

Old Fashioned Preaching Revives Old Time Religion

Berea Having Unusual Services With Two Brothers, One a Federal Judge, and the Other a Baptist Pastor, Doing the Preaching

Old fashioned preaching of the old gospel is producing a genuine revival of old time religion at Berea Baptist Church, four and a half miles from Elizabeth City on the Newland brick road where two brothers, Johnnie Warren and Quint Davis, the one a Federal judge and the other a North Carolina pastor, are doing the preaching.

A half past two o'clock service of a September afternoon would ordinarily not be very largely attended and still less at such a service would one expect to see many of a high degree of membership, but the chance passer-by who will drop in at Berea on almost any afternoon this week will not only find the church auditorium crowded to its doors and overflowing into the Sunday school annex but also in all probability will witness before the end of the service the manifestation of a time of religious feeling so after this the cheeks of men whose eyes have not been seen wet in years.

The preachers have an unusual advantage. They are Berea boys who have gone out and made a name for themselves in the world in which the old home community takes an abounding pride. The older and middle-aged members of the congregation they know by their first names, and they know also the names of their fathers and mothers who, for the most part no longer go in and out before the congregation but have answered the summons that marks the end of earthly life. Speaking then, from the text "And it is appointed unto men once to die, and after this the judgment," Judge Davis on Wednesday afternoon with tremendous effect on his congregation named over the heads of families that in his boyhood lived all the way from Knobbs Creek to Berea and asked where these men are today. He cited champions in strength at the old log rolling of his boyhood days, and asked where these were now. Then out of his wealth of experience as prosecuting officer and judge, he told of the vast change in men from the time when they first became law-breakers until the time when they are called to judgment.

"How they would have scoffed and scorned the suggestion when they first turned a deaf ear to warning and their feet sought forbidden paths," he said, "had they been told that they would ever become the poor trembling wretches who went to their doom with their knees like water and the cry of despair in their throats, too weak to walk alone into the execution chamber or even to utter the inarticulate wail that fluttered against every breath. So there are those of you heeding lightly my warnings of judgment who when that great day comes will cry for the rocks and the mountains to hide you from the presence of Him that sitteth upon the judgment seat."

Services continue at Berea for the remainder of this week, taking place daily in the morning at 11 o'clock, in the afternoon at 2:30 and at 7:30 at night.

ROUTE OF FLIERS HAS BEEN CHANGED

A. retired, speaking at the members of the Raleigh Business and Professional Women's Club that it was up to the women of the state to put the bill over. ## SHOE TREND UPWARD

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—(Special)—Shoes have sold well for this month and slippers have been actively bought for late fall delivery to supply the holiday demand. Higher prices for hides has laid the foundation for an upward movement in leathers and shoes. Canvas tennis shoes of 1925 have been cut 10 to 15 per cent in price.

Where Prince Is Going to "Rough It"

This is where the Prince of Wales will spend the greater part of his vacation. It is the house on his ranch in Alberta, Canada. There he will do little but "rough it." Maybe he will be able to throw some of the camera men off his trail up there.

David Jones, Colored, Al- leged Slayer of Sam Small, Farmer, Taken Away for Safe Keeping.

Edenton, Sept. 11.—(Special)—What was to have been the most sensational case of this week's term of Superior Court, that against the negro, David Jones, for the murder of Sam Small, Chowan County farmer, was continued late yesterday until the December term of Superior Court.

Meantime Jones has been taken to another county for safe keeping. This week's term of Superior Court adjourned this morning, the jurors having all been discharged late yesterday, when it was decided that the Small murder case would be continued.

Leon Twiford, charged with burglary and an assault upon a female, was found guilty on the latter charge and given two years on the roads of Hatteras County. This case was a quip-ony. Mrs. Minnie Smith, diminutive woman about 30 years old, the mother of two small children, whose husband recently left her, testified that she went to bed shortly after dark leaving the light burning, and that she was awakened in darkness by some one's touching her foot. Striking a match, she got a light just in time to see Twiford, standing on the back door. The next day, she says, she saw Twiford and, recognizing him as the man she had seen going out the door, asked him what he was doing in her house at night.

