sick all over." The kidneys will attempt to throw off this poison, but if the nerves supplying the kidneys are impinged, these organs of elimination cannot function properly. An examination of your spine will readily and positively tell the seat of your trouble. You should have a thorough Spinal Analysis.
