Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. T. P. Bennett and Mrs. J. Howard Kramer delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Wednesdays morning at 10:30 in honor of Mrs. Marion C. Love and Mrs. J. W. Seale. A delicious sandwich course was served followed with ice cream and cake. Besides the guest prizes, Mrs. Joe Pinner won the prize for high score. Besides the guests of honor present there were: Misses Ruth White, Nell Bentzel, guest of Mrs. John Tucker, Margaret McCabe, Nell Wood, Lucille Leroy and Elizabeth Kramer, Mesdames Audrey G. McCabe and guest Mrs. T. G. Walton of Great Bridge, Guirkin Cook, R. L. Kendrick, Buxton White, W. L. Small, Elwood Weatherly, W. H. Weatherly, Jr., Joe Pinner, W. J. Woodley, Jr., Curtis Baum, John Tucker, T. L. Barnes, Robert Heidendrieh, Ray Toxey, J. G. Fearring and Wesley Foreman.

Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. C. L. Ives, Mrs. Robert Griffin and Miss Lorena Kowitz entertained at a very pretty miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Kowitz on Thursday night in honor of Mrs. Jinnie Dozier, a recent bride. Mrs. Dozier was ushered into the living room where quite a number of friends were waiting to surprise her. Little Miss Virginia Lee Commander, dressed as a bride, and little Frederick Ziegler, Jr., dressed as a bridegroom, presented Mrs. Dozier with a lovely corsage of sweet peas. Two very interesting contests were enjoyed. Mrs. Louis Whitehead and Mrs. Charlie Jones being the winners. They also presented Mrs. Dozier with a prize. Miss Kowitz then presented the bride with a large box, and upon opening the box she found a key and the following letter: "There is a hidden treasure for you, you must find what the key is to get it." Mrs. Dozier immediately began searching, for something the key would fit, she finally found hid behind a bank of pine and ferns a large cedar chest which the key unlocked. The chest proved to be full of beautiful presents. After looking at the presents the guests were then invited into the dining room which was beautiful with its decorations, the color scheme being pink and white. A large cake formed the center piece of the table and in front of the bride's place was a miniature bride and bridegroom, standing under an arch of white, with a tiny white satin pillow to kneel on, with a miniature parson to make the bridal party complete. A delicious ice course was served. Each guest was given a lollypop dressed in pink. The color-scheme was also used in decorating the lower floor of the home. Those enjoying the shower were: Misses Lottie Lee Blanchard, Eliza Spencer, Bessie Davis, Annie White, Margaret Hancock, Maude Sanderlin, Mary Stevenson, Elizabeth Raulfs, Lorena Kowitz, Mrs. D. J. White, Mrs. Miles Scott, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. Louis Whitehead, Mrs. W. B. Winslow, Mrs. W. L. Sherlock, Mrs. Clyde Liskay, Mrs. Sam Overman, Mrs. R. C. Liskay, Mrs. Claude Ziegler, Mrs. Robert Griffin, Mrs. H. L. Commander, and Mrs. C. L. Ives.

Here From Northampton

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. White and little son, Leslie White, of Woodland were in town on business Wednesday. Mr. White says that "The farmers throughout this section are certainly fortunate. Their crop as a whole are much better than the average that I have seen in several counties. Corn is especially good here. Hertford County and Northampton County have better cotton and peanuts."