"Well, I didn't hurt you, did I?" she quotes Twiford as saying.

Clinton (Mike) Bond, found guilty earlier in the week of second degree murder in connection with the killing of James Bond, also colored, on the steamer Guild, was sentenced Wednesday to a maximum of seven and a minimum of five years in the State's prison.

When German Sees Dollar It's Devil Take The Mark

Big German Freighter Loses Its Entire Crew When Ger- man Cabin Boy Quits Job and American Substitute Is Brought in at American Wages

By L. C. OWEN
(Copyright, 1924, By The Advertiser)

Oakland, Calif., Sept. 11.—The German mark still is a sadly depreciated thing, despite the good work of Charles G. Dawes and others to make it otherwise. An American cabin boy's wages on a big German freighter just now tied up at this port has upset, at least locally, all the stabilizing effects of the new tariff agreements.

The steamer Lewis Hemsoth, from Bremen, pulled into Oakland three days ago with a full and contented complement of German seamen, a Teuton cabin boy and a happy skipper. Today the Hemsoth is sans Teuton cabin boy, German crew, and before the time for her to depart, she may be sans skipper. The latter is considering whether he will tender his resignation by cable as a matter of pride—for it is not in keeping with dignity for the master of a 90,000 ton freighter to receive less pay than a cabin boy.

When the German vessel plied its way through the Golden Gate, her Bremen crew, Teuton cabin boy and skipper all were contented because they knew little or nothing about the fabulous wages paid American workers.

Twenty-four hours later, the Teuton boy took French leave. Before departing, he announced that he was going somewhere into the interior to take an American job; that he could earn more American dollars in one day than his cabin boy job netted him in three months.

Ships must have cabin boys, the Hemsoth's skipper, unable to find a German boy, hired an American. But under the American shipping laws, a cabin boy hired in any American port must be

JOINT MEETING NOW PROPOSED NEXT WEEK

It is probable that the joint meeting of the County Commissioners with the Pasquotank Highway Commission will be held early next week. Noah Burfoot, chairman of the County Commissioners said Thursday morning he has received another communication from the highway body requesting him to call a meeting on Saturday of this week. Saturday does not suit the convenience of some of the commissioners however, according to Mr. Burfoot, and the meeting will be called next week.

This meeting is for the purpose of discussing appropriations for highway work for the coming year. The County Commissioners have failed to comply with the request of the highway body for $45,000 and asked for an itemized statement. The two boards failed to agree on a proposed joint meeting last week and the matter pending for two months is still open.

MRS. H. S. MILLER DEAD

Mrs. H. S. Miller died at her home, 618 Hunter street, Thursday morning at 2 o'clock, having never regained consciousness since suffering a stroke of paralysis at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning which resulted in apoplexy of the brain. Mrs. Miller was 72 years old and is survived by her husband and by six sons, Frazier Miller, Zeb Miller of this city, Fred Miller, Erskine Miller and Alton Miller of New York City, and Edgar Miller of Hatteras, by one brother, Moran, Jennette of Manteo, and a number of grandchildren. ## UNCLE JOE'S BUGGY GOES WAY OF ONE HOSS SHAY

Sixteen instead of "a hundred years to a day" the buggy belonging to "Uncle Joe" Respass went to pieces at noon Thursday almost as "fall-at-once and nothing first" as did the famous one hoss shay of the deacon.

Every spoke in the rear wheel on the right side was smashed out, the singletree was split open and one shaft was broken.

Uncle Joe lives on the Pool farm in Nixonton township. He came to town with his horse and buggy and tied his horse near the home of Marshall Pool, 202 East Church street, where he was cutting wood. The hitherto docile creature suddenly and without apparent reason decided to break into print or at least out of the harness and made a mad rush through South Pool and East Church streets, breaking loose from the buggy and running into the curbing next to the Perry Apartments.

"I ain't got nothin' to ride home in, nothin'—nothin'. I'll just have to walk," the old negro said when he turned with his runaway horse and looked at the buggy in front of the Perry Apartments. "I never had him to run away before and I always ties him hitched to the buggy."

Respass is a reliable, hard-working negro of the old Southern darky type.

