The Jimtown Weekly

By Barrie Payne

Behold! The Face That Stopped A Thousand Clocks

Chris Looney, editor of The Postsum Flat Bugle, popped off with some more funny cracks after The Mercabe Convention. He says Ye Editor of this paper makes long speeches and he makes short ones. He's right. You can condense milk; you can't condense cream. Looney walks around wearing an empty hat. Every time he says something he hits the nail right on the side. He's so dumb he can't figure what time his watch stopped. And the poor yam has the face that only a mother could love—and he's an orphan.

And when it comes to honesty he's straight like a pretzel. His life is an open book that should have been kept closed. And Chris is so durned contrary he'd die of a stroke at the North Pole. And great sufferin' sassafras, what a four-flusher he is! Postsum Flat has got only one street and Chris persuaded 'em to name it "Sixty-Third Street."

One more remark and I'm through with Chris for the present. A good motto for his newspaper is, "Read 'Em And Sleep."

AND I DON'T MEAN I GUESS SO!

Miss Hazel Moneyheffer takes good care of her hands. She says she always kneads dough with her gloves on. The editor of this paper follows the same rule but carries it a bit further. I need dough with my shirt on; I need dough with my shirt on; and unless some of my readers pay up their subscriptions I'll need dough without a darn thing on, which is no fun when the weather gets cold. Please pay up your subscription!

Society and Personals

Claude Potes, who lived with his brother's family in order to save money, decided to go broke. Soak Sturston has completed plans for drilling an oil well and can now go ahead with a full head of steam or whatever his head is full of. Miss Prudence Pilkins' rich aunt in New York has gone to a beauty surgeon in Germany to have her knees lifted. Joe Elrod's barn burned last Tuesday, cause unknown. Maybe Joe didn't have enough barn to cover the insurance.

Mrs. Joe Moneyheffer is in a bad fix. She can't go to town till she gets a new hat and she can't get a new hat till she goes to town.

Smallpox is reported in Goose Ankle, caused by an agent who went through that section spreading pestilence and radio sets.

What A Great Man The Sheriff Ain't!

"Help! Help! There's a man under my bed!" Miss Prudence Pilkins was phoning frantically to Sheriff Pug Sullivan, in the middle of the night. "Well, lemme see now," said Pug. "I ain't dressed, and I ain't feelin' no good nohow. And I hate to come out in this night air. Lemme see—he's under your bed, you say? Well, so long as he stays under the bed he can't do you no harm. If he starts to come out you let me know." Having said which the Sheriff again hit the hay.

THAT'S THAT AND THEM'S THOSE

Parson Pilkins was spilling his favorite philosophy to Soak Sturston. "Happiness is not the result of external circumstances," said the Parson. "Happiness must come from within." "In other words," said Soak, "in other words, alcohol won't do you no good if you just rub it on your back."

HOWZISUN?

Permanent Grace is a pipe dream, says Granny Graves, who spent half her life living with her mother-in-law and the other half living with her daughter-in-law.

Maybe You Think If You Dodge

THE COMMERCIAL HOUSE PRESSING SHOP. And Your Suit Is Never Pressed And Your Pants Always Look Like YOU'RE ABOUT TO JUMP. People Will Get The Idea YOU'VE BEEN PRAYING! Don't Kid Yourself! They'll Just Think YOU'VE BEEN SHOOTING CRAPS!

MISS LOUISE HIX ANNOUNCES HER ENRAGEMENT

THE JIMTOWN WEEKLY wishes to apologize for an error last week which made the name of "Miss Louise Hix" appear as "Louise." A letter was accidentally dropped. And Mrs. Farley's party was a "pink tea," not a "pink tea" as stated. Also, we had the wires crossed when we said Miss Hazel Moneyheffer was "perfect from the top of her feet to the bottom of her head." Likewise in our story of the ho-talent play where we stated: "Curtain will be lowered for eight hours to denote lapse of five minutes."

JIMTOWN CITIZEN STARTLES WORLD

Tom Hunnicutt, former resident of Jimtown now living in New York, had a great honor conferred upon him by the people of the Big Town. A bronze statue was recently erected in Central Park which bears the following inscription:

In Honor Of THOMAS JEFFERSON HUNNICUTT Who, After Repeated Efforts Over A Period of 37 Years, And a Long Fight Against Overwhelming Odds, Finally Achieved The Great Ambition Of A Lifetime And Succeeded In Adjusting A Shower Bath To The Right Temperature.

Hollowell and Ruth Dawson spent the afternoon in Manteo Wednesday. Ben Dixon McNeil, Frank and George Kusler, Frank Page and Harry McMullan report a good catch on a fishing trip to Oregon Inlet Tuesday. Ben Dixon McNeil left Wednesday for Powells Point after spending some time at the LeRoy Cottage. Frank and George Kusler and Harry McMullan left Wednesday for Ocracoke after spending a few days at the LeRoy Cottage.

Miss Hettie Jones left Thursday for Norfolk and will return next week to continue her stay at the LeRoy Cottage. Frank Hughes of Edenton returned home Thursday after spending a few days at the LeRoy Cottage. John Hall left for Elizabeth City Thursday morning after spending the night at the LeRoy Cottage where he registered after coming from Manteo Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Mammie Barcliff, of Richmond, is visiting her niece Mrs. F. M. Gray, Jr., at the Grace Cottage.

The Woman Beautiful

Beauty in women is made possible by careful attention to details. The complexion, the hands, the dress and the hair all contribute to that state of perfection called beauty. Of these the correct hair dress is vital. We, who are skilled hair-dressers, know how to emphasize your particular beauty by making your hair attractive in the proper manner. ### SI BURBAN

Some day I'm goin' over Niagara Falls in a barrel. One more before I die I want to ride where traffic ain't congested.

The height of something or other is a woman an smokin' a cigarette an' nursin' a baby at the same time.

Fable. Once upon a time a man that could take it or let it alone, let it alone.

Dictionary is supposed to be simple and direct but you never saw one that called a spade a spade.
