Chowan Alumnae Organize
An organization meeting of the Elizabeth City Chapter of the Chowan Alumnae Association was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Modlin, 101 West Church street, Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Mary L. Britton, president; Mrs. Lina Gilbert Burgess, vice president; Miss Naomi Aydtlett, treasurer; and Miss Katharine Skinner, secretary. President Charles P. Weaver of Chowan College made a very interesting talk, emphasizing the $500,000-endowment fund for the college and the possibility of the Chowan College Club coming to Elizabeth City. W. A. McGlohon, treasurer of Chowan College, also made a talk in the interest of the college. It was decided that the meetings will be held monthly, and the next meeting will be Tuesday night at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. J. W. Modlin. After the business meeting light refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Modlin and Mrs. L. Skinner. Those present were: Miss Naomi Aydtlett, Miss Katharine Skinner, Miss Mae Morrison, Mesdames Cleveland Jackson, Lina Gilbert Burgess, H. C. Skinner, Robert Lamb, E. E. Ehrler, Lillian Phelps, C. D. Hill, I. M. Meekins, Mary L. Britton and M. M. Hurdle.

Celebrates Birthday
Manns Harbor, Jan. 10.—A delightful birthday party was given Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Mann in honor of Mr. Mann's sixtieth birthday. Miss Gladys Cox played the piano and songs were sung by Miss Clara Cox, Mrs. C. H. Alcott and Miss Lola Faye Mann. After music and games had been enjoyed the guests were invited in the dining room. The cake, with its 60 lighted candles, formed the center piece on the table. Cake and hot chocolate were served.

Class Elects Officers
The Woman's Wesley Bible Class of the First Methodist Sunday School held its first meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon in the class rooms. The principal business before the class was the appointing of committees for the different departments and the election of officers as follows: Mrs. M. Leitch Sheep, teacher; Mrs. L. R. Foreman, assistant teacher; Mrs. C. C. Papendiek, president; Mrs. Della Chandler, vice president; Mrs. C. H. Twiddy, secretary; Mrs. John Griffin, assistant secretary; Mrs. Clyde Armstrong, treasurer; Mrs. C. V. Harris, reporter. A solo by Mrs. Leah Burfoot was one of the enjoyable features of the afternoon and at the close of the business session a social hour was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served by the newly installed officers.

Treasure Hunting Latest Fad Atlanta's Smart Set

But Though Bag of Gold Containing High as Fifty Dollars Has Been Found by Successful Contestant Real Winners Seem to be the Police

Atlanta, Jan. 10.—Society here has gone stark mad on treasure hunting; a fad imported from London.
In the last several weeks, a dozen hunts have been held, bags of gold ranging up to $50 have been found; the police have made cases against the best known members of the younger set for smashing the speed laws, and one or two automobiles have been wrecked.

For instance, in the days of the old South, was a mild sport compared with this modern pastime of racing an automobile at 50 miles an hour through the streets in search of clues leading up to a hidden bag of gold.
The biggest hunt of the season so far was held Monday night when one hundred people gathered at Dan Conklin's home on Peachtree street. They were divided into couples, a boy and a girl, each equipped with an automobile—the speedier the better. The first clue led to Piedmont Circle, the second to the attic of a house on Fourteenth street, another to a grave on Peachtree Road, another to Piedmont Lake, and, finally, back to the Conklin house, where Harriet Skiddon and Jack Sharp found a bag of gold pieces amounting to $50.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey MacDonald started the treasure hunting fad here, but they little realized what they were stirring up. Bridge and dancing have been forgotten. Clubs are distributed in various places, and the hunters, riding in automobiles driven at top speed rush through downtown streets or residence sections, searching for signs that lead to the bag of gold.
Many of the clues are written in verse. At the hunt given by Miss Will Hawkins, the first clue read:
"Under a rock, in a dry swimming pool,
At a club with a cigarette name,
You'll find Clue Number 2, which will aid me and you
In winning the gold hunter's game."
The club was the Piedmont

Driving Club. Another clue directed the hunter to:

"A lovely home, a shade of brown
Whom Milton loved, a baker found.
For a Spanish Don the street was

The home was built by a cake

The home was on Poore de Leon Avenue and is the residence of F. O. Stone of the Stone Baking Company.
But the police declare they are the real winners in this new game. The traffic fines that are being assessed against the speeding hunters beat any hidden bag of gold for money value.

Prince Sets Fashions In Dogs As Well As Raiment

Most Swagger Canine Companion for a Fashionable Woman Nowadays is an Alsatian Wolf Hound Like Ajax, the Prince's Own Handsome Pup

London, Jan. 10.—Fashions have changed in dogs. The most fashionable women today is an Alsatian wolf hound, like Ajax, the magnificent silver gray specimen recently purchased by the Prince of Wales.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Among the new woollen materials the more prominent manufacturers are turning out for spring costumes are heavy navy or black serges ornamented with widely spaced stripes in the brightest of colors. Some, instead of stripes, have large plaids with enormous checks or small plaids alternating with large spaces of plain cloth.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Almost all the day time and evening gowns designed by one great Paris man couturier are accompanied today by cloaks specially adapted to complete the ensemble. The straight line of the frocks is enhanced by a little fullness obtained with plaits and flares.

New York, Jan. 10.—Earth, sky and sea are called upon to provide names for the colorings of the winter resort frocks but when all is said and done, the frocks selected with best taste usually employ white and some simple variation of the ordinary colors. The pastel shades are especially popular.

New York, Jan. 10.—A real cheap skate is not possible if one wears one of the new bright colored suede leather skating suits, but their comfort and attractiveness amply compensate for what they cost. They are supple as silk and as richly colored, yet are warm and wind-proof.