BIG TABERNACLE FULLY COMPLETED

Completed down to the last detail even of the electric wiring, the big Ham-Ramsey tabernacle on Poplar street back of Parsons and, with the seats for an audience of more than 4,000 already installed, everything seems to be in readiness for the Ham-Ramsey revival to be held beginning, probably, some time in October.

Elizabeth City people who have not visited the tabernacle while it has been in course of construction will probably be given a pleasant surprise when they see the completeness of detail with which the structure has been built to meet its needs. Seats, with platform for choir, electric lights, and ample ventilation all are provided for and even the acoustics, one would think from the construction, have been taken care of.

Meantime the Ham-Ramsey meeting which began in Henderson about the same time that the construction of the tabernacle was begun—here has been gaining headway and reports indicate a daily growing interest. At Henderson crowds in attendance so far exceeded expectations that the tabernacle had to be enlarged before the end of the first week.

RAILROADS PLAN TRUCK DELIVERY

New York, Sept. 11.—Five hundred members of the Atlantic State shippers advisory board in conference today with railroad executives approved the adoption of the "store door delivery" plan under which the railroads will maintain fleets of trucks for transportation of merchandise from shippers' plants to carloading points. The plan will gradually be put into the operation on all large Atlantic seaboard lines.

WILL TEST RIGHT COMPEL WITNESSES

Chicago, Sept. 11.—A court test to interpret the law as to the right of the Railroad Labor Board to compel unwilling witnesses to testify under the transportation act is the next step, according to board officials, in the controversy over wages and rules between western railway managers and engine service brotherhood. Representatives of engineers and firemen again refused to appear today on subpoenas issued by the board.

SHILOH HIGH HAS FINE PROSPECTS

With Three Districts Con- solidated, Large Enroll- ment, and Capable Fac- ulty, Begins Session.

Shiloh, Sept. 11.—With three additional trucks and one additional teacher, the Shiloh High School has started this year's work for the best session in its history.

With the Riddle and Oak Ridge Districts now consolidated, with the Shiloh district the enrollment this year is 225 pupils with 46 in the High School. The progress of the school is realized when it is remembered that five years ago there were only 15 pupils in the Shiloh High School.

Five boys graduated from the school last year, four of whom are attending Wake Forest College, the other is a student at Kings Business College. Two girls graduated last year, one of whom is attending a Norfolk business college.

Paul W. Gay, graduate of Wake Forest College, and originally from Northampton County, is the principal this year. The assistant principal is Miss Lucille Adams of Norfolk. Miss Margaret Wilke of Chester, South Carolina, the sixth grade; Miss Susie Ferral of Shiloh, fifth grade; Miss Hazel Stafford of South Mills, fourth grade; Miss Margaret Etheridge of South Mills, second and third grades; Miss Beale Daugherty of Sampson County, first grade.

McCABE & GRICE LEAD IN ELEVATOR SERVICE

The only elevator for passengers in a retail store in Elizabeth City has been installed in the McCabe and Grice store. The framework of the elevator is complete and several passengers have been taken to the second floor, which will contain the ladies ready to wear department. The cab for the elevator will be installed in a short time.

When the second story of the Savings Bank building was occupied by a retail firm, this firm had elevator service; but since this firm closed out and the second floor of the Savings Bank building was cut up into offices, there has been no passenger elevator service in any store in the city.

Party lines will be swept until probably for the last time until the battles of November are past. And harmonizing step with step, Republicans, Democrats and Progressives will sweep a common sweep, if Old Sol is on the job, march a common course, and wield a common peacetime gun.

That war was no respecter of persons was shown by the camaraderie that sprang up in the battle over the sea. And that peacetime military demonstrations have the same propensities is revealed by the array of organizations writing to the Secretary of War and the committee behind the national defense test of September 12, to offer their support.

PLEDGE SUPPORT TO TEXTILE WORKERS

New York, Sept. 11.—President Gompers and Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor have sent telegrams to the United Textile Workers of America in convention here pledging support in the textile union's fight against any attempt to cut wages. The general executive board of the union has been given full power to frame such measures as will halt the movement to reduce wages.

