

Flirting With TNT

These eight women represent the "milder squad" of the New York City police department. It is their duty to arrest men who carry their flirtations to extreme points. And they are being very effective. They would not allow their names to be used in connection with these men.

WILL SEND THREE TO STUDENT CONVENTION

Wake Forest, December 20.—Wake Forest college will send three representatives to the Student Volunteer Convention to be held at Indianapolis, Indiana, on December 28. Some 5,000 students who are interested in religious or social service work will be in attendance from the schools and colleges of America. Addresses will be delivered by some of the greatest minds of the country, among them being John R. Mott of international reputation. Representing Wake Forest at the convention will be Coy Muckle, of Arkansas, head of the Wake Forest B. Y. P. U., C. H. Howard, of Wake Forest, and probably W. R. Cullom of the Department of Bible. The representatives will leave Wake Forest on December 26. A report of the convention will be made to the student body after the holidays.

STUDENTS GIVE CHRISTMAS DOLLS

Trinity College, Durham, December 20.—Twenty-two handsomely dressed Christmas dolls were presented to as many little girls from the mill district of East Durham by members of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority Tuesday afternoon. The little girls were entertained at a party in the sorority chapter room and were served all kinds of refreshments. A large Christmas tree was the center of attraction. The members of the sorority were present.

SUMS UP CHANCES COOLIDGE-McADOO

Wake Forest, December 20.—Coolidge for the Republicans and McAdoo for the Democrats are now leading the race for the presidential nomination for their respective parties and seem likely to realize their ambitions, was in substance the declaration of Dr. J. C. Pearson, head of the Department of Social Science, to a mass meeting of Wake Forest College students.

Dr. Pearson expressed the opinion that Coolidge's chance had been materially helped by the favor he had won with business interests in his congressional message. Office holders were listed as another powerful factor in his favor. The silence of the man was given as a third argument which favors Coolidge. This is so different from the usual politician, said Dr. Pearson.

Hiram Johnson was named as the strongest opponent of Coolidge for the Republican nomination. The strength of this "stormy petrel" stated Dr. Pearson, is down from his opposition to American participation in European affairs in any form.

In the Democratic party McAdoo was said to have the edge over opponents as he is generally favored by labor. Further it was stated that the Wilson following would prefer McAdoo. Underwood was named as runner-up to McAdoo. The fact that there has not been a president from the South in some time was given as his best drawing card.

"But the conventions will not confine themselves to naming the best man for the nomination, but the man who can draw the most votes and draw them from the sections of the country where they count most, from the pivot states," was the statement.

Dr. Pearson began his talk to the students by classing politics as the great American game. "Men inherit their politics as they inherit family heirlooms. You are not a Republican or a Democrat because you are certain that the principles on which the party is based are best, but because your father was a Democrat or a Republican, stated the professor

DID NOT SPONSOR THE PUNCH BOARD

State Councilor of Junior Order Writes to Warn All Juniors That Indorsement Is Fake.

J. W. Alexander, recording secretary of Worth Hargett Council has received the following letter from State Councilor J. M. Sharp of Davidson and the Juniors and the punch board is being notified.

Dear Sir and Brothers: As secretary of your council I am writing to ask that you immediately call your council together and read to them this letter.

There is being put on in the State of North Carolina a punch board proposition claiming to be indorsed by me as State councilor and with the said punch board is being circulated what purports to be a letter from me to the Juniors and citizens of North Carolina asking them to donate through this punch board to the Orphans' Home Building Fund. I wish to say that I never saw this letter and have not indorsed this punch board scheme and that the same was not submitted to me before it was sent out. Immediately after I saw it I repudiated it through the public press and in speeches throughout the State and I want to say to you now that the proposition is unlawful and is not indorsed by the Junior Order of North Carolina as the Junior Order is a law abiding organization. Only $2.00 out of the $19.65 represented by each punch board goes to the building fund and the remainder goes to the Schwartz-Barzume Company of New York. The proposition was put on without the consent of the national board of officers or the State board of officers and I appeal to each and every Junior and their friends to have nothing whatever to do with it and to let the people know that we did not indorse the scheme and I desire that each council should condemn it and to advise the public through their local press to have nothing whatever to do with it.

With best wishes for a happy Christmas, I am
Fraternally yours,
J. M. SHARP,
State councilor.

TRINITY STUDENTS OFF FOR HOLIDAYS

Trinity College, Durham, December 20.—Trinity College closed down for the Christmas recess at one p. m. on Wednesday, December 19, and College work will be resumed on Thursday morning at 8:30, January 3, 1924. The College calendar called for the suspension of College work on Thursday, December 20, but owing to the fact Benefactors' Day was postponed this fall the executive committee of the faculty decided to add one extra day to the Christmas holidays.

At a banquet recently held in the Trinity Cafeteria in honor of the Trinity Cross-Country Runners Leonard T. Heffner, of Maiden, was elected captain of the 1924 team. Ten members of the team and Coach Sam Burbage were present. Medals were awarded to those runners who won places in the recent cross-country meet held at State College. These prizes were awarded to the following men in the order in which they finished: Bolch, captain of the 1923 team, Mabry, Heffner, Hatcher, Clegg, and Withrow. The last two were tied for their place and were each awarded a duplicate prize.

At a called meeting of the local chapter of Sigma Upsilon, National Literary Fraternity, last night the following men were admitted into membership: Prof. H. Goodfellow of the Department of English; Julian P. Boyd, Charlotte, '23; and Robert James, Wilmington, '24. After the initiation ceremonies, an informal banquet was served.