The immediate objective of the Chekiang troops is Hing. A communication from Chekiang headquarters said that Kianghu troops were rushing up reinforcements.

EXONERATES JONES FOR SCHOOL TRUCK MISHAP

Not Busbee Jones of Elizabeth City, driver of the Ford sedan, which collided with the Shawboro school truck last Monday afternoon, but Titus Knight, 13 year old driver of the truck, was responsible for the accident, in the opinion of Baxter Bell of Shawboro, whose little son, Jack, was one of the two children suffering painful and severe injuries when the truck turned over.

Reports reaching The Advance immediately after the accident were to the effect that the driver of the sedan was to blame. The Advance published the earlier report without being able to ascertain what Mr. Jones of Elizabeth City was the sedan's driver.

Publication is given the foregoing in justice to Mr. Jones and also because many people in Elizabeth City were still uncertain Thursday as to who was the driver of the sedan. Reports as to the cause of such accidents are usually conflicting and even after a hearing in court it is not always possible to decide where the burden of responsibility belongs.

CAME ACROSS STATE BE CAUGHT IN PASQUOTANK

B. D. Hawkes, for failure to stop at a railroad crossing as required by State law, was taxed with the costs in recorder's court Thursday morning. The defendant claimed to have crossed the way from Raleigh to Elizabeth City without any observance of the law to be pulled only in Pasquotank.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Bankers and machinists will join hands with postoffice clerks. Letters pledging support of the movement are now being received at the rate of many thousands a day, and already some 300 organizations have sent representatives to Washington to confer about national plans.

Declaring Defense Test Day presents an appropriate occasion for every citizen to take inventory of his physical condition, Secretary of War Weeks has urged fathers and mothers to have the physical status of their children investigated, suggesting that medical men in each community as a patriotic service give friendly aid to their fellow citizens and set the day apart for examination purposes.

"The day would be most of all appropriate for an examination of the vitality of our people," said Secretary Weeks. "That vitality is fundamental to defense and to citizenship, and a successful public must consider that whatever strengthens its defensive ability strengthens its citizenship."

The officers and men of the Army are given a complete physical examination once each year. It is the belief of the secretary that each community should do what the War Department is doing for its personnel. Since the defense of the country is on a voluntary basis during peace time, he considers the citizens must undertake to raise their physical standards of their own volition.

"I therefore," said Secretary Weeks, "ask the citizenry to begin by discovering their individual defects on the day of Defense Test, and to correct them as soon as possible thereafter."

Coolidge Not To Denounce The Ku Klux Klan By Name

President Feels Has Had His Say and Attitude Clear of Issue Which, in His Opinion, After Campaign Will be Found to Have Been Exaggerated

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1924, By The Advertiser)

Before starting on his home made trip to ascertain political sentiment, Mr. Lawrence had a talk with President Coolidge at the White House on the issue of the Ku Klux Klan and will analyze the attitude of the other candidates as to whether there is to be any denunciation. Thursday's dispatch will deal with the Coolidge political policies.

GUARDS DOUBLED AROUND THE JAIL

Sheriff Warned It May Be Blown Up Before He Can Take Leopold and Loeb to Penitentiary.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Sheriff Peter Hoffman was brought speeding into Chicago last night at midnight by the receipt of an anonymous telephone call telling him that the jail in which Leopold and Loeb were lodged was to be blown up, he disclosed today.

Guards in the alley at the rear of the jail yard were doubled today. Five hundred persons gathered outside the entrance to the jail but police details kept them moving.

The sheriff expected to leave with Leopold and Loeb for the state prison between two and three o'clock this afternoon. He was only awaiting the commitment papers necessary for their proper delivery at the penal institution.

The youthful scions of old Chicago millionaire families were still the center today of extraordinary precautions. Especial precautions were taken to prevent a bomb being placed or hurled.

REFUSES TO ISSUE WARRANT FOR FIRPO

Newark, N. J., Sept. 11.—Federal Judge Runyan today refused to issue a warrant for the arrest of Louis Angel Firpo. Albert Fox of Norfolk is visiting his sister, Mrs. L. A. Golding on Martin street.
